NICE COMPLIMENT

Paid to Milton Gladden, Who Preached in Beaver Falls Last Sunday.

Milton Gladden, son of Rev. Gladden, of this city, occupied the pulpit of the Beaver Falls M. P. church last Sunday, and the New Brighton News

gave him the following neat compliment:

"Yesterday's effort was very creditable for a man so young and of so little experience. His theme was an exhortation to the church to awake to duty, and in dealing with his subject he showed the difference that exists between a live and dead church. Mr. Gladden said:

"When a church thinks less of its prayer meeting than of its social life, there is something radically wrong with it. The true test of the real living church is its spirituality, and when that is gone the church is dead."

SENT THEM BACK.

TEN CAR LOAD OF BRICK WOULD NOT DO.

Engineer and Inspector Refused to Allow Them to Be Used on the City Streets.

Ten car load of brick, amounting in all to over 90,000 brick, have been shipped back to the manufactures from this city.

The brick were consigned to Contractors James Rinehart and Thomas McLaughlin, but when the engineer and inspector viewed them they were condemned as unfit for use on the city streets and they refused to allow the contractors to use them in paving.

TRYING TO PURCHASE

A PIECE OF THE CROXALL LOT.

The Deal May Be Closed and a Very Handsome Building Erected.

The lot is 25x90, and the parties who desire to purchase are local people.

There is every indication that the deal will be made.

FROM LISBON.

There is Not an Abundance of Court Business at Present.

Lisbon, Aug. 14.—(Special.)—Joseph Hisey, of New Waterford, was adjudged to be insane this afternoon. The patient is apparently sane excepting that he has a mania for taking his own life.

He was brought to the county jail this morning.

The will of John Rees, of Center, was admitted to probate today and Henry E. Lindesmith was appointed executor, with $7,000 bond.

The sum of $24,035 was ordered distributed in court today among the heirs of the late George S. Nace, of Lisbon.

Henry Gamble and Helen J. Walter, of Elkrum township, were married today by Rev. George Fowler.

RAILROAD MAGNATE DIED THIS MORNING.

Special to News Review.

FIRE INSURANCE RATES TO GO UP

58 SIGNED THE AGREEMENT

A Committee Will Be Appointed to Prepare a Full Plan of Reform.

WILL AFFECT EVERY STATE

Insurance rates in this city will go up if the following from the North American, of Philadelphia, can be relied upon, and it is almost a sure thing that it is true:

"Insurance rates will be raised in almost every city in the United States within the next year. The leading companies of the country have decided to protect themselves against the losses to which they have been subjected within the last two years, and have agreed to appoint a committee to fix the rates and arrange all details for the increase.

"Just when the changes will be made and how much the rates will be advanced is not known. These points will be determined by the committee of 30, who shall be elected by the companies signing an agreement to abide by the arrangements they may make.

"For more than two years, few, if any, fire insurance companies in this country have made money. Heavy losses have been suffered, especially in Philadelphia and Pittsburg, but no direct movement has been made for a general advance in the rates until the first of the year.

"At a meeting of the National Board of Fire Underwriters it was suggested by President E. C. Irvin, of Philadelphia, that a committee be named to prepare a plan of reform and submit it to all companies.

"A committee of 27 men was named and their report was submitted at the June meeting. Several of its clauses met with so much opposition that it was decided there would not be sufficient support to justify putting the plan in operation.

"A new agreement was drawn up and presented at a meeting of the leading companies held at Long Branch. It provides that all fire insurance companies who sign it agree to appoint a committee of supervision, which shall consider the condition of business and the expense and the adjustment of the rate in all of the states.

"As soon as the committee secures a sufficient number of signatures to the agreement it will be empowered to put the new rates in operation. Fifty-eight of the leading companies were present at the meeting and all of them signed the agreement."

AN ACCIDENT

Occurred Yesterday Afternoon Which Came Near Resulting Seriously for Mrs. John Rinehart.

Yesterday afternoon while driving up Market street Mr. and Mrs. John Rinehart met with a mishap which might have resulted disastrously.

Mr. Rinehart had reached the corner of Market and Fifth streets as a street car left the Diamond, and when he attempted to force the horse to pass the car the animal refused to go and started to back into the curb on the opposite side of the street. In turning from the curb a front wheel was broken and Mrs. Rinehart was thrown from her seat in the carriage.

Meanwhile Mr. Rinehart had gathered up the fragments of the vehicle and they, together with the horse, were taken to the barn on Second street.

A PETITION

TO BE PRESENTED TO COUNCIL TONIGHT

Asking That the Height of Awnings be Placed at 7 Feet Instead of 8 Feet.

A petition is being circulated among the business men today asking that council place the height of awnings at 7 feet instead of 8 feet.

The petition is very generally signed and will be presented to council tonight.

The argument is advanced that by placing the awnings at 8 feet they would be of no use and 7 feet put them plenty high enough to let people pass under.

Council will probably grant the request of the petitioners.

REAL ESTATE.

A Number of Transfers That Have Been Recorded from This City.

Lisbon, Aug. 14.—The following transfers of realty have been filed for record here:

Mary H. Crawford to G. F. Lease, north part of lot 1499 in Thompson & McCormick's addition to East Liverpool, $150; Andrew S. Reed to George T. Winstanley, lot in East Liverpool adjoining lots in Simms' addition, $1,500; Oakland Land company to Mary C. Reed, lots 4,576 and 4,577 in grantor's addition to East Liverpool, $500; Wm. A. Rhodes to Joshua A. Poole, lot 1596 in Josiah Thompson's addition to East Liverpool, $1,600; James A. Allison to Ida A. Clark, east one-half lot 147 in East Liverpool, $1,400; estate of Edward McDevitt to Ida M. Moore, three lots in East Liverpool, $294; David Boyce to A. G. Chafin, lot 2300 in Boyce's addition to East Liverpool, $250; J. Harvey Martin to James B. Martin, 65 acres in East Liverpool, $1,000; James B. Martin to Maria S. Martin, part of lot 2008 in Simms' and Harvey's addition to East Liverpool, $1,500; Thomas P. Finley to John E. Smith, lot 1101, in Janesville, $1,000; Charles A. Smith to the American Clay Manufacturing company, lots 1869 and 1874 in Knowles' Taylor & Knowles' addition to East Liverpool, $1; I. B. McDevitt to Elizabeth H. Irwin, 34 acres in St. Clair township, $1,190.

Taken to His Home.

Edward Windram, who was overcome by the heat last Thursday, was last night taken to his home in Wells-ville.

He is improving slowly, and it will be some time before he is able to be around.

He Hit Hard.

George Carey was very much in the game at Cleveland yesterday and flew out to the outfield every time, with one exception, when he made a single.

GOVERNOR NASH IS WILLING

A Letter Has Been Received From I. B. Cameron Who Says the Governor

WILL MAKE A SHORT ADDRESS

From the Porch of the Residence of Col John N. Taylor, Sixth Street.

EVERYBODY SHOULD TURN OUT

The reception to be accorded Governor Nash in this city tomorrow evening should be a large one, and it is the duty of every Republican voter to turn out and accord Ohio's chief executive a hearty welcome to the city.

The governor has consented to make a short address from the porch of the residence of Colonel John N. Taylor, and he will no doubt be greeted by an immense crowd.

City Chairman George H. Owen this morning received the following letter from County Chairman I. B. Cameron:

"Columbus, O., Aug. 13, 1900. "George H. Owen, East Liverpool. "Dear Sir—I beg to acknowledge the receipt of your telegram of the 11th instant.

"In replying I would respectfully say that I have arranged with the governor to give a short address from the porch of Colonel Taylor's residence on the evening of the 15th instant.

"The governor will arrive in East Liverpool at 7:06 p. m., standard time, of said day.

"I expect to accompany the governor at his request.

"I. B. CAMERON, "Chairman."

FARMERS' PICNIC.

Township Line Picnic Promises to be an Unusually Interesting Affair.

The Township Line picnic Thursday will be an immense success.

Governor Nash will be present and make an address and I. B. Cameron will also speak, as will Hon. John C. Welty.

The address of welcome will be made by the president of the association, and the response will be delivered by Captain Harry Palmer.

GARDENDALE.

Items of Interest Gathered in That Portion of the City.

Mrs. Walmen is able to be up after a serious illness.

Miss Linnie Cohen is visiting her aunt, Mrs. O. A. Shingleton.

Mrs. Della Cohen and Miss Daisy Cunningham are calling on Grandma Cohen, of McKinnon's addition.

Mrs. Shingleton, who has been ill, is doing her work nicely.

The folks are all well at Gardendale except a few who have the komeikos.

He is Getting Better.

Verner Campbell, who was overcome by the heat about a week ago, and who has been very ill since that time, is able to be out today.

58 SIGNED THE AGREEMENT

A Committee Will Be Appointed to Prepare a Full Plan of Reform.

WILL AFFECT EVERY STATE

Insurance rates in this city will go up if the following from the North American, of Philadelphia, can be relied upon, and it is almost a sure thing that it is true:

"Insurance rates will be raised in almost every city in the United States within the next year. The leading companies of the country have decided to protect themselves against the losses to which they have been subjected within the last two years, and have agreed to appoint a committee to fix the rates and arrange all details for the increase.

"Just when the changes will be made and how much the rates will be advanced is not known. These points will be determined by the committee of 30, who shall be elected by the companies signing an agreement to abide by the arrangements they may make.

"For more than two years, few, if any, fire insurance companies in this country have made money. Heavy losses have been suffered, especially in Philadelphia and Pittsburg, but no direct movement has been made for a general advance in the rates until the first of the year.

"At a meeting of the National Board of Fire Underwriters it was suggested by President E. C. Irvin, of Philadelphia, that a committee be named to prepare a plan of reform and submit it to all companies.

"A committee of 27 men was named and their report was submitted at the June meeting. Several of its clauses met with so much opposition that it was decided there would not be sufficient support to justify putting the plan in operation.

"A new agreement was drawn up and presented at a meeting of the leading companies held at Long Branch. It provides that all fire insurance companies who sign it agree to appoint a committee of supervision, which shall consider the condition of business and the expense and the adjustment of the rate in all of the states.

"As soon as the committee secures a sufficient number of signatures to the agreement it will be empowered to put the new rates in operation. Fifty-eight of the leading companies were present at the meeting and all of them signed the agreement."

AN ACCIDENT

Yesterday afternoon while driving up Market street Mr. and Mrs. John Rinehart met with a mishap which might have resulted disastrously.

Mr. Rinehart had reached the corner of Market and Fifth streets as a street car left the Diamond, and when he attempted to force the horse to pass the car the animal refused to go and started to back into the curb on the opposite side of the street. In turning from the curb a front wheel was broken and Mrs. Rinehart was thrown from her seat in the carriage.

Meanwhile Mr. Rinehart had gathered up the fragments of the vehicle and they, together with the horse, were taken to the barn on Second street.

A PETITION

TO BE PRESENTED TO COUNCIL TONIGHT

Asking That the Height of Awnings be Placed at 7 Feet Instead of 8 Feet.

A petition is being circulated among the business men today asking that council place the height of awnings at 7 feet instead of 8 feet.

The petition is very generally signed and will be presented to council tonight.

The argument is advanced that by placing the awnings at 8 feet they would be of no use and 7 feet put them plenty high enough to let people pass under.

Council will probably grant the request of the petitioners.

REAL ESTATE.

A Number of Transfers That Have Been Recorded from This City.

GOVERNOR NASH IS WILLING

A Letter Has Been Received From I. B. Cameron Who Says the Governor

WILL MAKE A SHORT ADDRESS

From the Porch of the Residence of Col John N. Taylor, Sixth Street.

EVERYBODY SHOULD TURN OUT

The reception to be accorded Governor Nash in this city tomorrow evening should be a large one, and it is the duty of every Republican voter to turn out and accord Ohio's chief executive a hearty welcome to the city.

The governor has consented to make a short address from the porch of the residence of Colonel John N. Taylor, and he will no doubt be greeted by an immense crowd.

City Chairman George H. Owen this morning received the following letter from County Chairman I. B. Cameron:

"Columbus, O., Aug. 13, 1900.

"George H. Owen, East Liverpool.
"Dear Sir—I beg to acknowledge the receipt of your telegram of the 11th instant.

"In replying I would respectfully say that I have arranged with the governor to give a short address from the porch of Colonel Taylor's residence on the evening of the 15th instant.

"The governor will arrive in East Liverpool at 7:06 p. m., standard time, of said day.

"I expect to accompany the governor at his request.

"Very respectfully yours,
"I. B. CAMERON,
"Chairman."

FARMERS' PICNIC.

Township Line Picnic Promises to be an Unusually Interesting Affair.

The Township Line picnic Thursday will be an immense success.

Governor Nash will be present and make an address and I. B. Cameron will also speak, as will Hon. John C. Welty.

The address of welcome will be made by the president of the association, and the response will be delivered by Captain Harry Palmer.

GARDENDALE.

Items of Interest Gathered in That Portion of the City.

The Burford team defeated Knowles yesterday afternoon and broke all records by making 12 runs in the eighth inning, 10 of them being made with no one out.

The game was a fast one until the sixth inning and the score was 3 to 2 in favor of Knowles.

In the seventh Knowles made three more and they looked like easy winners; but in the eighth Burfords made 12 runs on four bases on balls, five errors and six hits. Seventeen men went to bat in this inning and Shell was the only member of the club who was not up twice.

Billy Stillwell made his initial appearance in the box for Burfords and struck out 10 of the heavy hitters of the Knowles team in the first five innings.

Winters was not far behind him and mowed down eight of the Burfords in six innings.

Daugherty's left field play was a feature.

They Are Not an Uncommon Feature at the Present Time in East Liverpool.

The merciful and kind and humane and God and humanity loving citizen feels sorry in his heart when he notes a drunken man staggering along our streets, or when he sees a poor victim of strong drink go whirling to the cooler in the Black Maria; and he feels, in his heart, that the wrong man is in the hands of the law, and that the drunkard maker, the distiller, brewer or saloon keeper, ought to be in that wagon of disgrace. He further feels that the law which sanctions the infamous traffic of the sale of intoxicants is a sin and a shame and a travesty upon justice, and that the nation which permits such infamy will reap a full harvest of woe and sorrow.

It is a very sad sight to note a drunken man whirled off to the lock-up. It is infinitely a sadder sight to see a drunken woman in such a predicament. An unfortunate woman was in this predicament last night. She had become a common nuisance on account of her actions, and it became necessary to arrest her. A young lady witnessed the affair and, unused to such sights, being a comparative stranger to our city, she rushed to the telephone and communicated the intelligence to a lady friend about as follows:

To this her friend made response in about this manner:

"Oh, you poor creature. You go to bed tonight as usual, curl up like a contented kitten and snooze peacefully and tranquilly. Your drunken woman is evidently a believer in woman's rights. She had a right to get tight and she has the same right as a man to go to the cooler and in the same neat and attractive conveyance. You have lived in the blessed truly rural districts all your life, amid purity and clean life, and have not got used to our city ways. When you reside in this city for a year or two, familiarity with such scenes will remove the wire edge of your sensitive nature, and you will find that the women have a legal right to secure booze, and a legal right to take the consequences of a jamboree, all the same as a little man. Go to sleep, dear, and don't puzzle your brain over the funny legislation enacted by the lords of creation."

THAT SHADE TREE.

Foreman Griffiths Tells His Story of the Cutting of Trees at River-view Cemetery.

"Editor News Review—I am foreman of construction of the line of the Columbiana County Telephone company being placed along the route of the Calcutta road. Superintendent Whitaker secured no promise from me respecting a special shade tree. Indeed, to be exact, I have held no conversation of any kind with Mr. Whitaker. I had the understanding from one of my workmen that Mr. Whitaker desired that limbs should be cut off nicely and lowered carefully to the ground, in order that the fence should not be injured. My workmen were cutting the tree in dispute, and were simply taking the limbs down which were directly in their way, intending to trim up nicely afterward, when I understand that Mr. Whitaker imperatively ordered the workmen to cease their work, which they did. We but obey our orders when engaged at this class of work; and our orders from the company are to be courteous to every one with whom we are brought in contact.

OHIO SPEAKERS' BUREAU.

Hon. Walter L. Weaver, of Springfield, Chosen to Take Charge Of It.

The official announcement of Hon. Walter L. Weaver, of Springfield, as chairman of the speakers' bureau in the Republican state committee, has been made.

Mr. Weaver is the present member of congress from the seventh district, having been twice elected but defeated a few months ago for a third nomination.

He is a member of the executive committee, and his appointment is in line with the policy of Chairman Dick to avail himself of the active service of such members of that body as can give their time to the campaign.

A Special Meeting.

The Camera club of the Y. M. C. A. will hold a special meeting tonight and elect officers.

WHY IT SUCCEEDS.

Because It's for One Thing Only and East Liverpool is Learning This.

Here is East Liverpool evidence to prove it.

Mr. C. McLean, of 187 Church alley, who is employed in the East Liverpool Pottery Co., says: "I had muscular rheumatism for three years in my back and kidneys. It caused much pain and suffering, the last year being the worst. I had a steady aching pain in my kidneys; extreme weakness in the muscles of the back; could not rest at night except lying flat on my back, and there was urinary weakness accompanying it. Although I had many bad attacks and used many different medicines I never obtained any relief. The worst attack I ever had, and which completely used me up, occurred just before I used Doan's Kidney Pills. Not having much faith left in medicines I was rather skeptical when I was recommended to try them, but got so bad that I had to get something, so I went for a box to the W. & W. pharmacy. They went direct to the kidneys and acted on the very fountain head of all the trouble, relieving me in a very short time."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents per box. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name, Doan's and take no other.

Troops and Siege Guns Taken on Board the Indiana.

Washington, Aug. 14.—The war department has received the following:

"Nagasaki, Aug. 12.

"Adjutant General, Washington:

"Transport Sumner arrived this port on the 10th. No casualties occurred. Health of command excellent. Will proceed Taku on Indiana. BARRY.

The Sumner carried a battalion of the Fifteenth infantry. The Indiana also will take aboard siege guns and Maxim field guns which General Chaffee had requested and which General MacArthur sent from Manila. It will take about three days for the Indiana to reach Taku. The large force of surgeons, nurses, and hospital attendants on the ship also will be a welcome addition to the hospital force now on shore in China. General Barry is General MacArthur's chief of staff. He goes on the Indiana to Taku to inspect that port with a view to determining its availability as a Chinese base of supply.

Facing the Future.

There comes a time to most women when they must face the future of wifehood and motherhood. What that future has in store for them depends largely upon themselves. To a healthy woman

the obligations and consequences of marriage are a lasting happiness. To a woman suffering from irregularity or other ailments of the sex, marriage may prove a mockery and motherhood a misery. Where such irregularity exists Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription can be used with the assurance that health will speedily be restored. It is the most reliable medicine known to medical science for the cure of diseases which affect the delicate womanly organs.

"Favorite Prescription" is a non-alcoholic medicine and is also free from opium cocaine and other narcotics.

"At an early stage of married life," writes Mrs. Flora Arn, of Dallas, Jackson Co., Mo., "I was greatly bothered with painful periods, also a troublesome drain which rendered me very weak and unfit for work of any kind. I became so thin there was nothing left of me but skin and bone. My husband became alarmed and got me a bottle of 'Favorite Prescription.' After he saw the wonderful effects of that one he got me two more, and after I used those up there was no more pain, and I began to gain in flesh very rapidly. I owe all praise to Dr. Pierce and his wonderful curative medicines."

Here is East Liverpool evidence to prove it.

Mr. C. McLean, of 187 Church alley, who is employed in the East Liverpool Pottery Co., says: "I had muscular rheumatism for three years in my back and kidneys. It caused much pain and suffering, the last year being the worst. I had a steady aching pain in my kidneys; extreme weakness in the muscles of the back; could not rest at night except lying flat on my back, and there was urinary weakness accompanying it. Although I had many bad attacks and used many different medicines I never obtained any relief. The worst attack I ever had, and which completely used me up, occurred just before I used Doan's Kidney Pills. Not having much faith left in medicines I was rather skeptical when I was recommended to try them, but got so bad that I had to get something, so I went for a box to the W. & W. pharmacy. They went direct to the kidneys and acted on the very fountain head of all the trouble, relieving me in a very short time."

Troops and Siege Guns Taken on Board the Indiana.

Washington, Aug. 14.—The war department has received the following: "Nagasaki, Aug. 12. "Adjutant General, Washington: "Transport Sumner arrived this port on the 10th. No casualties occurred. Health of command excellent. Will proceed Taku on Indiana. BAKIY." The Sumner carried a battalion of the Fifteenth infantry. The Indiana also will take aboard siege guns and Maxim field guns which General Chaffee had requested and which General MacArthur sent from Manila. It will take about three days for the Indiana to reach Taku. The large force of surgeons, nurses, and hospital attendants on the ship also will be a welcome addition to the hospital force now on shore in China. General Barry is General MacArthur's chief of staff. He goes on the Indiana to Taku to inspect that port with a view to determining its availability as a Chinese base of supply.

VISIT FROM AN OFFICER.

President Is Warned He Is Using Too Much Water.

Canton, C., Aug. 14.—The president had no callers of note to-day. President and Mrs. McKinley will leave for Washington at 1:35 o'clock Thursday afternoon to stay two weeks.

The President has been disobeying the rules of the city by sprinkling his lawn during prohibited hours. A watcher discovered the infraction of the rules and served notice that the water would be shut off at the next breach of the law. The city board of equalization gave McKinley's tax valuation a $1,500 boost on account of his addition to his cottage.

Facing the Future.

There comes a time to most women when they must face the future of wifehood and motherhood. What that future has in store for them depends largely upon themselves. To a healthy woman the obligations and consequences of marriage are a lasting happiness. To a woman suffering from irregularity or other ailments of the sex, marriage may prove a mockery and motherhood a misery. Where such irregularity exists Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription can be used with the assurance that health will speedily be restored. It is the most reliable medicine known to medical science for the cure of diseases which affect the delicate womanly organs. "Favorite Prescription" is a non-alcoholic medicine and is also free from opium cocaine and other narcotics.

"At an early stage of married life," writes Mrs. Flora Ann, of Dallas, Jackson Co., Mo., "I was greatly bothered with painful periods, also a troublesome drain which rendered me very weak and unfit for work of any kind. I became so thin there was nothing left of me but skin and bone. My husband became alarmed and got me a bottle of 'Favorite Prescription.' After he saw the wonderful effects of that one he got me two more, and after I used those up there was no more pain, and I began to gain in flesh very rapidly. I owe all praise to Dr. Pierce and his wonderful curative medicines."

The Burford team defeated Knowles yesterday afternoon and broke all records by making 12 runs in the eighth inning, 10 of them being made with no one out.

The game was a fast one until the sixth inning and the score was 3 to 2 in favor of Knowles.

In the seventh Knowles made three more and they looked like easy winners, but in the eighth Burfords made 12 runs on four bases on balls, five errors and six hits. Seventeen men went to bat in this inning and Shell was the only member of the club who was not up twice.

Billy Stillwell made his initial appearance in the box for Burfords and struck out 10 of the heavy hitters of the Knowles team in the first five innings.

Winters was not far behind him and mowed down eight of the Burfords in six innings.

Daugherty's left field play was a feature.

They Are Not an Uncommon Feature at the Present Time in East Liverpool.

The merciful and kind and humane and God and humanity loving citizen feels sorry in his heart when he notes a drunken man staggering along our streets, or when he sees a poor victim of strong drink go whirling to the cooler in the Black Maria; and he feels, in his heart, that the wrong man is in the hands of the law, and that the drunkard maker, the distiller, brewer or saloon keeper, ought to be in that wagon of disgrace. He further feels that the law which sanctions the infamous traffic of the sale of intoxicants is a sin and a shame and a travesty upon justice, and that the nation which permits such infamy will reap a full harvest of woe and sorrow.

It is a very sad sight to note a drunken man whirled off to the lock-up. It is infinitely a sadder sight to see a drunken woman in such a predicament. An unfortunate woman was in this predicament last night. She had become a common nuisance on account of her actions, and it became necessary to arrest her. A young lady witnessed the affair and, unused to such sights, being a comparative stranger to our city, she rushed to the telephone and communicated the intelligence to a lady friend about as follows:

To this her friend made response in about this manner:

"Oh, you poor creature. You go to bed tonight as usual, curl up like a contented kitten and snooze peacefully and tranquilly. Your drunken woman is evidently a believer in woman's rights. She had a right to get tight and she has the same right as a man to go to the cooler and in the same neat and attractive conveyance. You have lived in the blessed truly rural districts all your life, amid purity and clean life, and have not got used to our city ways. When you reside in this city for a year or two, familiarity with such scenes will remove the wire edge of your sensitive nature, and you will find that the women have a legal right to secure booze, and a legal right to take the consequences of a jamboree, all the same as a little man. Go to sleep, dear, and don't puzzle your brain over the funny legislation enacted by the lords of creation."

THAT SHADE TREE.

Foreman Griffiths Tells His Story of the Cutting of Trees at River-view Cemetery.

"Editor News Review—I am foreman of construction of the line of the Columbiana County Telephone company being placed along the route of the Calcutta road. Superintendent Whitaker secured no promise from me respecting a special shade tree. Indeed, to be exact, I have held no conversation of any kind with Mr. Whitaker. I had the understanding from one of my workmen that Mr. Whitaker desired that limbs should be cut off nicely and lowered carefully to the ground, in order that the fence should not be injured. My workmen were cutting the tree in dispute, and were simply taking the limbs down which were directly in their way, intending to trim up nicely afterward, when I understood that Mr. Whitaker imperatively ordered the workmen to cease their work, which they did. We but obey our orders when engaged at this class of work; and our orders from the company are to be courteous to every one with whom we are brought in contact.

"Respectfully,
"FOREMAN GRIFFITHS."

THE JIGGERMEN MAY GIVE IN

Will Invite the Executive Board
to Meet With Them and Discuss Matters.

WOULD: END ALL TROUBLE

Seems to Be a Good Prospect For Installation of the Uniform
Scale.

CAN'T HOLD OUT ALONE

It now looks as though the uniform wage scale will be adopted in Trenton
Trenton True American of yesterday
says:

In all probability the members of the executive board of the Brotherhood of Operative Potters will have every general ware pottery in this city working under the new scale before many days go by.

The jiggermen are thinking seriously of calling a meeting some night this week at which the executive board
will be present for the purpose of relating their side of the scale question.
Although extremely obstinate at first,
the jiggermen now seem to be inclined
to look at the matter fairly.

The kilnmen and pressers, on whom
the jiggermen relied so much for aid,
have decided to accept it, leaving about 100 jiggermen in the city to fight the whole Brotherhood.

Although the new scale will cut the kilnmen and pressers' wages more or less they are willing to sacrifice the
cut for the sake of establishing a uniform price list throughout the country.

It is claimed by the executive board that fully 80 per cent of the American potteries are now run under
the price list adopted at Pittsburgh.

From the manufacturers there are
yet no new developments. Messrs.
Burgess and Willetts, the two absentees of the committee on labor of the manufacturers' association, are expected to return tomorrow, when they will take immediate action on the kiln-
men's resolutions.

President A. S. Hughes is still in town and will not leave until the trouble is settled.

THE HUNGRY FED

And the Master Will Give in Return,
If Given Aright, the "Bread
of Life."

Last evening a lady came into the News Review office, passed to Mrs.
Palmer the sum of $3 in silver, remarking:

"For the poor people of India."
God will give it to her again, with interest, if she gave aright, and we believe that she did. Think of it, lovers of our common humanity, the gift
of this good woman will feed a family of three persons, father, mother
and one child, for the period of 50
days. Cannot you assist in like manner? If you cannot spare $3, any sum will be acceptable to the sufferers. It may be that a nickel will bring you a blessing. The widow was wonderfully blessed in giving her mite.

"Just put it down to my daughter;
she raised the sum."

Well, we hope that success and prosperity and happiness may be regular visitors with her. Her $2 will feed two hungry ones for 50 days. God bless her.

Murderer Rosslyn Ferrell Was
His Mother's Favorite.

TO BE TAKEN TO UNION COUNTY, O.

Mrs. Ferrell Had Premonition of
Some Calamity—Told Neighbor She Feared She Would Not Wear New Dress to Her Boy's Wedding.

Stuebenville, O., Aug. 14.—The news of the arrest of Rosslyn Ferrell for the robbery of the express train and murder of Messenger Lane near Columbus caused the biggest sensation this
as a shock to the mother of Ferrell, as she was very much devoted to her youngest boy. To-day grief is sapping away at her life so strongly that members of the family say they do not expect to see her rise from her bed alive. Mr. and Mrs. Ferrell were to have gone on Wednesday to attend the wedding. Saturday Mrs. Ferrell showed to a neighbor
the dress she was to have worn and said:
"Something tells me I'll never wear
this."

This premonition, or whatever it was,
has come true in terrible form. Tobias
Ferrell, father of the young man, left on the Panhandle 10:30 a. m. train for Columbus. He said:

"I don't understand how Ross came to do it. He was the baby of the family and there is nothing I would not have done for him had he been in trouble
or in need of anything. He must have been desperate over something, or nearly crazy to have done what he did. He was here Thursday, but I did not get to talk

Adams Express Company Agent George
B. Sterling said Ross Ferrell was in his employ as transfer and check clerk
from August, 1897, to May, 1899, when he was promoted to be messenger on the road. He was always faithful and never in the smallest thing was there anything wrong. He filled in emergency cases as messenger on the Cleveland &
Pittsburgh while here and his duties

COLUMBUS, O., Aug. 13.—Rosslyn Ferrell, the confessed murderer of Express Messenger Lane, will be taken to-morrow morning to Marysville, Union county,
in which his crime was committed, for
trial.

At noon yesterday the quartet rehearsed the music for Ferrell's wedding.
He was present and complimented the singers. At that very hour the detectives
were preparing the program for his capture. Ferrell had even ordered the wedding invitations.

BRYAN'S SON SAVED BY GENERAL JOE WHEELER

A HIGH WINDOW JUST AS HE WAS ABOUT TO FALL.

Chicago, Aug. 14.—General Joe
Wheeler has probably had as many opportunities of displaying a quick wit
and a clear head in an emergency as
any man living, and in all his long career he has let none of the chances go
by. This morning he saved the life of a boy in his offices at army headquarters in the Pullman building. The boy
in the case was William Jennings
Bryan, Jr., the 12-year-old son of the Democratic candidate for the presidency.

The lad visited General Wheeler, and
the latter, after his first greeting, turned to his work and let the youngster
amuse himself as best he might. Young Bryan is like other healthy boys of his age and, naturally enough, soon got into mischief. He found a loose chair caster, and then hunted around till he secured a big bundle of rubber bands.
These he tied into a long string and
then, securing the caster to the bundle,
went to the window and began bouncing the piece of iron up and down on
the sidewalk, 75 feet below.

The general, engrossed with his la-

VIEWED PLACE OF KILLING.

All the Evidence in the Trial of Caleb Powers Has Been Given.

Georgetown, Ky., Aug. 14.—Testimony in the trial of former Secretary of State Caleb Powers, charged with complicity in the shooting of Governor Goebel, was concluded at noon to-day. This afternoon the jury was taken to the scene
of the shooting at Frankfort. Judge Cantrill announced that as soon as the arguments have been concluded and the case gone to the jury the case against
Henry E. Youtsey will be called for trial.
The sheriff was ordered to summon a special venire of jurors for the Youtsey
case.

B. W. Bradburn, a member of the reward commission, testified that of the $5,000
drawn by the commissioners out of the fund appropriated by the Legislature
only about $4,000 had been expended, and said that no money
had been paid to any witness who had testified in the case, and that no agreement or contract existed between the reward commissioners and Wharton Golden, Robert Noakes, W. H.
Culton, or any other witness.

Decree Pending Habeas Corpus Proceedings.

New York, Aug. 14.—Judge Lacombe,
of the United States circuit court, to-day
refused to sign the writ of extradition
for Charles F. W. Neely, the Cuban postal fund imbezzler, on account of the action of Judge Wallace in granting an appeal to the supreme court in the habeas corpus proceedings, but indicated that he did not think Judge Wallace understood the real situation of the case and he believed if it went to the supreme court
in its present shape the application for a writ of habeas corpus would be denied. In conclusion Judge Lacombe said:
"I certainly shall not take any action
which will turn over to a foreign country
or another State, it matters not which,
a prisoner who is held here under an order of arrest in a civil or criminal action, until such action shall have been discontinued."

Judge Lacombe advised Marshal Hen-
kel to keep the prisoner in custody under the civil order or under Judge Wallace's order, as he chose. The Government was given until next Monday to decide what further action it will take in the matter.

over the sidewalk and only the toes of

Speaking of the occurrence afterward,

Chicago, Aug. 14.—William J. Bryan had a conference with a delegation of colored men headed by J. Milton Turner, of St. Louis, former minister to Liberia. They represented that there was much dissatisfaction among the members of their race with the present administration, and assured Mr. Bryan that he would receive the votes of many of many of them. They therefore urged
Bryan Democratic clubs.

Mr. Bryan also participated in a conference with ex-Governor Stone, of Missouri; ex-Governor Altgeld, of Illinois; Mayor Taggart, of Indianapolis;
Chairman Martin, of the Indiana state
central committee, and Senator Jones.
The outlook in Indiana was reported as favorable. The date of the departure of
Mr. and Mrs. Bryan for Lincoln is fixed for tomorrow night. Mr. Bryan's speech before the Irish societies will be made at Sunnyside park tomorrow afternoon.

THE JIGGERMEN MAY GIVE IN

Will Invite the Executive Board
to Meet With Them and Discuss Matters.

WOULD: END ALL TROUBLE

Seems to Be a Good Prospect For Installation of the Uniform
Scale.

CAN'T HOLD OUT ALONE

It now looks as though the uniform
wage scale will be adopted in Trenton
Trenton True American of yesterday
says:

In all probability the members of
the executive board of the Brotherhood of Operative Potters will have
every general ware pottery in this
city working under the new scale before many days go by.

The jiggermen are thinking seriously of calling a meeting some night this
will be present for the purpose of relating their side of the scale question.
Although extremely obstinate at first,
the jiggermen now seem to be inclined
to look at the matter fairly.

The kilnmen and pressers, on whom
the jiggermen relied so much for aid,
about 100 jiggermen in the city to fight the whole Brotherhood.

Although the new scale will cut the kilnmen and pressers' wages more or less they are willing to sacrifice the
cut for the sake of establishing a uniform price list throughout the country.

It is claimed by the executive board that fully 80 per cent of the American potteries are now run under
the price list adopted at Pittsburgh.

From the manufacturers there are
yet no new developments. Messrs.
Burgess and Willetts, the two absent-
ees of the committee on labor of the manufacturers' association, are expected to return tomorrow, when they will take immediate action on the kiln-
men's resolutions.

President A. S. Hughes is still in town and will not leave until the trouble is settled.

THE HUNGRY FED

And the Master Will Give in Return,
If Given Aright, the "Bread

Last evening a lady came into the

Palmer the sum of $3 in silver, re-
marking:

"For the poor people of India."

God will give it to her again, with interest, if she gave a right, and we believe that she did. Think of it, lov-
ers of our common humanity, the gift
of this good woman will feed a family of three persons, father, mother
and one child, for the period of 50
days. Cannot you assist in like manner? If you cannot spare $3, any sum
will be acceptable to the sufferers. It may be that a nickel will bring you a blessing. The widow was wonderfully
blessed in giving her mite.

TO BE TAKEN TO UNION COUNTY, O.

Mrs. Ferrell Had Premonition of
Some Calamity—Told Neighbor She Feared She Would Not Wear New Dress to Her Boy's Wedding.

Stuebenville, O., Aug. 14.—The news of the arrest of Rosslyn Ferrell for
the robbery of the express train and
murder of Messenger Lane near Columbus caused the biggest sensation this
as a shock to the mother of Ferrell, as
she was very much devoted to her youngest boy. To-day grief is sapping away at her life so strongly that members of the family say they do not expect to see her rise from her bed alive. Mr. and
Mrs. Ferrell were to have gone on Wednesday to attend the wedding. Saturday Mrs. Ferrell showed to a neighbor
the dress she was to have worn and said:
"Something tells me I'll never wear
this."

has come true in terrible form. Tobias
Ferrell, father of the young man, left
on the Panhandle 10:30 a. m. train for Columbus. He said:

"I don't understand how Ross came to do it. He was the baby of the family
and there is nothing I would not have done for him had he been in trouble
been desperate over something, or nearly
here Thursday, but I did not get to talk

Adams Express Company Agent George
B. Sterling said Ross Ferrell was in his employ as transfer and check clerk
from August, 1897, to May, 1899, when
he was promoted to be messenger on
the road. He was always faithful and
anything wrong. He filled in emergency
cases as messenger on the Cleveland &
Pittsburg while here and his duties

COLUMBUS, O., Aug. 13.—Rosslyn Fer-
rell, the confessed murderer of Express
Messenger Lane, will be taken to-morrow
morning to Marysville, Union county,
trial.

At noon yesterday the quartet rehearsed the music for Ferrell's wedding.
He was present and complimented the
singers. At that very hour the detectives
were preparing the program for his capture. Ferrell had even ordered the wedding invitations.

GENERAL JOE WHEELER

WAS ABOUT TO FALL.

Chicago, Aug. 14.—General Joe
Wheeler has probably had as many opportunities of displaying a quick wit
and a clear head in an emergency as
any man living, and in all his long career he has let none of the chances go
by. This morning he saved the life of
a boy in his offices at army headquarters in the Pullman building. The boy
in the case was William Jennings
Bryan, Jr., the 12-year-old son of the Democratic candidate for the presidency.

The lad visited General Wheeler, and
the latter, after his first greeting, turned to his work and let the youngster
amuse himself as best he might. Young Bryan is like other healthy boys of his
age and, naturally enough, soon got into mischief. He found a loose chair caster, and then hunted around till he secured a big bundle of rubber bands.
These he tied into a long string and
then, securing the caster to the bundle,
went to the window and began bouncing the piece of iron up and down on
the sidewalk, 75 feet below.

The general, engrossed with his labors, paid no attention to the boy, who gradually became so interested in his play that he leaned farther and farther
out of the casement window. "Fighting Joe" happened to glance up a few

him safely on the floor.

This premonition, or whatever it was,
has come true in terrible form. Tobias
Ferrell, father of the young man, left
on the Panhandle 10:30 a. m. train for Columbus. He said:

"I don't understand how Ross came to do it. He was the baby of the family
and there is nothing I would not have done for him had he been in trouble
been desperate over something, or nearly
here Thursday, but I did not get to talk

Adams Express Company Agent George
B. Sterling said Ross Ferrell was in his employ as transfer and check clerk
from August, 1897, to May, 1899, when
he was promoted to be messenger on
the road. He was always faithful and
anything wrong. He filled in emergency
cases as messenger on the Cleveland &
Pittsburg while here and his duties

COLUMBUS, O., Aug. 13.—Rosslyn Fer-
rell, the confessed murderer of Express
Messenger Lane, will be taken to-morrow
morning to Marysville, Union county,
trial.

At noon yesterday the quartet rehearsed the music for Ferrell's wedding.
He was present and complimented the
singers. At that very hour the detectives
were preparing the program for his capture. Ferrell had even ordered the wedding invitations.

BRYAN'S SON SAVED BY GENERAL JOE WHEELER

WAS ABOUT TO FALL.

Chicago, Aug. 14.—General Joe
Wheeler has probably had as many opportunities of displaying a quick wit
and a clear head in an emergency as any man living, and in all his long career he has let none of the chances go
by. This morning he saved the life of
a boy in his offices at army headquarters in the Pullman building. The boy
in the case was William Jennings
Bryan, Jr., the 12-year-old son of the Democratic candidate for the presidency.

The lad visited General Wheeler, and
the latter, after his first greeting, turned
to his work and let the youngster
amuse himself as best he might. Young Bryan is like other healthy boys of his
age and, naturally enough, soon got into mischief. He found a loose chair caster, and then hunted around till he secured a big bundle of rubber bands.
These he tied into a long string and
then, securing the caster to the bundle,
went to the window and began bouncing the piece of iron up and down on
the sidewalk, 75 feet below.

The general, engrossed with his labors, paid no attention to the boy, who gradually became so interested in his
play that he leaned farther and farther
out of the casement window. "Fighting Joe" happened to glance up a few

the lad hanging with his whole body
over the sidewalk and only the toes of
his shoes visible, clutching the angle of the window. He sat aghast for a moment. Then, rushing to the window, he pulled the lad in by his legs and landed
him safely on the floor.

Speaking of the occurrence afterward,
General Wheeler acknowledged that young Bryan was within an inch of being dashed to death on the pavement
below when he caught sight of him, but
treated the matter lightly.

Colored Delegation Visited the Democratic Candidate—Nebraskan and Wife Leave Tomorrow Night.

Chicago, Aug. 14.—William J. Bryan
had a conference with a delegation of colored men headed by J. Milton Turner, of St. Louis, former minister to Li-
much dissatisfaction among the members of their race with the present administration, and assured Mr. Bryan
that he would receive the votes of many of many of them. They therefore urged the importance of the organization of Bryan Democratic clubs.

Mr. Bryan also participated in a con-
Missouri; ex-Governor Altgeld, of Illinois; Mayor Taft, of Indianapolis;
Chairman Martin, of the Indiana state
central committee, and Senator Jones.
The outlook in Indiana was reported as favorable. The date of the departure of
Mr. and Mrs. Bryan for Lincoln is fixed
for tomorrow night. Mr. Bryan's speech
before the Irish societies will be made
at Sunnyside park tomorrow afternoon.

BUTLER FOR M'KINLEY?

A Lincoln Paper Says He Will Stamp
For the President.

Lincoln, Neb., Aug. 14.—The Evening Post, a local Populist paper, says that Chairman Marion Butler will take the stump for McKinley. Vice Chairman Edmiston was asked about this matter and declined to talk.

"In the absence of definite information," said Mr. Edmiston, I can say nothing about Senator Butler's future course.

Two More Notifications.

Denver, Col., Aug. 14.—W. J. Bryan will receive notice of his nomination for president by the Monetary league at Topeka, Kan., August 23, the date of the People's party notification exercises.

An Aspiration.

would only obey our whoa it would be

VIEWED PLACE OF KILLING.

Caleb Powers Has Been Given.

Georgetown, Ky., Aug. 14.—Testimony in the trial of former Secretary of State Caleb Powers, charged with complicity in the shooting of Governor Gos-bel, was concluded at noon to-day. This afternoon the jury was taken to the scene
of the shooting at Frankfort. Judge Cantrill announced that as soon as the arguments have been concluded and the
case gone to the jury the case against
Henry E. Youtsey will be called for trial.
The sheriff was ordered to summon a special venire of jurors for the Youtsey
case.

B. W. Bradburn, a member of the reward commission, testified that of the $5,000
drawn by the commissioners out of the
fund appropriated by the Legislature
only about $4,000 had been expended, and said that no money
had been paid to any witness
who had testified in the case, and
that no agreement or contract existed between the reward commissioners and Wharton Golden, Robert Noakes, W. H.
Culton, or any other witness.

EXTRADITION DENIED.

Decree Pending Habeas Corpus Proceedings.

New York, Aug. 14.—Judge Lacombe,
of the United States circuit court, to-day
refused to sign the writ of extradition
for Charles F. W. Neely, the Cuban postal fund imbezzler, on account of the action of Judge Wallace in granting an appeal to the supreme court in the habeas corpus proceedings, but indicated that he did not think Judge Wallace understood
the real situation of the case and he believed if it went to the supreme court
in its present shape the application for
a writ of habeas corpus would be denied. In conclusion Judge Lacombe said:
"I certainly shall not take any action
which will turn over to a foreign country
or another State, it matters not which,
a prisoner who is held here under an
order of arrest in a civil or criminal action, until such action shall have been discontinued."

Japanese Art.

The Japanese is a born lover of nature. Whatever he produces, from the most painstaking work of art to the simplest household utensil, is after natural models. In the representation of figures and scenes the Japanese display a perception which is astonishing. With a couple of strokes of the brush they reproduce what they see
with a truth to life which is almost incredible.

DIRTY THOROUGHFARES.

The highways and byways of East Liverpool are in a most deplorable condition. If "cleanliness is akin to godliness," and we shall judge the condition of our thoroughfares from this standpoint, then is godliness conspicuous by its utter absence from our municipality.

THE MASSES.

You can fool the great mass of the people in your affiliation with and advocacy of evil and evil practices for a time. But the day of awakening will surely come and you would better stand from under. All the sops and promises and gifts you may offer will not give you immunity from the wrath of an aroused and clean public sentiment, for "Right is Might, and shall prevail."

HUMANITY LOVERS.

A goodly sum, thank God, has gone from the News Review office to the sufferers in India. This sum has been made up in contributions ranging from a single penny to a check for $25. Little children have opened their savings boxes and given all their savings to the hungry little ones, the starving and suffering ones, in India. This money has not been given by the News Review. This paper has simply been a medium for the people who love their fellows—for the men, women and children of this prosperous city who hate to see suffering in any form, and whose hearts are made sad by the knowledge of the awful need of the hour in India. The money contributed is sent at once to New York city, and is at once elegraphed to India from that point; not a minute of unnecessary delay, as delay might mean death to many. Send in your contributions at once, by they large or small.

ARE YOU PROUD OF IT?

Are you proud of the vote which, citizens of East Liverpool, left such saloons in your city as some of the samples on Sixth street, places which are so decidedly vile and objectionable, on account of the roughs and toughs assembled in and around them on the Sabbath day, voicing all manner of profanity, vulgarity and indecency, in such a measure as to cause good citizens, men and women, to avoid the very locality and take a roundabout way in going to and from church? Are you proud to have such industries (God pity the mark) in your midst? Will not the latent manhood of East Liverpool rise up against any and every man who, by trickery and chicanery in the mode of balloting on that fateful July afternoon, made it possible for the will of the people to be trampled in the dust? Be careful. God will not be mocked. Every minister of evil will receive full recompense for misdeeds performed. Don't hug the illusion fondly to your breast that you will escape punishment. Your name is on the indelible record. The handwriting is on the wall.

BRYAN AND ALTGELD.

Here's a precious pair for the people to gaze at. Bryan for president of this great and grand republic, with Altgeld, of Illinois, as his attorney general. The nation, as a nation, sound money Republicans and sound money Democrats, turned down Bryan and his silver heresy with a fearful shock four years ago, and they'll repeat the dose still more emphatically this fall. The great mass of the workmen of the country are great readers today, forming their own opinions from the facts which face them; and these working men know that Bryan forced his silver heresy upon the Democratic party once more, despite very strong and earnest protests on the part of the sound money Democrats; and the working men of the nation know that the cry of "Imperialism and Militarism" is merely a dodge and a snare, a vote gatherer among the unwary, the real issue being the same silver question as of old, a measure to fatten the pockets and bank accounts of the silver kings and mine owners, at the expense of the workers and toilers of the nation. The toilers are wide awake, however, and Bryan and Altgeld, in company with their co-workers and followers, will be relegated to the political oblivion they so richly deserve.

Tickets for the A. M. E. entertainment, to be given in the Y. M. C. A. hall on the 15th, can be procured at Bulger's and Reed's drug stores and at Orms Bros.' barber shop.

A. DINERSTEIN FELL UNDER A CAR

HAPPENED IN THE WEST END

As He Was Returning Home Last Evening From a Trip to Wellsville.

HE IS RESTING EASY TODAY

Albert Dinerstein, a painter residing on Fairview street, while alighting from an east bound street car at Division street, West End, at 9 o'clock last night, fell under the wheels and sustained injuries to his left arm which necessitated its amputation.

Mr. Dinerstein's version of the cause of the accident and that of the motorman, George Custer, conflict somewhat, but from what could be gathered from their statements and from those who witnessed the accident, Dinerstein was about to get off near his home and had handed his fare to the motorman when he lost his balance and fell under the wheels, both trucks passing over his left arm.

The patrol was summoned and Dinerstein was taken to the office of Dr. W. A. Hobbs, who, assisted by Drs. W. A. Bailey and James Taylor, amputated the member at the shoulder.

The man suffered terribly while being taken to the office of the doctor, but was resting easier today.

A Suggestion From Salem.

Salem News.

A smooth individual recently sold to a number of East Liverpool people some handsome birds of as many colors as feathers on the birds. People in the Ceramic City love decorations, but when it comes to paying fancy prices for English sparrows with dyed feathers they put up a kick. It was a bird of a trick played on the Liverpool lovers of decorative art.

The next time they will see to it that the colors are fired in a decorating kiln.

A Suggestion From Salem.

Salem News.

A smooth individual recently sold to a number of East Liverpool people some handsome birds of as many colors as feathers on the birds. People in the Ceramic City love decorations, but when it comes to paying fancy prices for English sparrows with dyed feathers they put up a kick. It was a bird of a trick played on the Liverpool lovers of decorative art.

The next time they will see to it that the colors are fired in a decorating kiln.

PROBABLY RESCUED.

This is glorious, if true. Of course we refer to the news that the legations at Peking have been rescued by the allied forces.

DIRTY THOROUGHFARES.

The highways and byways of East Liverpool are in a most deplorable condition. If "cleanliness is akin to godliness," and we shall judge the condition of our thoroughfares from this standpoint, then is godliness conspicuous by its utter absence from our municipality.

THE MASSES.

You can fool the great mass of the people in your affiliation with and advocacy of evil and evil practices for a time. But the day of awakening will surely come and you would better stand from under. All the sops and promises and gifts you may offer will not give you immunity from the wrath of an aroused and clean public sentiment, for "Right is Might, and shall prevail."

HUMANITY LOVERS.

A goodly sum, thank God, has gone from the News Review office to the sufferers in India. This sum has been made up in contributions ranging from a single penny to a check for $25. Little children have opened their savings boxes and given all their savings to the hungry little ones, the starving and suffering ones, in India. This money has not been given by the News Review. This paper has simply been a medium for the people who love their fellows—for the men, women and children of this prosperous city who hate to see suffering in any form, and whose hearts are made sad by the knowledge of the awful need of the hour in India. The money contributed is sent at once to New York city, and is at once eleghraphed to India from that point; not a minute of unnecessary delay, as delay might mean death to many. Send in your contributions at once, by they large or small.

ARE YOU PROUD OF IT?

Are you proud of the vote which, citizens of East Liverpool, left such saloons in your city as some of the samples on Sixth street, places which are so decidedly vile and objectionable, on account of the roughs and toughs assembled in and around them on the Sabbath day, voicing all manner of profanity, vulgarity and indecency, in such a measure as to cause good citizens, men and women, to avoid the very locality and take a roundabout way in going to and from church? Are you proud to have such industries (God pity the mark) in your midst? Will not the latent manhood of East Liverpool rise up against any and every man who, by trickery and chicanery in the mode of balloting on that fateful July afternoon, made it possible for the will of the people to be trampled in the dust? Be careful. God will not be mocked. Every minister of evil will receive full recompense for misdeeds performed. Don't hug the illusion fondly to your breast that you will escape punishment. Your name is on the indelible record. The handwriting is on the wall.

BRYAN AND ALTGELD.

Here's a precious pair for the people to gaze at. Bryan for president of this great and grand republic, with Altgeld, of Illinois, as his attorney general. The nation, as a nation, sound money Republicans and sound money Democrats, turned down Bryan and his silver heresy with a fearful shock four years ago, and they'll repeat the dose still more emphatically this fall. The great mass of the workingmen of the country are great readers today, forming their own opinions from the facts which face them; and these working men know that Bryan forced his silver heresy upon the Democratic party once more, despite very strong and earnest protests on the part of the sound money Democrats; and the working men of the nation know that the cry of "Imperialism and Militarism" is merely a dodge and a snare, a vote gatherer among the unwary, the real issue being the same silver question as of old, a measure to fatten the pockets and bank accounts of the silver kings and mine owners, at the expense of the workers and toilers of the nation. The toilers are wide awake, however, and Bryan and Altgeld, in company with their co-workers and followers, will be relegated to the political oblivion they so richly deserve.

Tickets for the A. M. E. entertainment, to be given in the Y. M. C. A. hall on the 15th, can be procured at Bulger's and Reed's drug stores and at Orms Bros.' barber shop.

A. DINERSTEIN FELL UNDER A CAR

HAPPENED IN THE WEST END

Albert Dinerstein, a painter residing on Fairview street, while alighting from an east bound street car at Division street, West End, at 9 o'clock last night, fell under the wheels and sustained injuries to his left arm which necessitated its amputation.

Mr. Dinerstein's version of the cause of the accident and that of the motorman, George Custer, conflict somewhat, but from what could be gathered from their statements and from those who witnessed the accident, Dinerstein was about to get off near his home and had handed his fare to the motorman when he lost his balance and fell under the wheels, both trucks passing over his left arm.

The patrol was summoned and Dinerstein was taken to the office of Dr. W. A. Hobbs, who, assisted by Drs. W. A. Bailey and James Taylor, amputated the member at the shoulder.

The man suffered terribly while being taken to the office of the doctor, but was resting easier today.

WM. ALLEN RAISED A ROW

And Was Run In By Officers Dawson and Gill Last Evening From Third Street.

MRS. SIVERS WAS VERY DRUNK

WAS RELEASED THIS MORNING

Two young men from Beaver Falls, who gave the mayor the names of Harry Jones and John Brown, were arrested last evening and the complaint entered that they had refused to pay their fare on an East Liverpool and Wellsville street car.

They had gone to Wellsville and on the return trip the request was made that they deposit the amount of their fare in the receptacle for that purpose.

They refused and upon arriving in this city they were handed over to Officer Mahony, who conducted the pair to city hall.

They were given a hearing and said they proposed standing trial, but when Mayor Davidson read them the law on the subject, which says that when they refused to put their fare in the box they had violated the law, they changed their minds and paid a fine of $5 60 each.

Mrs. Sivers was taken in by Officers Woods and Ruhe last evening and brought to jail in the patrol.

She was very drunk and had to be carried into the cell. The woman's daughter came to the mayor's office shortly after the arrest and endeavored to secure her release, but she was in no condition to walk home, and it was thought best to allow her to remain where she was until she was sober.

This morning the daughter came again, and after a long talk with the mayor, succeeded in having her mother released without a fine.

The girl said her mother had been ill for several days, and yesterday came down town and procured a quantity of blackberry wine, in the hope of being relieved, and unfortunately became drunk. She was not in the habit of drinking intoxicants and this was the first time it had ever occurred. The mayor believed her story and let the woman go.

William Allen, a Third street teamster, was acting in a disorderly manner at his home yesterday and was arrested by Officers Dawson and Gill. He had been drinking all afternoon and was in an ugly mood when arrested.

He was given a chance to sober up until today, when he will get his hearing.

Freddy Wolf was given a hearing yesterday evening, and as the mayor has no jurisdiction in state cases, he was sent to Lisbon, with Chief Thompson this morning, with the recommendation to the probate judge that he be sent to the works.

Trouble With the Garbage Company.

Beaver Falls Tribune.
The people of East Liverpool are having trouble over the disposal of their garbage. The weak point seems to be that the company having the contract lacks proper facilities for the collection of the garbage.

SUBURBAN NEWS.

EAST END.

Their Trolley Party.

The East End White Caps club, who went to Wellsville on the trolley last night, report a splendid time. Misses Kittie White, Effie White, Emma Owen, Sadie Manley, Katie Stamm, Mary Duncan, Blanche Mowen and Addie White, and Messrs. Roy Manyers, Cliff Mowen, Hunter Allison, Richard Howard, Fred Sanerizen, Harry Thorne and Charles Wright made up the East End party and Miss Ethel Bratt joined them at West End.

A Camp of Gypsies.

A lot of gypsies are camping on the place leased by Wm. Price from Mr. Thompson. Mr. Price complained to Officer Hamilton on their account and he ordered them to move off the Thompson property.

They are a detachment of a crowd that camped there last year. They will leave today to join the others, who are somewhere in Pennsylvania.

People Are Kicking.

Frank Summers, who drives a rag wagon in East Liverpool and Wellsville, instead of disposing of his rubbish in a proper manner, deposits it in the road near the school house. People who live in that neighborhood made a complaint to Officer Hamilton, and he will see that their wishes in the matter are respected.

Had a Surprise.

The White Caps club had a surprise party the other night in honor of Roy Mayers. His parents were expecting the merry crowd and had everything prepared to give the young folks a good time.

They had games and delicious refreshments and the evening was all too short.

A Party.

Miss Nettie Hughes' Sabbath school class of the Second M. E. church has a party tonight at the home of George Johnson on Pennsylvania avenue.

To be Entertained.

The F. F. F. club will be entertained at Mrs. McDonald's, on First avenue tomorrow.

They Danced.

The colored people had a dance at Columbian park last night.

Personals.

Miss Pearl Finley went with the excursionists to Cascade Park.

Mrs. Robert Finley and Mrs. Bert Hursner are spending a few days out of town.

Winfield Snowden is ill.

Miss Fisher and Miss Crawford have returned from Fredericktown.

SOUTH SIDE.

THE FREE METHODISTS.

They Have a Very Pretty Camp Ground and Most Interesting Services.

The Free Methodists have a very pretty camp ground. The tents are arranged in a semicircle about the auditorium and present a very inviting appearance. Most of the meetings are well attended and much interest is being manifested. Miss Crill, when interviewed this morning, stated that the altar is full of seekers all the time. She believes that much good will be accomplished. Fourteen ministers are in attendance and four district elders. Rev. Albert Wilson, of Pittsburg, formerly of East Liverpool, is taking part in the services. The night meetings are very largely attended. Services continue throughout the day and night, from 5:30 a. m. until 10:30 p. m. The routine is a very attractive and interesting one.

Backed Out.

The crowd who had planned to go to Cascade Park finally backed out, which was a great disappointment to some who were anticipating a good time.

An Enjoyable Time.

The Mechanics had an enjoyable time last night at their ice cream and cake feast.

Personals.

Mrs. George Roach has returned from a visit to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John McIntosh, of Turkey Foot oil field.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Allison are spending a few days visiting friends in the country.

Miss Pearl Shrader is entertaining some out-of-town guests.

Mr. Thrasher, of Pittsburg, is visiting old friends in Chester.

Mrs. Joe McDonald, who has been very ill, is recovering.

Mrs. Calhoun is better.

CURRY SAUCE.—Mix two tablespoonfuls of butter and one tablespoonful of flour to a smooth paste in a bowl or a double boiler and place over the fire in a pan of boiling water. Add half a pint of boiling water gradually, stirring all the time until the sauce thickens; then add half a teaspoonful of salt and one teaspoonful each of curry powder and onion juice. Take from the fire and use immediately.

CAN BUILD ROADS.

Important Decision Has Been Rendered by Attorney General Sheets.

Attorney General Sheets rendered a formal opinion this morning to the effect that acting under house bill 379, which became a law last winter, county commissioners may purchase material for road making and contract with parties for the improvement of roads.

There was a question raised as to whether the commissioners had power to purchase material or not. The attorney general says that while this act does not in itself confer such power, other statutes already existing do enable them to make such purchase.

Old Teeth Bought.

The following curious advertisement recently appeared in a London paper: "Old False Teeth Bought.—Many ladies and gentlemen have by them old or disused false teeth, which might as well be turned into money. Messrs. R. D. and J. B. —, of — (established since 1833), buy old false teeth. If you send your teeth to them, they will remit you by return post the utmost value; or if preferred they will make you the best offer and hold the teeth over for your reply. If reference is necessary, apply to Messrs. —, bankers, Ipswich."

Impression Correct.

"Dinguss, didn't I lend you $10 a month or two ago?"
"Shadbolt, you did. If you had a good business head on your shoulders, you would be able to remember a loan like that with absolute certainty and wouldn't have to ask anybody about it."

Frowns and passes on.—Exchange.

Five Movings.

No less than five movings came to town today.

A number of the parties who went to Niagara Falls last Thursday are expected home today.

WM. ALLEN RAISED A ROW

MRS. SIVERS WAS VERY DRUNK

WAS RELEASED THIS MORNING

Two young men from Beaver Falls, who gave the mayor the names of Harry Jones and John Brown, were arrested last evening and the complaint entered that they had refused to pay their fare on an East Liverpool and Wellsville street car.

They had gone to Wellsville and on the return trip the request was made that they deposit the amount of their fare in the receptacle for that purpose.

They refused and upon arriving in this city they were handed over to Officer Mahony, who conducted the pair to city hall.

They were given a hearing and said they proposed standing trial, but when Mayor Davidson read them the law on the subject, which says that when they refused to put their fare in the box they had violated the law, they changed their minds and paid a fine of $5 60 each.

Mrs. Sivers was taken in by Officers Woods and Ruhe last evening and brought to jail in the patrol.

She was very drunk and had to be carried into the cell. The woman's daughter came to the mayor's office shortly after the arrest and endeavored to secure her release, but she was in no condition to walk home, and it was thought best to allow her to remain where she was until she was sober.

This morning the daughter came again, and after a long talk with the mayor, succeeded in having her mother released without a fine.

The girl said her mother had been ill for several days, and yesterday came down town and procured a quantity of blackberry wine, in the hope of being relieved, and unfortunately became drunk. She was not in the habit of drinking intoxicants and this was the first time it had ever occurred. The mayor believed her story and let the woman go.

William Allen, a Third street teamster, was acting in a disorderly manner at his home yesterday and was arrested by Officers Dawson and Gill. He had been drinking all afternoon and was in an ugly mood when arrested.

He was given a chance to sober up until today, when he will get his hearing.

Freddy Wolf was given a hearing yesterday evening, and as the mayor has no jurisdiction in state cases, he was sent to Lisbon, with Chief Thompson this morning, with the recommendation to the probate judge that he be sent to the works.

Trouble With the Garbage Company.

Beaver Falls Tribune. The people of East Liverpool are having trouble over the disposal of their garbage. The weak point seems to be that the company having the contract lacks proper facilities for the collection of the garbage.

Ohio Pensions Granted.

Frank Karper, Alliance, $14 per month; William Stone, Limaville, $8; Wm. H. Sellers, Alliance, $25; Oscar A. Boles, Ravenna, $16; Edward Kirkham, Canton, $12.

SUBURBAN NEWS.

Their Trolley Party.

The East End White Caps club, who went to Wellsville on the trolley last night, report a splendid time. Misses Kittie White, Effie White, Emma Owen, Sadie Manley, Katie Stamm, Mary Duncan, Blanche Mowen and Addie White, and Messrs. Roy Manyers, Cliff Mowen, Hunter Allison, Richard Howard, Fred Sanereizen, Harry Thorne and Charles Wright made up the East End party and Miss Ethel Bratt joined them at West End.

A Camp of Gypsies.

A lot of gypsies are camping on the place leased by Wm. Price from Mr. Thompson. Mr. Price complained to Officer Hamilton on their account and he ordered them to move off the Thompson property.

They are a detachment of a crowd that camped there last year. They will leave today to join the others, who are somewhere in Pennsylvania.

People Are Kicking.

Frank Summers, who drives a rag wagon in East Liverpool and Wellsville, instead of disposing of his rubbish in a proper manner, deposits it in the road near the school house. People who live in that neighborhood made a complaint to Officer Hamilton, and he will see that their wishes in the matter are respected.

Had a Surprise.

The White Caps club had a surprise party the other night in honor of Roy Mayers. His parents were expecting the merry crowd and had everything prepared to give the young folks a good time.

They had games and delicious refreshments and the evening was all too short.

A Party.

Miss Nettie Hughes' Sabbath school class of the Second M. E. church has a party tonight at the home of George Johnson on Pennsylvania avenue.

To be Entertained.

The F. F. F. club will be entertained at Mrs. McDonald's, on First avenue tomorrow.

They Danced.

Personals.

Miss Pearl Finley went with the excursionists to Cascade Park.

Mrs. Robert Finley and Mrs. Bert Hursner are spending a few days out of town.

Winfield Snowden is ill.

Miss Fisher and Miss Crawford have returned from Fredericktown.

SOUTH SIDE.

They Have a Very Pretty Camp Ground and Most Interesting Services.

The Free Methodists have a very pretty camp ground. The tents are arranged in a semicircle about the auditorium and present a very inviting appearance. Most of the meetings are well attended and much interest is being manifested. Miss Crill, when interviewed this morning, stated that the altar is full of seekers all the time. She believes that much good will be accomplished. Fourteen ministers are in attendance and four district elders. Rev. Albert Wilson, of Pittsburg, formerly of East Liverpool, is taking part in the services. The night meetings are very largely attended. Services continue throughout the day and night, from 5:30 a. m. until 10:30 p. m. The routine is a very attractive and interesting one.

Backed Out.

The crowd who had planned to go

to Cascade Park finally backed out, which was a great disappointment to some who were anticipating a good time.

An Enjoyable Time.

Personals.

Mrs. George Roach has returned from a visit to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John McIntosh, of Turkey Foot oil field.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Allison are spending a few days visiting friends in the country.

Miss Pearl Shrader is entertaining some out-of-town guests.

Mr. Thrasher, of Pittsburg, is visiting old friends in Chester.

Mrs. Joe McDonald, who has been very ill, is recovering.

Mrs. Calhoun is better.

MENU FOR WEDNESDAY.

Want of prudence is too frequently the want of virtue, nor is there on earth a more powerful advocate for vice than poverty.—Goldsmith.

BREAKFAST.
Blue Plums.
Eggs sur le Plat.
Potatoes Hashed with Cream.
English Crumpets. Toast.
Oolong Tea.

LUNCHEON.
Caviare on Toast.
Sliced Cucumber and Tomato Salad.
Deep Dish Pudding.
Vichy.

DINNER.
Mock Turtle Soup.
Live Broiled Lobster, Curry Sauce.
Sweet Fried Potatoes.
String Beans, Beets, Sauce.
Peach Pie, Whipped Cream.
Cafe Noir.

CURRY SAUCE.—Mix two tablespoonfuls of butter and one tablespoonful of flour to a smooth paste in a bowl or a double boiler and place over the fire in a pan of boiling water. Add half a pint of boiling water gradually, stirring all the time until the sauce thickens; then add half a teaspoonful of salt and one teaspoonful each of curry powder and onion juice. Take from the fire and use immediately.

CAN BUILD ROADS.

Important Decision Has Been Rendered by Attorney General Sheets.

Attorney General Sheets rendered a formal opinion this morning to the effect that acting under house bill 379, which became a law last winter, county commissioners may purchase material for road making and contract with parties for the improvement of roads.

There was a question raised as to whether the commissioners had power to purchase material or not. The attorney general says that while this act does not in itself confer such power, other statutes already existing do enable them to make such purchase.

Old Teeth Bought.

The following curious advertisement recently appeared in a London paper: "Old False Teeth Bought.—Many ladies and gentlemen have by them old or disused false teeth, which might as well be turned into money. Messrs. R. D. and J. B., of — (established since 1833), buy old false teeth. If you send your teeth to them, they will remit you by return post the utmost value; or if preferred they will make you the best offer and hold the teeth over for your reply. If reference is necessary, apply to Messrs. —, bankers, Ipswich."

Impression Correct.

"Dinguss, didn't I lend you $10 a month or two ago?" "Shadbolt, you did. If you had a good business head on your shoulders, you would be able to remember a loan like that with absolute certainty and wouldn't have to ask anybody about it."

Frowns and passes on.—Exchange.

Five Movings.

No less than five movings came to town today.

A number of the parties who went to Niagara Falls last Thursday are expected home today.

NEARER TO PEKIN.

33 MILES DISTANT THURSDAY.

Chaffee in a Dispatch Said They Were at Ho Si Wu That Day—At Apparent Marching Rate, Ought to Be at Least Very Near.

London, Aug. 14.—The Shanghai correspondent of The Daily Express wiring Aug. 13, said:

"The allies at noon Saturday were within 20 miles of Pekin."

Washington, Aug. 14.—The American commander in chief in a dispatch of just three words, received at the war department, sent a thrill of expectation and expectancy throughout official quarters by announcing his arrival at Ho Si Wu, about 33 miles from Pekin, last Thursday. The last heard from him before this was at Yangtun, which had been captured after a hard fight, and word of his movements since then had been eagerly awaited. Thursday he was 18 miles beyond Yangtun, Lang Fang, the place where the ill-fated Seymour expedition met its fate and turned back, had been left behind.

The battle of Yangtun was fought on the 6th, and the advance to Ho Si Wu was accomplished on the 9th—a march of 18 miles in three days. This was four days ago, and at the same rate of progress Chaffee is even now fairly within striking distance of the walls of Pekin. It was a consummation which the war department had awaited calmly, and stirring as the news was that the American force was now nearing the gates of the imperial city, Secretary Root and Adjutant General Corbin evinced no surprise, as it accorded with calculations, although the advance had been more rapid than was expected.

"Adjutant General, Washington: "Tenth arrived Hospiwu (Ho Si Wu) yesterday. Chaffee."

The news of the advance soon spread throughout official quarters. In the enthusiasm of the moment a report got about that this was the day for the actual arrival in Pekin. But the war department had not a word of the advance beyond Ho Si Wu. It was deemed hardly likely that the march to Pekin could have been made since last Tuesday. At the rate of progress, six miles a day, made from Yangtun to Ho Si Wu, about 24 miles would have been covered in the last four days, and up to Monday this would still leave the international forces nine miles from Pekin. Viewed from any standpoint, the advance to Ho Si Wu was of the utmost importance, not only strategically, but also in showing that communication was open to Che Foo, that the expected opposition from Chinese hordes had not been sufficient to prevent the steady forward movement and in its influence it would exert on the Chinese government.

As it had taken about five days for General Chaffee to report the advance to Ho Si Wu it is evident that wire communication is not open to the front. This was hardly to be expected, and the safe arrival of the message at least shows that a certain measure of communication is open.

AMERICANS WOUNDED THROUGH STUPIDITY

Russian and British Guns Fired on the Fourteenth by Mistake—Brilliant British-American Charge.

London, Aug. 14.—A Tien Tsin dispatch, dated August 7, giving details regarding the capture of that place, says: "The Russians and French held the left, the British the center, the Americans the right center and the Japanese the extreme right."

"The British and Americans advanced on the village at a rapid rate for 5,000 yards, under a severe shell and rifle fire. The Russians opened and the British-American advance became a race for position, culminating in a brilliant charge."

"The heaviest loss of the day was sustained by the Americans, the Fourteenth infantry having nine killed, 62 wounded and several missing. The Bengal Lancers unsuccessfully attempted to cut off the Chinese retreat."

Another Yangtun special says: "Owing to a mistake, British and Russian guns shelled the Fourteenth United States infantry during the night, wounding ten."

DELIVERY OF MINISTERS TO ALLIED FORCES.

Washington, Aug. 14.—The text of the reply to China's proposal to have Li Hung Chang mediate contained the following: "MEMORANDUM."

"Touching the imperial edict of August 8, appointing Li Hung Chang envoy plenipotentiary to conduct negotiations on the part of China with the powers, and the request for a cessation of hostilities pending negotiations, communicated to Mr. Adee by Mr. Wu, on the 12th of August, 1900."

"The government of the United States learns with satisfaction of the appointment of Earl Li Hung Chang as envoy plenipotentiary to conduct negotiations with a desire to continue the friendly relations so long existing between the two countries."

"It is evident that there can be no general negotiation between China and the powers so long as the ministers of the powers and the persons under their protection remain in their

"We are ready to enter into an agreement between the powers and the Chinese government for a cessation of hostile demonstrations on condition that a sufficient body of forces composing the relief expedition shall be permitted to enter Pekin unmolested and to escort the ministers back to Tien Tsin this movement being provided for and secured by such arrangements and dispositions of troops as shall be considered satisfactory by the generals commanding the forces composing the relief expedition."

"Alvey A. Adee, Acting Secretary, "Department of States, Washington, August 12, 1900."

HANNA ON LYNCHING.

Says It Isn't a Matter for a Party to Meddle With.

New York, Aug. 14.—Perhaps the most interesting visitor at the National Republican headquarters to-day was Lillian C. Jewett, the so-called "Joan of Arc" of the anti-lynching league of Boston. Miss Jewett talked with Senator Hanna. When the latter was asked about the matter he replied:

"Poor girl. She wanted the Republican National committee to endorse the anti-lynching league. Of course we could not do it. We all deprecate lynching. I told her that all moral persons and law abiding ones are against lynching. This is not a party matter."

Aug. 6, Besieged Had 10 More Days' Supplies.

MUST BE NEAR STARVING POINT.

Mr. Claude MacDonald, in a Note, Wrote the Situation Was Desperate Unless Relieved, He Also Wrote, a General Massacre Would Follow.

London, Aug. 14.—The British consul at Canton, says The Daily Telegraph's correspondent there, has received the following message, dated August 6, from Mr. Claude MacDonald, British minister in Pekin:

"Our situation is desperate. In 10 days our food supply will be at an end. Unless we are relieved a general massacre is probable."

"The Chinese offer to escort us to Tien Tsin, but, remembering Cawnpore, we refuse the offer. There are over 200 European women and children in this legation."

AGUINALDO'S FEARS.

Filipino Chief Never Stays More Than One Night in a Place, It Is Reported.

Washington, Aug. 14.—Copies of Manila papers received at the war department contain a letter purporting to be from a personal friend of Aguinaldo which states that the Filipino chief does not take advantage of the amnesty proclamation because some time ago he gave orders to his followers to break up into guerrilla bands. The amnesty order excepts those who violated the laws of war and Aguinaldo fears that he would be in the excepted class.

The letter is dated at Biac-no-bato, which is said to be the present provisional headquarters of Aguinaldo. It states, however, that Aguinaldo never stays more than one night in a place and only a few hours in any one location. He allows no one to come near him except his most intimate personal friends.

A dispatch in one of the papers dated at San Pedro Macati states that General Plo del Pilar, who recently surrendered, says he wishes to become a good American citizen, and would like nothing better than to raise a regiment of Filipinos to serve in China.

Copies of orders received at the war department announce the sentence of Jacobo Ebron, a native, who was charged with "insurrection against the government of the United States of America." Ebron was sent to the penitentiary for five years. He was a member of a band of armed outlaws operating in Cagayan province, Luzon.

The orders also contain the acquittal of Colonel James S. Pettit, Thirty-first volunteer infantry, who was charged with being responsible for the death of a prisoner named Juan Ramos by turning him over to the presidente of Zamboanga. The findings and the acquittal are disapproved by General MacArthur.

DAVIS SPEAKS IN WEST VIRGINIA.

He Has Been Forced to Decline Hundreds of Invitations.

Chicago, Aug. 14.—Webster Davis on his way to Wheeling, W. Va., was a caller at Democratic headquarters to-day. He speaks at Wheeling to-morrow night, Parkersburg Wednesday night, Charleston Thursday night, Sedalia, Mo., August 21 and Topeka, Kan., August 22. Mr. Davis said that within the past three weeks he had declined 623 invitations.

Ex-Governor William J. Stone, of Missouri, vice chairman of the National committee, was at headquarters to-day for the first time in several weeks and was in consultation with Chairman Jones for an hour or more. W. A. De Ford, chief of the bureau of organization, has returned from Ohio and was of the opinion that Ohio will cast its electoral vote for Bryan and Stevenson in November.

NEARER TO PEKIN.

33 MILES DISTANT THURSDAY.

Chaffee in a Dispatch Said They Were at Ho Si Wu That Day—At Apparent Marching Rate, Ought to Be at Least Very Near.

London, Aug. 14.—The Shanghai correspondent of The Daily Express wiring Aug. 13, said: "The allies at noon Saturday were within 20 miles of Pekin."

Washington, Aug. 14.—The American commander in chief in a dispatch of just three words, received at the war department, sent a thrill of excitement and expectancy throughout official quarters by announcing his arrival at Ho Si Wu, about 33 miles from Pekin, last Thursday. The last heard from him before this was at Yangtun, which had been captured after a hard fight, and word of his movements since then had been eagerly awaited. Thursday he was 18 miles beyond Yangtun, Lang Fang, the place where the ill-fated Seymour expedition met its fate and turned back, had been left behind.

The battle of Yangtun was fought on the 6th, and the advance to Ho Si Wu was accomplished on the 9th—a march of 18 miles in three days. This was four days ago, and at the same rate of progress Chaffee is even now fairly within striking distance of the walls of Pekin. It was a consummation which the war department had awaited calmly, and stirring as the news was that the American force was now nearing the gates of the imperial city, Secretary Root and Adjutant General Corbin evinced no surprise, as it accorded with calculations, although the advance had been more rapid than was expected.

The news of the advance soon spread throughout official quarters. In the enthusiasm of the moment a report got about that this was the day for the actual arrival in Pekin. But the war department had not a word of the advance beyond Ho Si Wu. It was deemed hardly likely that the march to Pekin could have been made since last Tuesday. At the rate of progress, six miles a day, made from Yangtun to Ho Si Wu, about 24 miles would have been covered in the last four days, and up to Monday this would still leave the international forces nine miles from Pekin. Viewed from any standpoint, the advance to Ho Si Wu was of the utmost importance, not only strategically, but also in showing that communication was open to Che Foo, that the expected opposition from Chinese hordes had not been sufficient to prevent the steady forward movement and in the influence it would exert on the Chinese government.

As it had taken about five days for General Chaffee to report the advance to Ho Si Wu it is evident that wire communication is not open to the front. This was hardly to be expected, and the safe arrival of the message at least shows that a certain measure of communication is open.

Russian and British Guns Fired on the Fourteenth by Mistake—Brilliant British-American Charge.

London, Aug. 14.—A Tien Tsin dispatch, dated August 7, giving details regarding the capture of that place, says: "The Russians and French held the left, the British the center, the Americans the right center and the Japanese the extreme right."

"The British and Americans advanced on the village at a rapid rate for 5,000 yards, under a severe shell and rifle fire. The Russians opened and the British-American advance became a race for position, culminating in a brilliant charge. "The heaviest loss of the day was sustained by the Americans, the Fourteenth infantry having nine killed, 62 wounded and several missing. The Bengal Lancers unsuccessfully attempted to cut off the Chinese retreat."

Another Yangtun special says: "Owing to a mistake, British and Russian guns shelled the Fourteenth United States infantry during the night, wounding ten."

DELIVERY OF MINISTERS TO ALLIED FORCES.

Washington, Aug. 14.—The text of the reply to China's proposal to have Li Hung Chang mediate contained the following: "MEMORANDUM."

"Touching the imperial edict of August 8, appointing Li Hung Chang envoy plenipotentiary to conduct negotiations on the part of China with the powers, and the request for a cessation of hostilities pending negotiations, communicated to Mr. Adee by Mr. Wu, on the 12th of August, 1900.

"The government of the United States learns with satisfaction of the appointment of Earl Li Hung Chang as envoy plenipotentiary to conduct negotiations with a desire to continue the friendly relations so long existing between the two countries.

"It is evident that there can be no general negotiation between China and the powers so long as the ministers of the powers and the persons under their protection remain in their present position of restraint and danger, and that the powers cannot cease their efforts for the delivery of these representatives, to which they are constrained by the highest considerations of national honor, except under an arrangement to accomplish a peaceable deliverance.

"We are ready to enter into an agreement between the powers and the Chinese government for a cessation of hostile demonstrations on condition that a sufficient body of forces composing the relief expedition shall be permitted to enter Pekin unmolested and to escort the ministers back to Tien Tsin this movement being provided for and secured by such arrangements and dispositions of troops as shall be considered satisfactory by the generals commanding the forces composing the relief expedition.

"Alvey A. Adee, Acting Secretary, "Department of States, Washington, August 12, 1900."

HANNA ON LYNCHING. Says It Isn't a Matter for a Party to Meddle With.

New York, Aug. 14.—Perhaps the most interesting visitor at the National Republican headquarters to-day was Lillian C. Jewett, the so-called "Joan of Arc" of the anti-lynching league of Boston. Miss Jewett talked with Senator Hanna. When the latter was asked about the matter he replied:

"Poor girl. She wanted the Republican National committee to endorse the anti-lynching league. Of course we could not do it. We all deprecate lynching. I told her that all moral persons and law abiding ones are against lynching. This is not a party matter."

MUST BE NEAR STARVING POINT.

Sir Claude MacDonald, in a Note, Wrote the Situation Was Desperate Unless Relieved, He Also Wrote, a General Massacre Would Follow.

London, Aug. 14.—The British consul at Canton, says The Daily Telegraph's correspondent there, has received the following message, dated August 6, from Sir Claude MacDonald, British minister in Pekin:

"Our situation is desperate. In 10 days our food supply will be at an end. Unless we are relieved a general massacre is probable.

"The Chinese offer to escort us to Tien Tsin, but, remembering Cawnpore, we refuse the offer. There are over 200 European women and children in this legation."

AGUINALDO'S FEARS.

Filipino Chief Never Stays More Than One Night in a Place, It Is Reported.

Washington, Aug. 14.—Copies of Manila papers received at the war department contain a letter purporting to be from a personal friend of Aguinaldo which states that the Filipino chief does not take advantage of the amnesty proclamation because some time ago he gave orders to his followers to break up into guerrilla bands. The amnesty order excepts those who violated the laws of war and Aguinaldo fears that he would be in the excepted class.

The letter is dated at Biac-no-bato, which is said to be the present provisional headquarters of Aguinaldo. It states, however, that Aguinaldo never stays more than one night in a place and only a few hours in any one location. He allows no one to come near him except his most intimate personal friends.

A dispatch in one of the papers dated at San Pedro Maciti states that General Pio del Pilar, who recently surrendered, says he wishes to become a good American citizen, and would like nothing better than to raise a regiment of Filipinos to serve in China.

Copies of orders received at the war department announce the sentence of Jacinto Ebron, a native, who was charged with "insurrection against the government of the United States of America." Ebron was sent to the penitentiary for five years. He was a member of a band of armed outlaws operating in Cagayan province, Luzon.

The orders also contain the acquittal of Colonel James S. Pettit, Thirty-first volunteer infantry, who was charged with being responsible for the death of a prisoner named Juan Ramos by turning him over to the presidente of Zamboanga. The findings and the acquittal are approved by General MacArthur.

DAVIS SPEAKS IN WEST VIRGINIA. He Has Been Forced to Decline Hundreds of Invitations.

Chicago, Aug. 14.—Webster Davis on his way to Wheeling, W. Va., was a caller at Democratic headquarters to-day. He speaks at Wheeling to-morrow night, Parkersburg Wednesday night, Charleston Thursday night, Sedalia, Mo., August 21 and Topeka, Kan., August 22. Mr. Davis said that within the past three weeks he had declined 623 invitations.

Ex-Governor William J. Stone, of Missouri, vice chairman of the National committee, was at headquarters to-day for the first time in several weeks and was in consultation with Chairman Jones for an hour or more. W. A. De Ford, chief of the bureau of organization, has returned from Ohio and was of the opinion that Ohio will cast its electoral vote for Bryan and Stevenson in November.

It is not correct to say that a girl "renders" a song. If she lives long enough to become of some use in the world, she may some day render lard, but she can't render a song.—Atchison Globe.

NEARER TO PEKIN.

Allies Reported 20 Miles Away From Pekin.

83 MILES DISTANT THURSDAY.

Chaffee in a Dispatch Said They Were at Ho Si Wu That Day—At Apparent Marching Rate, Ought to Be at Least Very Near.

London, Aug. 14.—The Shanghai correspondent of The Daily Express wiring Aug. 13, said:

"The allies at noon Saturday were within 20 miles of Pekin."

Washington, Aug. 14.—The American commander in chief in a dispatch of just three words, received at the war department, sent a thrill of excitement and expectancy throughout official quarters by announcing his arrival at Ho Si Wu, about 33 miles from Pekin, last Thursday. The last heard from him before this was at Yangtun, which had been captured after a hard fight, and word of his movements since then had been eagerly awaited. Thursday he was 18 miles beyond Yangtun. Lang Fang, the place where the ill-fated Seymour expedition met its fate and turned back, had been left behind.

The battle of Yangtun was fought on the 6th, and the advance to Ho Si Wu was accomplished on the 9th—a march of 18 miles in three days. This was four days ago, and at the same rate of progress Chaffee is even now fairly within striking distance of the walls of Pekin. It was a consummation which the war department had awaited calmly, and stirring as the news was that the American force was now nearing the gates of the imperial city, Secretary Root and Adjutant General Corbin evinced no surprise, as it accorded with calculations, although the advance had been more rapid than was expected.

The dispatch from Chaffee, conveying so much in a few words, is as follows: Che Foo, Aug. 13.

"Adjutant General, Washington: Tenth arrived Hospiwu (Ho Si Wu) yesterday. Chaffee."

The news of the advance soon spread throughout official quarters. In the enthusiasm of the moment a report got about that this was the day for the actual arrival in Pekin. But the war department had not a word of the advance beyond Ho Si Wu. It was deemed hardly likely that the march to Pekin could have been made since last Thursday. At rate of progress, six miles a day, made from Yangtun to Ho Si Wu, about 24 miles would have been covered in the last four days, and up to Monday this would still leave the international forces nine miles from Pekin. Viewed from any standpoint, the advance to Ho Si Wu was of the utmost importance, not only strategically, but also in showing that communication was open to Che Foo, that the expected opposition from Chinese hordes had not been sufficient to prevent the steady forward movement and in its influence it would exert on the Chinese government.

As it had taken about five days for General Chaffee to report the advance to Ho Si Wu it is evident that wire communication is not open to the front. This was hardly to be expected, and the safe arrival of the message at least shows that a certain measure of communication is open.

Russian and British Guns Fired on the Fourteenth by Mistake—Brilliant British-American Charge.

London, Aug. 14.—A Tien Tsin dispatch, dated August 7, giving details regarding the capture of that place, says: "The Russians and French held the left, the British the center, the Americans the right center and the Japanese the extreme right."

"The British and Americans advanced on the village at a rapid rate for 5,000 yards, under a severe shell and rifle fire. The Russians opened and the British-American advance became a race for position, culminating in a brilliant charge. "The heaviest loss of the day was sustained by the Americans, the Fourteenth infantry having nine killed, 63 wounded and several missing. The Bengal Lancers unsuccessfully attempted to cut off the Chinese retreat."

Another Yangtun special says: "Owing to a mistake, British and Russian guns shelled the Fourteenth United States infantry during the night, wounding ten."

DELIVERY OF MINISTERS TO ALLIED FORCES.

Washington, Aug. 14.—The text of the reply to China's proposal to have Li Hung Chang mediate contained the following: "MEMORANDUM."

"Touching the imperial edict of August 3, appointing Li Hung Chang envoy plenipotentiary to conduct negotiations on the part of China with the powers, and the request for a cessation of hostilities pending negotiations, communicated to Mr. Adee by Mr. Wu, on 12th of August, 1900."

"The government of the United States learns with satisfaction of the appointment of Earl Li Hung Chang as envoy plenipotentiary to conduct negotiations with a desire to continue the friendly relations so long existing between the two countries."

"It is evident that there can be no general negotiation between China and the powers so long as the ministers of the powers and the persons under their protection remain in their present position of restraint and danger, and that the powers cannot cease their efforts for the delivery of these representatives, to which they are constrained by the highest considerations of national honor, except under an arrangement to accomplish a peaceable deliverance.

"We are ready to enter into an agreement between the powers and the Chinese government for a cessation of hostile demonstrations on condition that a sufficient body of forces composing the relief expedition shall be permitted to enter Pekin unmolested and to escort the ministers back to Tien Tsin this movement being provided for and secured by such arrangements and dispositions of troops as shall be considered satisfactory by the generals commanding the forces composing the relief expedition."

"Alvey A. Adee, Acting Secretary, Department of States, Washington, August 12, 1900."

HANNA ON LYNCHING.

Says It Isn't a Matter for a Party to Meddle With.

New York, Aug. 14.—Perhaps the most interesting visitor at the National Republican headquarters to-day was Lillian C. Jewett, the so-called "Joan of Arc" of the anti-lynching league of Boston. Miss Jewett talked with Senator Hanna. When the latter was asked about the matter he replied: "Poor girl. She wanted the Republican National committee to indorse the anti-lynching league. Of course we could not do it. We all deprecate lynching. I told her that all moral persons and law-abiding ones are against lynching. This is not a party matter."

NEARLY OUT OF FOOD.

Aug. 6, Besieged Had to More Days' Supplies.

MUST BE NEAR STARVING POINT.

Sir Claude MacDonald, in a Note, Wrote the Situation Was Desperate Unless Relieved, He Also Wrote, a General Massacre Would Follow.

London, Aug. 14.—The British consul at Canton, says The Daily Telegraph's correspondent there, has received the following message, dated August 6, from Sir Claude MacDonald, British minister in Pekin:

"Our situation is desperate. In 10 days our food supply will be at an end. Unless we are relieved a general massacre is probable."

"The Chinese offer to escort us to Tien Tsin, but, remembering Canton, we refuse the offer. There are over 200 European women and children in this legation."

AGUINALDO'S FEARS.

Philippine Chief Never Stays More Than One Night in a Place, It Is Reported.

Washington, Aug. 14.—Copies of Manila papers received at the war department contain a letter purporting to be from a personal friend of Aguinaldo which states that the Filipino chief does not take advantage of the amnesty proclamation because some time ago he gave orders to his followers to break up into guerrilla bands. The amnesty order excepts those who violated the laws of war and Aguinaldo fears that he would be in the excepted class.

The letter is dated at Biac-no-bato, which is said to be the present provisional headquarters of Aguinaldo. It states, however, that Aguinaldo never stays more than one night in a place and only a few hours in any one location. He allows no one to come near him except his most intimate personal friends.

A dispatch in one of the papers dated at San Pedro Macuti states that General Pio del Pilar, who recently surrendered, says he wishes to become a good American citizen, and would like nothing better than to raise a regiment of Filipinos to serve in China.

Copies of orders received at the war department announce the sentence of Jacinto Ebron, a native, who was charged with "insurrection against the government of the United States of America." Ebron was sent to the penitentiary for five years. He was a member of a band of armed outlaws operating in Cagayan province, Luzon.

The orders also contain the acquittal of Colonel James S. Pettit, Thirty-first volunteer infantry, who was charged with being responsible for the death of a prisoner named Juan Ramos by turning him over to the president of Zamboanga. The findings and the acquittal are disapproved by General MacArthur.

DAVIS SPEAKS IN WEST VIRGINIA.

He Has Been Forced to Decline Hundreds of Invitations.

Chicago, Aug. 14.—Webster Davis on his way to Wheeling, W. Va., was a caller at Democratic headquarters to-day. He speaks at Wheeling to-morrow night, Parkersburg Wednesday night, Charleston Thursday night, Sedalia, Mo., August 21 and Topeka, Kan., August 23. Mr. Davis said that within the past three weeks he had declined 623 invitations.

Ex-Governor William J. Stone, of Missouri, vice chairman of the National committee, was at headquarters to-day for the first time in several weeks and was in consultation with Chairman Jones for an hour or more. W. A. De Ford, chief of the bureau of organization, has returned from Ohio and was of the opinion that Ohio will cast its electoral vote for Bryan and Stevenson in November.

OHIO IN CONGRESS FROM 1803 TO 1901.

JOSEPH W. WHITE

Of Guernsey county served but a single term in congress, having been elected to the Thirty-eighth in 1862 from the Sixteenth district, made up of the counties of Guernsey, Belmont, Noble, Harrison and Tuscarawas. He was born in Harrison county in 1822, and died in Guernsey county in 1892. He was a lawyer by profession.

JAMES A. GARFIELD.

James Abram Garfield was the third member of congress from Ohio elected to the presidency. He was born in Orange, Cuyahoga county, Ohio, Nov. 19, 1831, and died in Elberon, N. J., Sept. 19, 1881, the result of a murderous shot fired by the assassin Guiteau, July 2, 1881. His remains lie buried in Lake View cemetery, Cleveland.

"He made his way" in life, and rose to distinction through his own efforts and indomitable will. When a boy he worked on a canal boat as a driver and spent his leisure hours in study. At the time he was in the employ of Governor Tod. In 1849 he entered the Geauga seminary at Chester, and supported himself by doing odd jobs as a carpenter's or blacksmith's helper, as opportunity offered. During vacations he did farm and other manual labor, and occasionally taught school.

He entered Hiram college in 1851, and Williams college in 1854, from which he graduated in 1856. He was ordained a minister in the Campbellite church, and after his graduation taught Greek and Latin in Hiram college, and subsequently became its president. He read law with Albert Gallatin Riddle at Cleveland and was admitted to the bar in 1858. He was elected to the senate of the Fifty-fourth general assembly from the Twenty-sixth Senatorial district, Portage and Summit counties, in 1859.

At the breaking out of the civil war he was commissioned lieutenant colonel of the Forty-second Ohio Volunteer Infantry, and had a brilliant military career, having been made a major general by successive promotions. He participated in the actions at Middle Creek, Ky., Shiloh, Corinth, Chickamauga and many other minor engagements, in all of which he distinguished himself. He resigned his military commission Dec. 3, 1863, to take his seat in congress. His health had been shattered, and his friends, without solicitation on his part, had elected him to the national house.

He was elected as a Republican, and at once became a conspicuous figure on the floor of the house, delivering a forceful speech a few weeks after entering the body. His oratory was of a high order, and his arguments were strong and often unanswerable by his opponents.

He was elected in 1862 to the Thirty-eighth congress from the Nineteenth district, Portage, Trumbull, Geauga and Ashtabula counties. He was elected to the Thirty-ninth, Fortieth, Forty-first and Forty-second from the same constituency. In 1872 the Nineteenth district was made up of Portage, Ashtabula, Trumbull, Lake and Geauga, and he was chosen to the Forty-third, Forty-fourth, Forty-fifth and Forty-sixth, always by overwhelming majorities.

During his eighteen years of continuous service in congress he served on all of the important committees of the house, and was, at different times, chairman of the committees on military affairs, banking and currency, ways and means and others. In 1876 he was chosen a member of the electoral commission which settled the disputed presidential succession between Rutherford B. Hayes and Samuel J. Tilden, and was one of the eight out of fifteen voting to seat the former.

On the 13th of January, 1880, he was elected United States senator by the legislature, but renounced the office before the beginning of the term to accept the presidential nomination, and at the November election of that year he was elected president over Major General Winfield S. Hancock.

In March, 1881, shortly after his inauguration, a bitter controversy was precipitated between his administration and Senators Platt and Conkling of New York, over the appointment of William H. Robertson as collector of the port of New York, and the two senators resigned, as a protest, and both stood for re-election and both were defeated, thus indorsing President Garfield's action. Inter-party bitterness rose to a dangerous degree, which culminated on the 2d day of July, 1881, when a probably insane partisan named Guiteau fired a pistol shot into the president in the railway station building at Washington, inflicting fatal injuries. He lingered in great agony until the 19th of September, when he died of blood poisoning.

This being the second president assassinated, the horror and indignation of the entire nation knew no bounds, and when he died, all party lines and divisions were washed out by the great flood of national grief.

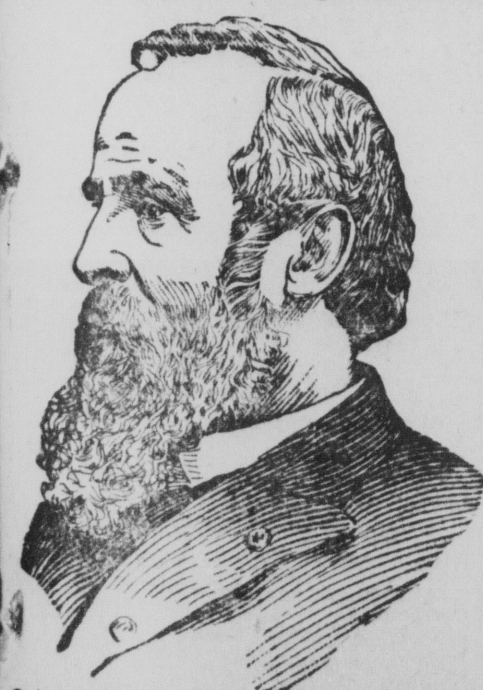

RUTHERFORD B. HAYES.

Rutherford Birchard Hayes was the second member of congress from Ohio to be elected to the presidential office. He was born in Delaware, Ohio, Oct. 4, 1822. His father, Rutherford Hayes, migrated from Vermont to Ohio in 1817, and engaged in merchandising in Delaware, but died in 1822.

The younger Hayes removed with his mother to Fremont, or Lower Sandusky, in 1827, where he helped to support himself, and secured the rudiments of an education, and later attended the Norwalk academy. He entered Kenyon college and was graduated in 1840. He immediately fitted himself for entrance into the law school at Harvard, from which he graduated in 1845. He was a Republican in politics, and became a leader of his party in the state.

He was admitted to the bar at Marietta in 1845, and began the practice at Fremont in 1846 as the partner of General Ralph P. Buckland. In 1849 he removed to Cincinnati, where he quickly rose to eminence in the legal profession. He was city solicitor of Cincinnati from 1858 to 1861.

At the outbreak of the civil war a military company was formed from the membership of the Literary club of the Queen City and Hayes was chosen captain. His company was assigned to the Twenty-third regiment, Ohio Volunteer infantry, and he was commissioned major.

He did gallant service in Virginia and West Virginia, and his regiment participated in nearly all the important actions in the Shenandoah valley under General Sheridan, including the battles of South Mountain, Winchester, Cloyd's Mountain, Fisher's Hill and Cedar Creek. In the meantime he was promoted to the command of the regiment. General Adam Badeau, of General Grant's staff, in his Military History of Grant says of Colonel Hayes:

"For gallant and meritorious service in the battles of Winchester, Fisher's Hill and Cedar Creek, Colonel Hayes was promoted to the rank of brigadier general of volunteers, and brevetted major general for gallant and distinguished service during the campaign of 1864, in West Virginia, and particularly in the battles of Fisher's Hill and Cedar Creek."

He commanded his brigade for more than two years. In 1864 he was elected to the Thirty-ninth congress from the Second district, a part of Hamilton county, and in 1866 was re-elected from the same district to the Fortieth. While in congress he served on a number of the leading committees of the house, and his counsel was eagerly sought after by his party leaders on all perplexing questions.

He was nominated for congress in 1872, against his protests, and was defeated by his Democratic opponent, Henry B. Banning, in the Second district. In 1873, after his defeat, he removed from Cincinnati to Fremont, where he had inherited considerable property, and there he continued to reside during the remainder of his life.

In 1857 he was the Republican candidate for governor of Ohio, and was elected over Allen G. Thurman, Democrat, by a vote of 243,605 to 240,622. In 1869 he was again the Republican candidate for governor, and was elected over George H. Pendleton, Democrat, by a vote of 236,082 to 228,576. In 1875 he was the Republican candidate for governor, and defeated William Allen, Democrat, by a vote of 297,817 to 292,273.

It is a coincidence that General Hayes was the only man elected three times to the office of governor during the century, and on each occasion he was elected over a man who was a United States senator, Allen previous to, and Thurman and Pendleton subsequent to the gubernatorial election. When Thurman was defeated in 1867, a Democratic legislature was chosen, which elected him to the senate.

In 1876 General Hayes was the Republican candidate for president, and carried Ohio over Samuel J. Tilden of New York by a vote of 330,698 to 323,182. He was nominated on the seventh ballot in the national Republican convention which met in Cincinnati, Ohio, June 14, 1876.

In accepting this nomination Mr. Hayes pledged himself, from patriotic motives, to the one-term principle, and in these words:

"Believing that the restoration of the civil service to the system established by Washington and followed by the early presidents can be best accomplished by an executive who is under no temptation to use the patronage of his office to promote his own re-election, I desire to perform what I regard as a duty in now stating my inflexible purpose, if elected, not to be a candidate for election to a second term."

A bitter and threatening controversy arose over the election, which required the wisest and most conciliatory statesmanship to adjust, so as to avert civil commotion. In a letter to Senator John Sherman, Nov. 27, 1876, Governor Hayes said: "You feel, I am sure, as I do about this whole business. A fair election would have given us about 40 electoral votes—at least that many. But we are not to allow our friends to defeat one outrage and fraud by another. There must be nothing crooked on our part. Let Mr. Tilden have the place by violence, intimidation and fraud, rather than undertake to prevent it by means that will not bear the severest scrutiny."

The canvassing board of Louisiana, Florida and South Carolina declared Republican electors chosen, and certificates of these results were sent by the governors of those states to Washington. Governor Hayes had a majority of one in the electoral college. But the Democrats charged fraud, and certificates declaring the Democratic electors elected were sent to Washington. The house (Democratic) and the senate (Republican) then concurred in an act providing for a commission composed of five representatives, five senators and five judges of the supreme court, to have final jurisdiction. The commission refused to go behind the certificates of the governors, and by a vote of eight to seven declared in favor of the Republican electors, and President Hayes was inaugurated March 5, 1877.

The administration of President Hayes, although unsatisfactory to machine politicians, was a wise and conservative one, meeting with the approval of the people at large. By the withdrawal of Federal troops and restoration of self-government to the southern states, it prepared the way for a revival of patriotism and the remarkable material development that ensued.

After leaving the presidency Mr. Hayes lived in quiet retirement at Fremont. He was identified with the management of numerous educational institutions and the public benefactions of the state. He died at Fremont.

President Hayes resigned from the Fortieth congress in 1867 to become governor, and was succeeded by General Samuel F. Carey; and resigned the governorship in 1877 to become president, and was succeeded by Thomas L. Young, the lieutenant governor.

THE CRIMINAL CUCKOO.

He is the One Exception to the Kindly Nature of Birds.

Bad temper and cruelty are perhaps the most obvious signs of mental degeneration in the beasts. The larger monkeys, for instance, become as bad tempered as a violent man when they grow old, and many in their treatment of other animals are cruel as we use the word in regard to man. Among the carnivorous beasts the cat amuses itself by torturing a mouse, and the weasel tribe kill for sheer love of killing. No such cruelty is seen among eagles or falcons. Fierce as their tempers are, they do not torment other birds which they catch or kill for killing's sake. Good temper is general among birds.

Except the cuckoo, such a thing as an ill tempered wild bird is unknown. Nowhere in the race can a temper like that of the Tasmanian devil or the wild hunting dog or the Cape buffalo or the baboon be found. Even those which in spring are thieves and egg robbers are not mauvais coucheurs at other times. Good temper and good fellowship in society, a personal affection to each other to which the beasts offer no parallel, industry and independence, intense devotion and foresight in tending their young, with other very human and engaging traits of character, must all be credited to the race of birds.

Among these kindly and simple natures the cuckoo is a monster. Let there be no mistake on this subject. He unites in his life and character, from the egg to the adult bird, practices and principles to which the whole race of warm blooded animals offers no parallel. He is an outrage on the moral law of bird life, something so flagrant and so utterly foreign to the way of thought of these kindly beings that if he did not exist he would be inconceivable. It is not merely that he is a supplanter and a changeling. His whole nature is so evil that in the world of birds he is an incarnation of the principle of ill, an embodiment of vices which would if understood or adopted by other birds put an end to the existence of the race.—London Spectator.

OHIO IN CONGRESS FROM 1803 TO 1901.

JOSEPH W. WHITE

Of Guernsey county served but a single term in congress, having been elected to the Thirty-eighth in 1862 from the Sixteenth district, made up of the counties of Guernsey, Belmont, Noble, Harrison and Tuscarawas. He was born in Harrison county in 1822, and died in Guernsey county in 1892. He was a lawyer by profession.

JAMES A. GARFIELD.

James Abram Garfield was the third member of congress from Ohio elected to the presidency. He was born in Orange, Cuyahoga county, Ohio, Nov. 19, 1831, and died in Elberon, N. J., Sept. 19, 1881, the result of a murderous shot fired by the assassin Guiteau, July 2, 1881. His remains lie buried in Lake View cemetery, Cleveland.

"He made his way" in life, and rose to distinction through his own efforts and indomitable will. When a boy he worked on a canal boat as a driver and spent his leisure hours in study. At the time he was in the employ of Governor Tod. In 1849 he entered the Geauga seminary at Chester, and supported himself by doing odd jobs as a carpenter's or blacksmith's helper, as opportunity offered. During vacations he did farm and other manual labor, and occasionally taught school.

He entered Hiram college in 1851, and Williams college in 1854, from which he graduated in 1856. He was ordained a minister in the Campbellite church, and after his graduation taught Greek and Latin in Hiram college, and subsequently became its president. He read law with Albert Gallatin Riddle at Cleveland and was admitted to the bar in 1858. He was elected to the senate of the Fifty-fourth general assembly from the Twenty-sixth Senatorial district, Portage and Summit counties, in 1859.

At the breaking out of the civil war he was commissioned lieutenant colonel of the Forty-second Ohio Volunteer Infantry, and had a brilliant military career, having been made a major general by successive promotions. His health had been shattered, and his friends, without solicitation on his part, had elected him to the national house.

He was elected as a Republican, and at once became a conspicuous figure on the floor of the house, delivering a forceful speech a few weeks after entering the body. His oratory was of a high order, and his arguments were strong and often unanswerable by his opponents.

He was elected in 1862 to the Thirty-eighth congress from the Nineteenth district, Portage, Trumbull, Geauga and Ashtabula counties. He was elected to the Thirty-ninth, Fortieth, Forty-first and Forty-second from the same constituency. In 1872 the Nineteenth district was made up of Portage, Ashtabula, Trumbull, Lake and Geauga, and he was chosen to the Forty-third, Forty-fourth, Forty-fifth and Forty-sixth, always by overwhelming majorities.

During his eighteen years of continuous service in congress he served on all of the important committees of the house, and was, at different times, chairman of the committees on military affairs, banking and currency, ways and means and others. In 1876 he was chosen a member of the electoral commission which settled the disputed presidential succession between Rutherford B. Hayes and Samuel J. Tilden, and was one of the eight out of fifteen voting to seat the former.

On the 13th of January, 1880, he was elected United States senator by the legislature, but renounced the office before the beginning of the term to accept the presidential nomination, and at the November election of that year he was elected president over Major General Winfield S. Hancock.

In March, 1881, shortly after his inauguration, a bitter controversy was precipitated between his administration and Senators Platt and Conkling of New York, over the appointment of William H. Robertson as collector of the port of New York, and the two senators resigned, as a protest, and both stood for re-election and both were defeated, thus endorsing President Garfield's action. Inter-party bitterness rose to a dangerous degree, which culminated on the 2d day of July, 1881, when a probably insane partisan named Guiteau fired a pistol shot into the president in the railway station building at Washington, inflicting fatal injuries. He lingered in great agony until the 19th of September, when he died of blood poisoning.

This being the second president assassinated, the horror and indignation of the entire nation knew no bounds, and when he died, all party lines and divisions were washed out by the great flood of national grief.

RUTHERFORD B. HAYES.

Rutherford Birchard Hayes was the second member of congress from Ohio to be elected to the presidential office. He was born in Delaware, Ohio, Oct. 4, 1822. His father, Rutherford Hayes, migrated from Vermont to Ohio in 1817, and engaged in merchandising in Delaware, but died in 1822.

The younger Hayes removed with his mother to Fremont, or Lower Sandusky, in 1827, where he helped to support himself, and secured the rudiments of an education, and later attended the Norwalk academy. He entered Kenyon college and was graduated in 1840. He immediately fitted himself for entrance into the law school at Harvard, from which he graduated in 1845. He was a Republican in politics, and became a leader of his party in the state.

He was admitted to the bar at Marietta in 1845, and began the practice at Fremont in 1846 as the partner of General Ralph P. Buckland. In 1849 he removed to Cincinnati, where he quickly rose to eminence in the legal profession. He was city solicitor of Cincinnati from 1858 to 1861.

At the outbreak of the civil war a military company was formed from the membership of the Literary club of the Queen City and Hayes was chosen captain. His company was assigned to the Twenty-third regiment, Ohio Volunteer infantry, and he was commissioned major.

He did gallant service in Virginia and West Virginia, and his regiment participated in nearly all the important actions in the Shenandoah valley under General Sheridan, including the battles of South Mountain, Winchester, Cloyd's Mountain, Fisher's Hill and Cedar Creek. In the meantime he was promoted to the command of the regiment. General Adam Badeau, of General Grant's staff, in his Military History of Grant says of Colonel Hayes:

"For gallant and meritorious service in the battles of Winchester, Fisher's Hill and Cedar Creek, Colonel Hayes was promoted to the rank of brigadier general of volunteers, and brevetted major general for gallant and distinguished service during the campaign of 1864, in West Virginia, and particularly in the battles of Fisher's Hill and Cedar Creek."

He commanded his brigade for more than two years. In 1864 he was elected to the Thirty-ninth congress from the Second district, a part of Hamilton county, and in 1866 was re-elected from the same district to the Fortieth. While in congress he served on a number of the leading committees of the house, and his counsel was eagerly sought after by his party leaders on all perplexing questions.

He was nominated for congress in 1872, against his protests, and was defeated by his Democratic opponent, Henry B. Banning, in the Second district. In 1873, after his defeat, he removed from Cincinnati to Fremont, where he had inherited considerable property, and there he continued to reside during the remainder of his life.

In 1867 he was the Republican candidate for governor of Ohio, and was elected over Allen G. Thurman, Democrat, by a vote of 243,605 to 240,622. In 1869 he was again the Republican candidate for governor, and was elected over George H. Pendleton, Democrat, by a vote of 236,082 to 228,576. In 1875 he was the Republican candidate for governor, and defeated William Allen, Democrat, by a vote of 297,817 to 292,273.

It is a coincidence that General Hayes was the only man elected three times to the office of governor during the century, and on each occasion he was elected over a man who was a United States senator, Allen previous to, and Thurman and Pendleton subsequent to the gubernatorial election. When Thurman was defeated in 1867, a Democratic legislature was chosen, which elected him to the senate.

In 1876 General Hayes was the Republican candidate for president, and carried Ohio over Samuel J. Tilden of New York by a vote of 330,698 to 323,182. He was nominated on the seventh ballot in the national Republican convention which met in Cincinnati, Ohio, June 14, 1876.

In accepting this nomination Mr. Hayes pledged himself, from patriotic motives, to the one-term principle, and in these words:

"Believing that the restoration of the civil service to the system established by Washington and followed by the early presidents can be best accomplished by an executive who is under no temptation to use the patronage of his office to promote his own re-election, I desire to perform what I regard as a duty in now stating my inflexible purpose, if elected, not to be a candidate for election to a second term."

A bitter and threatening controversy arose over the election, which required the wisest and most conciliatory statesmanship to adjust, so as to avert civil commotion. In a letter to Senator John Sherman, Nov. 27, 1876, Governor Hayes said: "You feel, I am sure, as I do about this whole business. A fair election would have given us about 40 electoral votes—at least that many. But we are not to allow our friends to defeat one outrage and fraud by another. There must be nothing crooked on our part. Let Mr. Tilden have the place by violence, intimidation and fraud, rather than undertake to prevent it by means that will not bear the severest scrutiny."

The canvassing board of Louisiana, Florida and South Carolina declared Republican electors chosen, and certificates of these results were sent by the governors of those states to Washington. Governor Hayes had a majority of one in the electoral college. But the Democrats charged fraud, and certificates declaring the Democratic electors elected were sent to Washington. The house (Democratic) and the senate (Republican) then concurred in an act providing for a commission composed of five representatives, five senators and five judges of the supreme court, to have final jurisdiction. The commission refused to go behind the certificates of the governors, and by a vote of eight to seven declared in favor of the Republican electors, and President Hayes was inaugurated March 5, 1877.

The administration of President Hayes, although unsatisfactory to machine politicians, was a wise and conservative one, meeting with the approval of the people at large. By the withdrawal of Federal troops and restoration of self-government to the southern states, it prepared the way for a revival of patriotism and the remarkable material development that ensued.

After leaving the presidency Mr. Hayes lived in quiet retirement at Fremont. He was identified with the management of numerous educational institutions and the public benefactions of the state. He died at Fremont.

President Hayes resigned from the Fortieth congress in 1867 to become governor, and was succeeded by General Samuel F. Carey; and resigned the governorship in 1877 to become president, and was succeeded by Thomas L. Young, the lieutenant governor.

TO BE CONTINUED.

THE CRIMINAL CUCKOO.

He is the One Exception to the Kindly Nature of Birds.

Bad temper and cruelty are perhaps the most obvious signs of mental degeneration in the beasts. The larger monkeys, for instance, become as bad tempered as a violent man when they grow old, and many in their treatment of other animals are cruel as we use the word in regard to man. Among the carnivorous beasts the cat amuses itself by torturing a mouse, and the weasel tribe kill for sheer love of killing. No such cruelty is seen among eagles or falcons. Fierce as their tempers are, they do not torment other birds which they catch or kill for killing's sake. Good temper is general among birds.

Except the cuckoo, such a thing as an ill tempered wild bird is unknown. Nowhere in the race can a temper like that of the Tasmanian devil or the wild hunting dog or the Cape buffalo or the baboon be found. Even those which in spring are thieves and egg robbers are not mauvais coucheurs at other times. Good temper and good fellowship in society, a personal affection to each other to which the beasts offer no parallel, industry and independence, intense devotion and foresight in tending their young, with other very human and engaging traits of character, must all be credited to the race of birds.

Among these kindly and simple natures the cuckoo is a monster. Let there be no mistake on this subject. He unites in his life and character, from the egg to the adult bird, practices and principles to which the whole race of warm blooded animals offers no parallel. He is an outrage on the moral law of bird life, something so flagrant and so utterly foreign to the way of thought of these kindly beings that if he did not exist he would be inconceivable. It is not merely that he is a supplanter and a changeling. His whole nature is so evil that in the world of birds he is an incarnation of the principle of ill, an embodiment of vices which would if understood or adopted by other birds put an end to the existence of the race.—London Spectator.

Oriental Punishments.

The heathen Chinese deems the desecration of graves one of the most unpardonable of crimes, and, according to law, any man finding another in the act of robbing a graveyard may legally kill the villain on the spot without fear of consequences.

If a Turkish baker palms off a loaf of bread on you that is proved to be of less weight than it is represented, you can instruct a policeman to nail the defaulter by one of his ears to the door of his shop so as to be in full view of the passersby. The poor wretch will then be provided with a sharp dagger or knife, with which he can cut himself free so soon as he can summon up the necessary courage required for the operation of self maiming.

In many of the oriental countries, where precious stones are looked upon as well nigh sacred objects, it is no uncommon thing for a jewel robber to be punished with death. In Tibet the penalty for falling from your horse when taking part in any military operations or public athletics is death.

One writer recalls how he saw a man shot in Montenegro for appearing at a review wearing a stained uniform.

Sacrificed the Mustache.

Thomas B. Reed at one time wore a mustache of a few straggling hairs, so often seen on the upper lip of extremely fleshy men. How Mr. Reed parted with his hirsute apology can best be told by a certain barber in the house of representatives who attended the gentleman's wants:

"One day the big man from Maine settled himself in the barber's chair and requested a shave. When the operation was completed, Mr. Reed straightened himself and asked, 'Have you any of that old fashioned pomade to wax mustaches with?'"

"The barber hustled among his pots and jars and produced a French preparation in vogue a quarter of a century ago and then proceeded to wax the ends of the Maine statesman's few wirelike hairs.

"When the man of snapshot sentences arose and contemplated himself in the glass, he turned to the astonished barber and said, 'Cut this blanked blank mustache off, for you have made me look like a confounded catfish.'"—New England Home Magazine.

A Unique River.

Unique in its kind is no doubt the Mocona waterfall in the South American republic of Uruguay, situated about two miles below the mouth of the Pileri Assu river into the Uruguay. A great rock divides the river into two separate streams in such a manner that the right arm continues its flow on the original level, while the second arm falls gradually, so that it finally lies 22 feet below the level of the other arm. The bed of the upper part of the river is not very deep, and the water flows partly in a right angle to the river, thus forming a waterfall of more than two miles in length.

This unique view presents itself to the traveler, however, only during the winter, for in the summer, and especially during the rainy season, the Uruguay contains such immense quantities of water that both arms form one single stream, navigable even for the largest freight steamers. The fall has been known for centuries, and a description of it was published as early as 1691 by the Rev. Antonius Sepp, a missionary from Tyrol, who spent over 20 years among the Indians of Uruguay.

Man Compared.

If man grew as fast in proportion as a silkworm, he would be bigger than an elephant in two months. If he could navigate as fast in proportion as the average house fly, he could cross the Atlantic and back in the time it takes him to eat his breakfast. If he had as many eyes in proportion as the butterfly, he would have 40,000, to say nothing of an extra pair in his head for skylights. If he could spring as far in proportion as the spider, he could jump over the tallest tree in California, and it wouldn't bother him in the least. Man isn't the whole thing after all.—Freepress Journal.

DEATH IN THE VIAL.

THE FIFTH TABLET CARRIED A DOSE THAT WAS FATAL.

Why the Doctor Had a Premonition That Misfortune Had Overtaken a Wealthy Planter—How the Story of the Crime Leaked Out.

The story was told by a police commissioner of another city who was in New Orleans recently on a visit.

"The most ingenious murder I ever knew anything about," he said, "was committed by a young physician. He was a rising practitioner at a place where I formerly lived, and, with your permission, I will speak of him simply as Dr. Smith.

"About a dozen years ago, as nearly as I remember, this young man went on a visit to a relative in a neighboring city, and one afternoon, on the third or fourth day of his stay, he startled a lady member of the household by remarking that he 'had a feeling' that some misfortune had overtaken a wealthy planter whom they both knew very well, and whom I will call Colonel Jones. The colonel was a prominent resident of the doctor's home town and had a large outlying estate, which he was in the habit of visiting once a week.

"On the day of Smith's singular premonition he was on one of those tours of inspection, but failed to come back, and the following morning his corpse was found lying in a cornfield. He had evidently been dead about 24 hours, and from the appearance of the body seemed to have been seized with some sort of fit or convulsion.

"Of course the affair created a great stir, and the police made a pretty thorough investigation, but the only thing they found that merited any special attention was a small, round vial in the dead man's vest pocket. It was about the diameter of a lead pencil by four inches long, and had originally contained a couple of dozen medicinal tablets, which, lying one on top of the other, filled the little bottle to the cork. A few still remained in the bottom.

"Upon inquiry it was learned without trouble that the tablets were a harmless preparation of soda, and that Jones himself had bought them at a local drug store. That ended suspicion in that quarter, and, for lack of anything better, the coroner returned a verdict of death from sunstroke. There was no autopsy.

"Some time after Jones had been buried," continued the police commissioner, "I learned accidentally of Dr. Smith's curious prophecy, and it set me to thinking. Eventually I evolved a theory, but it was impossible at the time to sustain it with proof, and for five or six years I kept it pigeonholed in my brain, waiting for something to happen. Meanwhile, to everybody's surprise, Dr. Smith went to the dogs. He began by drinking heavily, gradually lost his practice, and finally skipped out to avoid prosecution for cashing a fake draft. After his flight I learned enough to absolutely confirm my theory as to Jones' death. What had really happened was this:

"Dr. Smith owed the old man a considerable sum of money and had given a note, upon which he had forged his father's name as indorser. The planter was pressing him for payment and had threatened suit, which meant inevitable exposure. One day, while they were conversing, Jones pulled out a little glass vial and swallowed one of the tablets it contained, remarking that he took one daily, after dinner, for sour stomach.

"That suggested a diabolical scheme of assassination, which the doctor proceeded to put into execution. Repairing to his office, he made up a duplicate tablet of strychnine, and, encountering the colonel next day, asked him to let him have the vial for a moment, so he could copy the address of the makers from the label.

"Jones handed it over unsuspectingly, and while his attention was briefly diverted elsewhere Smith put in the prepared tablet. He placed it under the top four, thus making it reasonably certain that his victim would take it on the fifth day from that date. Next morning he left town, so as to be far away when the tragedy was consummated, and some mysterious, uncontrollable impulse evidently led him to make the prediction that first excited my suspicion.

"When I made certain of all this, I located Smith in Oklahoma and was on the point of applying for an extradition warrant when he anticipated me

by contracting pneumonia and dying. I thereupon returned the case to its mental pigeonhole, where it has remained ever since."

"It is absolutely true," replied the narrator.

"But how did you learn the particulars?"

"Well," said the police commissioner, smiling, "Smith was like most clever criminals—he had one weak spot. He was fool enough to tell a woman. She blabbed."—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

Little Prominence Given to International Monetary Situation—Fifful Spurts of Activity in Stocks.

New York, Aug. 14.—The international monetary situation was given inconsiderable prominence in Wall street Monday through the engagement of $5,500,000 gold for export to Europe today and tomorrow. It is admitted that $5,000,000 of this amount is in payment for the British exchequer loan, a 20 per cent installment being due tomorrow. Concessions in rates for sterling bills were made, demand sterling yielding 1-4 per cent, while posted rates were off 1-2 per cent. No effect was produced on the local money market by the gold engagements Monday, which bring the total outgo of gold on this movement up to $14,000,000. It is expected that the circulation of this sum in the European financial centers will produce a relaxation of the tension there. Except for a brief interval when the early gold engagements were made, stock prices improve steadily, with the gains quite uniform in a number of issues. There were fitful spurts of activity, and at intervals the strength was most marked in special groups. High-priced specialties gave the first indication of strength, but were soon relegated to the background when the metal stocks forged upward. Later on the grangers responded notably to the more cheerful crop advices, rain being reported in sections of the corn belt, where it was much needed. A large batch of favorable weekly earnings contributed some force to the rise in prices. In special stocks exceptional gains were made, a jump of 7 points in Lead preferred being made with as little explanation as the recent drop in that issue. In Lackawanna there was a steady demand, which eventually carried it up 5 points and strengthened other coalers. Industrial stocks suffered from the increased interest shown in railroad properties. Sugar closed under Saturday's final price after early strength. In the final dealings there was some diminution in the volume of business, but no impairment of the market's strength.

Business in railroad bonds continued small but a firm tone was evident. Total sales, par value, $480,000. U. S. ref. 2s, when issued and new 4s advanced 1-2, the 5s 8-3 and 3s 1-4 per cent in the bid price.

Chicago Grain and Provisions.

Chicago, Aug. 14.—Damages from heavy rains in the northwest, combined with a moderate cash business, caused a recovery from early weakness in wheat today. September closing a shade under Saturday. September corn closed 5-8c down because of rains, September oats 1-8c depressed and the provisions market a shade to 5c lower.

Professor Keeler Dead.

San Francisco, Aug. 14.—Professor James Edward Keeler, chief astronomer of the Lick observatory, who died yesterday afternoon, had been suffering for some time from heart trouble, to which pneumonia was added in the past few days. Prof. Keeler left Highland Springs, where he had been recuperating, last week, intent upon securing medical aid in this city. On his way here he suffered a stroke of apoplexy, from which he did not rally. He was taken to the hospital in a precarious condition at noon yesterday.

Missionary McBurney Safe.

Cannonsburg, Pa., Aug. 14.—James H. McBurney, of this place, has received word from his brother, Rev. Elmer McBurney, a missionary to China, stating that he and the other missionaries of the Reformed Presbyterian church had left China and arrived safely in Japan. These missionaries were located in the South of China at Tak Hing Chau, on the West river, about 100 miles from Canton. At the time the missionaries left their post there had been no outbreaks in that part of the empire.

Candidate Woolley Injured.

Chicago, Aug. 14.—John G. Woolley, candidate for President on the Prohibition ticket, is suffering from a painful injury to one of his shoulders, the result of falling down stairs at his home today. Mr. Woolley was starting down the steps from the third floor when his foot slipped on the hardwood floor and he fell headlong.

The man that talks about the newspapers misquoting him is the man that hasn't any good excuse for getting quoted originally.—Chicago Journal.

He Lifted the Ticker.

A London detective visiting Glasgow met a Scotch police official on the street and in the talk that followed spoke contemptuously of the ability of Scotch thieves as compared with the English experts.

Taking this as an aspersion cast on the astuteness of the Scottish police as well, the Glasgow detective was nettled and thirsted for revenge. Looking around, he espied a little fellow who had been dogging them and who was known as an expert pickpocket. Crossing the street he addressed the boy, and, pointing to the retreating figure of the English detective, he asked if he would know him again.

"Aye," replied the boy. "What about it?"

"I want you to lift his ticker. He says no one in Glasgow can relieve him of it."

"Ah, it's a' richt. See ony green?"

"Honor bright, Tommy! I'll give you half a crown when you deliver up the watch to me."

"Ye will? An what else?"

"Nothing else."

"Let's see, then. I'm to lift the ticker, an you're to pay half a crown for on the spot?"

"Yes, that's it."

"An wad ye ken it if ye seen it?"

"I would among a thousand."

"Is that it, then?" And the boy, diving into his trousers pocket, displayed the identical watch and explained that he had secured it "while the gent was chaffin about the prigs."

Several of the members of the Pottery league forgot their tickets yesterday when they went to Rock Springs to play base ball and had trouble in getting in the grounds without paying. In the future all players must present tickets or pay admission.

Oriental Punishments.
The heathen Chinese deems the desecration of graves one of the most unpardonable of crimes, and, according to law, any man finding another in the act of robbing a graveyard may legally kill the villain on the spot without fear of consequences.

If a Turkish baker palms off a loaf of bread on you that is proved to be of less weight than it is represented, you can instruct a policeman to nail the defaulter by one of his ears to the door of his shop so as to be in full view of the passersby. The poor wretch will then be provided with a sharp dagger or knife, with which he can cut himself free so soon as he can summon up the necessary courage required for the operation of self maiming.

In many of the oriental countries, where precious stones are looked upon as well nigh sacred objects, it is no uncommon thing for a jewel robber to be punished with death. In Tibet the penalty for falling from your horse when taking part in any military operations or public athletics is death.

One writer recalls how he saw a man shot in Montenegro for appearing at a review wearing a stained uniform.

Sacrificed the Mustache.
Thomas B. Reed at one time wore a mustache of a few straggling hairs, so often seen on the upper lip of extremely fleshy men. How Mr. Reed parted with his hirsute apology can best be told by a certain barber in the house of representatives who attended the gentleman's wants:

"One day the big man from Maine settled himself in the barber's chair and requested a shave. When the operation was completed, Mr. Reed straightened himself and asked, 'Have you any of that old fashioned pomade to wax mustaches with?'"

"When the man of snapshot sentences arose and contemplated himself in the glass, he turned to the astonished barber and said, 'Cut this blanked blank mustache off, for you have made me look like a confounded catfish.'"—New England Home Magazine.

A Unique River.
Unique in its kind is no doubt the Mocona waterfall in the South American republic of Uruguay, situated about two miles below the mouth of the Píperi Assu river into the Uruguay. A great rock divides the river into two separate streams in such a manner that the right arm continues its flow on the original level, while the second arm falls gradually, so that it finally lies 22 feet below the level of the other arm. The bed of the upper part of the river is not very deep, and the water flows partly in a right angle to the river, thus forming a waterfall of more than two miles in length.

This unique view presents itself to the traveler, however, only during the winter, for in the summer, and especially during the rainy season, the Uruguay contains such immense quantities of water that both arms form one single stream, navigable even for the largest freight steamers. The fall has been known for centuries, and a description of it was published as early as 1691 by the Rev. Antonius Sepp, a missionary from Tyrol, who spent over 20 years among the Indians of Uruguay.

Man Compared.
If man grew as fast in proportion as a silkworm, he would be bigger than an elephant in two months. If he could navigate as fast in proportion as the average house fly, he could cross the Atlantic and back in the time it takes him to eat his breakfast. If he had as many eyes in proportion as the butterfly, he would have 40,000, to say nothing of an extra pair in his head for skylights. If he could spring as far in proportion as the spider, he could jump over the tallest tree in California, and it wouldn't bother him in the least. Man isn't the whole thing after all.—Freeport Journal.

Ate Course Dinners.
A woman just arrived from Australia was recently negotiating with an agent in London for a house in one of the newer districts of Kensington. She asked if it was a nice neighborhood. "It is thoroughly desirable, madam," replied the house agent. "They are without exception soup and fish families."

DEATH IN THE VIAL.

THE FIFTH TABLET CARRIED A DOSE THAT WAS FATAL.

Why the Doctor Had a Premonition That Misfortune Had Overtaken a Wealthy Planter—How the Story of the Crime Leaked Out.

The story was told by a police commissioner of another city who was in New Orleans recently on a visit.

"The most ingenious murder I ever knew anything about," he said, "was committed by a young physician. He was a rising practitioner at a place where I formerly lived, and, with your permission, I will speak of him simply as Dr. Smith."

"About a dozen years ago, as nearly as I remember, this young man went on a visit to a relative in a neighboring city, and one afternoon, on the third or fourth day of his stay, he startled a lady member of the household by remarking that he 'had a feeling' that some misfortune had overtaken a wealthy planter whom they both knew very well, and whom I will call Colonel Jones. The colonel was a prominent resident of the doctor's home town and had a large outlying estate, which he was in the habit of visiting once a week."

"Upon inquiry it was learned without trouble that the tablets were a harmless preparation of soda, and that Jones himself had bought them at a local drug store. That ended suspicion in that quarter, and, for lack of anything better, the coroner returned a verdict of death from sunstroke. There was no autopsy."

"Some time after Jones had been buried," continued the police commissioner, "I learned accidentally of Dr. Smith's curious prophecy, and it set me to thinking. Eventually I evolved a theory, but it was impossible at the time to sustain it with proof, and for five or six years I kept it pigeonholed in my brain, waiting for something to happen. Meanwhile, to everybody's surprise, Dr. Smith went to the dogs. He began by drinking heavily, gradually lost his practice, and finally skipped out to avoid prosecution for cashing a fake draft. After his flight I learned enough to absolutely confirm my theory as to Jones' death. What had really happened was this:

"That suggested a diabolical scheme of assassination, which the doctor proceeded to put into execution. Repairing to his office, he made up a duplicate tablet of strychnine, and, encountering the colonel next day, asked him to let him have the vial for a moment, so he could copy the address of the makers from the label."

"Jones handed it over unsuspectingly, and while his attention was briefly diverted elsewhere Smith put in the prepared tablet. He placed it under the top four, thus making it reasonably certain that his victim would take it on the fifth day from that date. Next morning he left town, so as to be far away when the tragedy was consummated, and some mysterious, uncontrollable impulse evidently led him to make the prediction that first excited my suspicion."

"When I made certain of all this, I located Smith in Oklahoma and was on the point of applying for an extradition warrant when he anticipated me

by contracting pneumonia and dying. I thereupon returned the case to its mental pigeonhole, where it has remained ever since."

"It is absolutely true," replied the narrator.

"Well," said the police commissioner, smiling, "Smith was like most clever criminals—he had one weak spot. He was fool enough to tell a woman. She blabbed."—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

Little Prominence Given to International Monetary Situation—Fitful Spurts of Activity in Stocks.

New York, Aug. 14. — The international monetary situation was given inconsiderable prominence in Wall street Monday through the engagement of $5,500,000 gold for export to Europe today and tomorrow. It is admitted that $5,000,000 of this amount is in payment for the British exchange loan, a 20 per cent installment being due tomorrow. Concessions in rates for sterling bills were made, demand sterling yielding 1-4 per cent, while posted rates were off 1-2 per cent. No effect was produced on the local money market by the gold engagements Monday, which bring the total outgo of gold on this movement up to $14,000,000. It is expected that the circulation of this sum in the European financial centers will produce a relaxation of the tension there. Except for a brief interval when the early gold engagements were made, stock prices improve steadily, with the gains quite uniform in a number of issues. There were fitful spurts of activity, and at intervals the strength was most marked in special groups. High-priced specialties gave the first indication of strength, but were soon relegated to the background when the metal stocks forged upward. Later on the strangers responded notably to the more cheerful crop advice, rain being reported in sections of the corn belt, where it was much needed. A large batch of favorable weekly earnings contributed some force to the rise in prices. In special stocks exceptional gains were made, a jump of 7 points in Lead preferred being made with as little explanation as the recent drop in that issue. In Lackawanna there was a steady demand, which eventually carried it up 5 points and strengthened other coalers. Industrial stocks suffered from the increased interest shown in railroad properties. Sugar closed under Saturday's final price after early strength. In the final dealings there was some diminution in the volume of business, but no impairment of the market's strength.

Business in railroad bonds continued small but a firm tone was evident. Total sales, par value, $480,000. U. S. ref. 2s, when issued and new 4s advanced 1-2, the 5s 8-3 and 3s 1-4 per cent in the bid price.

Chicago Grain and Provisions.

Chicago, Aug. 14. — Damages from heavy rains in the northwest, combined with a moderate cash business, caused a recovery from early weakness in wheat today. September closing a shade under Saturday. September corn closed 5-8c down because of rains, September oats 1-8c depressed and the provisions market a shade to 5c lower.

Professor Keeler Dead.

San Francisco, Aug. 14. — Professor James Edward Keeler, chief astronomer of the Lick observatory, who died yesterday afternoon, had been suffering for some time from heart trouble, to which pneumonia was added in the past few days. Prof. Keeler left Highland Springs, where he had been recuperating, last week, intent upon securing medical aid in this city. On his way here he suffered a stroke of apoplexy, from which he did not rally. He was taken to the hospital in a precarious condition at noon yesterday.

Missionary McBurney Safe.

Cannonsburg, Pa., Aug. 14. — James H. McBurney, of this place, has received word from his brother, Rev. Elmer McBurney, a missionary to China, stating that he and the other missionaries of the Reformed Presbyterian church had left China and arrived safely in Japan. These missionaries were located in the south of China at Tak Hing Chau, on the West river, about 100 miles from Canton. At the time the missionaries left their post there had been no outbreaks in that part of the empire.

Candidate Woolley Injured.

Chicago, Aug. 14. — John G. Woolley, candidate for President on the Prohibition ticket, is suffering from a painful injury to one of his shoulders, the result of falling down stairs at his home today. Mr. Woolley was starting down the steps from the third floor when his foot fell headlong.

He Lifted the Ticker.

A London detective visiting Glasgow met a Scotch police official on the street and in the talk that followed spoke contemptuously of the ability of Scotch thieves as compared with the English experts.

Taking this as an aspersion cast on the astuteness of the Scottish police as well, the Glasgow detective was nettled and thirsted for revenge. Looking around, he espied a little fellow who had been dogging them and who was known as an expert pickpocket. Crossing the street he addressed the boy, and, pointing to the retreating figure of the English detective, he asked if he would know him again.

"Aye," replied the boy. "What about it?"

"I want you to lift his ticker. He says no one in Glasgow can relieve him of it."

"Ah, it's a' richt. See ony green?"

"Honor bright, Tommy! I'll give you half a crown when you deliver up the watch to me."

"Ye will? An what else?"

"Nothing else."

"Let's see, then. I'm to lift the ticker, an you're to pay half a crown for the spot?"

"Yes, that's it."

"An wad ye ken it if ye seen it?"

Unique in its kind is no doubt the Mocona waterfall in the South American republic of Uruguay, situated about two miles below the mouth of the Píperi Assu river into the Uruguay. A great rock divides the river into two separate streams in such a manner that the right arm continues its flow on the original level, while the second arm falls gradually, so that it finally lies 22 feet below the level of the other arm. The bed of the upper part of the river is not very deep, and the water flows partly in a right angle to the river, thus forming a waterfall of more than two miles in length.

This unique view presents itself to the traveler, however, only during the winter, for in the summer, and especially during the rainy season, the Uruguay contains such immense quantities of water that both arms form one single stream, navigable even for the largest freight steamers. The fall has been known for centuries, and a description of it was published as early as 1691 by the Rev. Antonius Sepp, a missionary from Tyrol, who spent over 20 years among the Indians of Uruguay.

Man Compared.

If man grew as fast in proportion as a silkworm, he would be bigger than an elephant in two months. If he could navigate as fast in proportion as the average house fly, he could cross the Atlantic and back in the time it takes him to eat his breakfast. If he had as many eyes in proportion as the butterfly, he would have 40,000, to say nothing of an extra pair in his head for skylights. If he could spring as far in proportion as the spider, he could jump over the tallest tree in California, and it wouldn't bother him in the least. Man isn't the whole thing after all.—Freeport Journal.

Ate Course Dinners.

A woman just arrived from Australia was recently negotiating with an agent in London for a house in one of the newer districts of Kensington. She asked if it was a nice neighborhood. "It is thoroughly desirable, madam," replied the house agent. "They are without exception soup and fish families."

DEATH IN THE VIAL.

THE FIFTH TABLET CARRIED A DOSE THAT WAS FATAL.

Why the Doctor Had a Premonition That Misfortune Had Overtaken a Wealthy Planter—How the Story of the Crime Leaked Out.

The story was told by a police commissioner of another city who was in New Orleans recently on a visit.

"The most ingenious murder I ever knew anything about," he said, "was committed by a young physician. He was a rising practitioner at a place where I formerly lived, and, with your permission, I will speak of him simply as Dr. Smith.

"About a dozen years ago, as nearly as I remember, this young man went on a visit to a relative in a neighboring city, and one afternoon, on the third or fourth day of his stay, he startled a lady member of the household by remarking that he 'had a feeling' that some misfortune had overtaken a wealthy planter whom they both knew very well, and whom I will call Colonel Jones. The colonel was a prominent resident of the doctor's home town and had a large outlying estate, which he was in the habit of visiting once a week.

"On the day of Smith's singular premonition he was on one of those tours of inspection, but failed to come back, and the following morning his corpse was found lying in a cornfield. He had evidently been dead about 24 hours, and from the appearance of the body seemed to have been seized with some sort of fit or convulsion.

"Of course the affair created a great stir, and the police made a pretty thorough investigation, but the only thing they found that merited any special attention was a small, round vial in the dead man's vest pocket. It was about the diameter of a lead pencil by four inches long, and had originally contained a couple of dozen medicinal tablets, which, lying one on top of the other, filled the little bottle to the cork. A few still remained in the bottom.

"Upon inquiry it was learned without trouble that the tablets were a harmless preparation of soda, and that Jones himself had bought them at a local drug store. That ended suspicion in that quarter, and, for lack of anything better, the coroner returned a verdict of death from sunstroke. There was no autopsy.

"Some time after Jones had been buried," continued the police commissioner, "I learned accidentally of Dr. Smith's curious prophecy, and it set me to thinking. Eventually I evolved a theory, but it was impossible at the time to sustain it with proof, and for five or six years I kept it pigeonholed in my brain, waiting for something to happen. Meanwhile, to everybody's surprise, Dr. Smith went to the dogs. He began by drinking heavily, gradually lost his practice, and finally skipped out to avoid prosecution for cashing a fake draft. After his flight I learned enough to absolutely confirm my theory as to Jones' death. What had really happened was this:

"Dr. Smith owed the old man a considerable sum of money and had given a note, upon which he had forged his father's name as indorser. The planter was pressing him for payment and had threatened suit, which meant inevitable exposure. One day, while they were conversing, Jones pulled out a little glass vial and swallowed one of the tablets it contained, remarking that he took one daily, after dinner, for sour stomach.

"That suggested a diabolical scheme of assassination, which the doctor proceeded to put into execution. Repairing to his office, he made up a duplicate tablet of strychnine, and, encountering the colonel next day, asked him to let him have the vial for a moment, so he could copy the address of the makers from the label.

"Jones handed it over unsuspectingly, and while his attention was briefly diverted elsewhere Smith put in the prepared tablet. He placed it under the top four, thus making it reasonably certain that his victim would take it on the fifth day from that date. Next morning he left town, so as to be far away when the tragedy was consummated, and some mysterious, uncontrollable impulse evidently led him to make the prediction that first excited my suspicion.

"When I made certain of all this, I located Smith in Oklahoma and was on the point of applying for an extradition warrant when he anticipated me

by contracting pneumonia and dying. I thereupon returned the case to its mental pigeonhole, where it has remained ever since."

"It is absolutely true," replied the narrator.

"Well," said the police commissioner, smiling, "Smith was like most clever criminals—he had one weak spot. He was fool enough to tell a woman. She blabbed."—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

Little Prominence Given to International Monetary Situation—Fitful Spurts of Activity in Stocks.

New York, Aug. 14. — The international monetary situation was given inconsiderable prominence in Wall street Monday through the engagement of $5,500,000 gold for export to Europe today and tomorrow. It is admitted that $5,000,000 of this amount is in payment for the British exchequer loan, a 20 per cent installment being due tomorrow. Concessions in rates for sterling bills were made, demand sterling yielding 1-4 per cent, while posted rates were off 1-2 per cent. No effect was produced on the local money market by the gold engagements Monday, which bring the total outgo of gold on this movement up to $14,000,000. It is expected that the circulation of this sum in the European financial centers will produce a relaxation of the tension there. Except for a brief interval when the early gold engagements were made, stock prices improve steadily, with the gains quite uniform in a number of issues. There were fitful spurts of activity, and at intervals the strength was most marked in special groups. High-priced specialties gave the first indication of strength, but were soon relegated to the background when the metal stocks forged upward. Later on the grangers responded notably to the more cheerful crop advices, rain being reported in sections of the corn belt, where it was much needed. A large batch of favorable weekly earnings contributed some force to the rise in prices. In special stocks exceptional gains were made, a jump of 7 points in Lead preferred being made with as little explanation as the recent drop in that issue. In Lackawanna there was a steady demand, which eventually carried it up 5 points and strengthened other coalers. Industrial stocks suffered from the increased interest shown in railroad properties. Sugar closed under Saturday's final price after early strength. In the final dealings there was some diminution in the volume of business, but no impairment of the market's strength.

Business in railroad bonds continued small but a firm tone was evident. Total sales, par value, $480,000. U. S. ref. 2s, when issued and new 4s advanced 1-2, the 5s 8-3 and 3s 1-4 per cent in the bid price.

Chicago Grain and Provisions.

Chicago, Aug. 14. — Damages from heavy rains in the northwest, combined with a moderate cash business, caused a recovery from early weakness in wheat today. September closing a shade under Saturday. September corn closed 5-8c down because of rains, September oats 1-8c depressed and the provisions market a shade to 5c lower.

Professor Keeler Dead.

San Francisco, Aug. 14. — Professor James Edward Keeler, chief astronomer of the Lick observatory, who died yesterday afternoon, had been suffering for some time from heart trouble, to which pneumonia was added in the past few days. Prof. Keeler left Highland Springs, where he had been recuperating, last week, intent upon securing medical aid in this city. On his way here he suffered a stroke of apoplexy, from which he did not rally. He was taken to the hospital in a precarious condition at noon yesterday.

Missionary McBurney Sane.

Cannonsburg, Pa., Aug. 14. — James H. McBurney, of this place, has received word from his brother, Rev. Elmer McBurney, a missionary to China, stating that he and the other missionaries of the Reformed Presbyterian church had left China and arrived safely in Japan. These missionaries were located in the South of China at Tak Hing Chau, on the West river, about 100 miles from Canton. At the time the missionaries left their post there had been no outbreaks in that part of the empire.

Candidate Woolley Injured.

Chicago, Aug. 14. — John G. Woolley, candidate for President on the Prohibition ticket, is suffering from a painful injury to one of his shoulders, the result of falling down stairs at his home today. Mr. Woolley was starting down the steps from the third floor when his foot slipped on the hardwood floor and he fell headlong.

He Lifted the Ticker.

A London detective visiting Glasgow met a Scotch police official on the street and in the talk that followed spoke contemptuously of the ability of Scotch thieves as compared with the English experts.

Taking this as an aspersion cast on the astuteness of the Scottish police as well, the Glasgow detective was nettled and thirsted for revenge. Looking around, he espied a little fellow who had been dogging them and who was known as an expert pickpocket. Crossing the street he addressed the boy, and, pointing to the retreating figure of the English detective, he asked if he would know him again.

"Aye," replied the boy. "What about it?"

"I want you to lift his ticker. He says no one in Glasgow can relieve him of it."

"Ah, it's a' richt. See any green?"

"Honor bright, Tommy! I'll give you half a crown when you deliver up the watch to me."

"Ye will? An what else?"

"Nothing else."

"Let's see, then. I'm to lift the ticker, an you're to pay half a crown for on the spot?"

"Yes, that's it."

"An wad ye ken it if ye seen it?"

"I would among a thousand."

NICE COMPLIMENT

Paid to Milton Gladden, Who Preached in Beaver Falls Last Sunday.

Milton Gladden, son of Rev. Gladden, of this city, occupied the pulpit of the Beaver Falls M. P. church last Sunday, and the New Brighton News

gave him the following neat compliment:

"Yesterday's effort was very creditable for a man so young and of so little experience. His theme was an exhortation to the church to awake to duty, and in dealing with his subject he showed the difference that exists between a live and dead church. Mr. Gladden said:

"When a church thinks less of its prayer meeting than of its social life, there is something radically wrong with it. The true test of the real living church is its spirituality, and when that is gone the church is dead."

SENT THEM BACK.

TEN CAR LOAD OF BRICK WOULD NOT DO.

Engineer and Inspector Refused to Allow Them to Be Used on the City Streets.

Ten car load of brick, amounting in all to over 90,000 brick, have been shipped back to the manufactures from this city.

The brick were consigned to Contractors James Rinehart and Thomas McLaughlin, but when the engineer and inspector viewed them they were condemned as unfit for use on the city streets and they refused to allow the contractors to use them in paving.

The contractors objected, but the officials were firm, and as a result new brick will be received before the paving is completed.

TRYING TO PURCHASE

The Deal May Be Closed and a Very Handsome Building Erected.

Negotiations are now pending for the purchase of the lot adjoining the new Potters National bank building, and if the parties succeed in getting together a handsome business block will be erected.

The lot is 25x90, and the parties who desire to purchase are local people.

There is every indication that the deal will be made.

FROM LISBON.

There is Not an Abundance of Court Business at Present.

Lisbon, Aug. 14.—(Special.)—Joseph Hisey, of New Waterford, was adjudged to be insane this afternoon. The patient is apparently sane excepting that he has a mania for taking his own life.

He was brought to the county jail this morning.

The will of John Rees, of Center, was admitted to probate today and Henry E. Lindesmith was appointed executor, with $7,000 bond.

The sum of $24,035 was ordered distributed in court today among the heirs of the late George S. Nace, of Lisbon.

Henry Gamble and Helen J. Walter, of Elkrun township, were married today by Rev. George Fowler.

RAILROAD MAGNATE DIED THIS MORNING.

Special to News Review.

Racquette Lake, N. Y., Aug. 14.—Collis F. Huntington, railroad magnate, died here very suddenly this morning.

58 SIGNED THE AGREEMENT

A Committee Will Be Appointed to Prepare a Full Plan of Reform.

WILL AFFECT EVERY STATE

Insurance rates in this city will go up if the following from the North American, of Philadelphia, can be relied upon, and it is almost a sure thing that it is true:

"Insurance rates will be raised in almost every city in the United States within the next year. The leading companies of the country have decided to protect themselves against the losses to which they have been subjected within the last two years, and have agreed to appoint a committee to fix the rates and arrange all details for the increase.

"Just when the changes will be made and how much the rates will be advanced is not known. These points will be determined by the committee of 30, who shall be elected by the companies signing an agreement to abide by the arrangements they may make.

"For more than two years, few, if any, fire insurance companies in this country have made money. Heavy losses have been suffered, especially in Philadelphia and Pittsburgh, but no direct movement has been made for a general advance in the rates until the first of the year.

"At a meeting of the National Board of Fire Underwriters it was suggested by President E. C. Irvin, of Philadelphia, that a committee be named to prepare a plan of reform and submit it to all companies.

"A committee of 27 men was named and their report was submitted at the June meeting. Several of its clauses met with so much opposition that it was decided there would not be sufficient support to justify putting the plan in operation.

"A new agreement was drawn up and presented at a meeting of the leading companies held at Long Branch. It provides that all fire insurance companies who sign it agree to appoint a committee of supervision, which shall consider the condition of business and the expense and the adjustment of the rate in all of the states.

"As soon as the committee secures a sufficient number of signatures to the agreement it will be empowered to put the new rates in operation. Fifty-eight of the leading companies were present at the meeting and all of them signed the agreement."

AN ACCIDENT

Yesterday afternoon while driving up Market street Mr. and Mrs. John Rinehart met with a mishap which might have resulted disastrously.

Mr. Rinehart had reached the corner of Market and Fifth streets as a street car left the Diamond, and when he attempted to force the horse to pass the car the animal refused to go and started to back into the curb on the opposite side of the street. In turning from the curb a front wheel was broken and Mrs. Rinehart was thrown from her seat in the carriage.

Meanwhile Mr. Rinehart had gathered up the fragments of the vehicle and they, together with the horse, were taken to the barn on Second street.

A PETITION

TO BE PRESENTED TO COUNCIL TONIGHT

Asking That the Height of Awnings be Placed at 7 Feet Instead of 8 Feet.

A petition is being circulated among the business men today asking that council place the height of awnings at 7 feet instead of 8 feet.

The petition is very generally signed and will be presented to council tonight.

The argument is advanced that by placing the awnings at 8 feet they would be of no use and 7 feet put them plenty high enough to let people pass under.

Council will probably grant the request of the petitioners.

REAL ESTATE.

A Number of Transfers That Have Been Recorded from This City.

Irwin, 34 acres in St. Clair township, $1,190.

Taken to His Home.

Edward Windram, who was overcome by the heat last Thursday, was last night taken to his home in Wells-ville.

He is improving slowly, and it will be some time before he is able to be around.

He Hit Hard.

George Carey was very much in the game at Cleveland yesterday and flew out to the outfield every time, with one exception, when he made a single.

GOVERNOR NASH IS WILLING

A Letter Has Been Received From I. B. Cameron Who Says the Governor

WILL MAKE A SHORT ADDRESS

From the Porch of the Residence of Col John N. Taylor, Sixth Street.

EVERYBODY SHOULD TURN OUT

The reception to be accorded Governor Nash in this city tomorrow evening should be a large one, and it is the duty of every Republican voter to turn out and accord Ohio's chief executive a hearty welcome to the city.

The governor has consented to make a short address from the porch of the residence of Colonel John N. Taylor, and he will no doubt be greeted by an immense crowd.

City Chairman George H. Owen this morning received the following letter from County Chairman I. B. Cameron:

"Columbus, O., Aug. 13, 1900.

"George H. Owen, East Liverpool.

"Dear Sir—I beg to acknowledge the receipt of your telegram of the 11th instant.

"In replying I would respectfully say that I have arranged with the governor to give a short address from the porch of Colonel Taylor's residence on the evening of the 15th instant.

"The governor will arrive in East Liverpool at 7:06 p. m., standard time, of said day.

"I expect to accompany the governor at his request.

"Very respectfully yours.

"I. B. CAMERON,
"Chairman."

FARMERS' PICNIC.

Township Line Picnic Promises to be an Unusually Interesting Affair.

The Township Line picnic Thursday will be an immense success.

Governor Nash will be present and make an address and I. B. Cameron will also speak, as will Hon. John C. Welty.

The address of welcome will be made by the president of the association, and the response will be delivered by Captain Harry Palmer.

GARDENDALE.

Items of Interest Gathered in That Portion of the City.

Mrs. Walmen is able to be up after a serious illness.

Miss Linnie Cohen is visiting her aunt, Mrs. O. A. Shingleton.

Mrs. Della Cohen and Miss Daisy Cunningham are calling on Grandma Cohen, of McKinnon's addition.

Mrs. Shingleton, who has been ill, is doing her work nicely.

The folks are all well at Gardendale except a few who have the komelkos.

He is Getting Better.

Verner Campbell, who was overcome by the heat about a week ago, and who has been very ill since that time, is able to be out today.

The Burford team defeated Knowles yesterday afternoon and broke all records by making 12 runs in the eighth inning, 10 of them being made with no one out.

The game was a fast one until the sixth inning and the score was 3 to 2 in favor of Knowles.

In the seventh Knowles made three more and they looked like easy winners, but in the eighth Burfords made 12 runs on four bases on balls, five errors and six hits. Seventeen men went to bat in this inning and Shell was the only member of the club who was not up twice.

Billy Stillwell made his initial appearance in the box for Burfords and struck out 10 of the heavy hitters of the Knowles team in the first five innings.

Winters was not far behind him and mowed down eight of the Burfords in six innings.

Daugherty's left field play was a feature.

They Are Not an Uncommon Feature at the Present Time in East Liverpool.

The merciful and kind and humane and God and humanity loving citizen feels sorry in his heart when he notes a drunken man staggering along our streets, or when he sees a poor victim of strong drink go whirling to the cooler in the Black Maria; and he feels, in his heart, that the wrong man is in the hands of the law, and that the drunkard maker, the distiller, brewer or saloon keeper, ought to be in that wagon of disgrace. He further feels that the law which sanctions the infamous traffic of the sale of intoxicants is a sin and a shame and a travesty upon justice, and that the nation which permits such infamy will reap a full harvest of woe and sorrow.

It is a very sad sight to note a drunken man whirled off to the lock-up. It is infinitely a sadder sight to see a drunken woman in such a predicament. An unfortunate woman was in this predicament last night. She had become a common nuisance on account of her actions, and it became necessary to arrest her. A young lady witnessed the affair and, unused to such sights, being a comparative stranger to our city, she rushed to the telephone and communicated the intelligence to a lady friend about as follows:

"Say, I've just witnessed an awful sight; a woman drunk, arrested and taken to the lockup in the Black Maria. My nerves are all unstrung, and I scarcely know what to do. I have never before witnessed such a thing, and it fairly makes me sick. I know that I shall not sleep a wink tonight."

To this her friend made response in about this manner:

"Oh, you poor creature. You go to bed tonight as usual, curl up like a contented kitten and snooze peacefully and tranquilly. Your drunken woman is evidently a believer in woman's rights. She had a right to get tight and she has the same right as a man to go to the cooler and in the same neat and attractive conveyance. You have lived in the blessed truly rural districts all your life, amid purity and clean life, and have not got used to our city ways. When you reside in this city for a year or two, familiarity with such scenes will remove the wire edge of your sensitive nature, and you will find that the women have a legal right to secure booze, and a legal right to take the consequences of a jamboree, all the same as a little man. Go to sleep, dear, and don't puzzle your brain over the funny legislation enacted by the lords of creation."

J. F. Herbert, a plumber, appeared in the court of Justice McCarron this morning and entered a complaint against James J. McKeon, charging him with appropriating some tools which were the property of Herbert.

The justice issued an order requiring McKeon to return the tools at once or action would be brought against him for larceny.

THAT SHADE TREE.

Foreman Griffiths Tells His Story of the Cutting of Trees at River-view Cemetery.

"Editor News Review—I am foreman of construction of the line of the Columbiana County Telephone company being placed along the route of the Calcutta road. Superintendent Whitaker secured no promise from me respecting a special shade tree. Indeed, to be exact, I have held no conversation of any kind with Mr. Whitaker. I had the understanding from one of my workmen that Mr. Whitaker desired that limbs should be cut off nicely and lowered carefully to the ground, in order that the fence should not be injured. My workmen were cutting the tree in dispute, and were simply taking the limbs down which were directly in their way, intending to trim up nicely afterward, when I understand that Mr. Whitaker imperatively ordered the workmen to cease their work, which they did. We but obey our orders when engaged at this class of work; and our orders from the company are to be courteous to every one with whom we are brought in contact.

"Respectfully,
"FOREMAN GRIFFITHS."

OHIO SPEAKERS' BUREAU.

Hon. Walter L. Weaver, of Springfield, Chosen to Take Charge Of It.

The official announcement of Hon. Walter L. Weaver, of Springfield, as chairman of the speakers' bureau in the Republican state committee, has been made.

Mr. Weaver is the present member of congress from the seventh district, having been twice elected but defeated a few months ago for a third nomination.

He is a member of the executive committee, and his appointment is in line with the policy of Chairman Dick to avail himself of the active service of such members of that body as can give their time to the campaign.

A Special Meeting.

The Camera club of the Y. M. C. A. will hold a special meeting tonight and elect officers.

WHY IT SUCCEEDS.

Because It's for One Thing Only and East Liverpool is Learning This.

Nothing can be good for everything. Doing one thing well brings success. Doan's Kidney Pills do one thing only.

Here is East Liverpool evidence to prove it.

Mr. C. McLean, of 187 Church alley, who is employed in the East Liverpool Pottery Co., says: "I had muscular rheumatism for three years in my back and kidneys. It caused much pain and suffering, the last year being the worst. I had a steady aching pain in my kidneys; extreme weakness in the muscles of the back; could not rest at night except lying flat on my back, and there was urinary weakness accompanying it. Although I had many bad attacks and used many different medicines I never obtained any relief. The worst attack I ever had, and which completely used me up, occurred just before I used Doan's Kidney Pills. Not having much faith left in medicines I was rather skeptical when I was recommended to try them, but got so bad that I had to get something, so I went for a box to the W. & W. pharmacy. They went direct to the kidneys and acted on the very fountain head of all the trouble, relieving me in a very short time."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents per box. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name, Doan's and take no other.

SUMNER REACHES NAGASAKI.

Troops and Siege Guns Taken on Board the Indiana.

Washington, Aug. 14.—The war department has received the following:

"Nagasaki, Aug. 12.
"Adjutant General, Washington:
"Transport Sumner arrived this port on the 10th. No casualties occurred. Health of command excellent. Will proceed Taku on Indiana. BARRY."

The Sumner carried a battalion of the Fifteenth infantry. The Indiana also will take aboard siege guns and Maxim field guns which General Chaffee had requested and which General MacArthur sent from Manila. It will take about three days for the Indiana to reach Taku. The large force of surgeons, nurses, and hospital attendants on the ship also will be a welcome addition to the hospital force now on shore in China. General Barry is General MacArthur's chief of staff. He goes on the Indiana to Taku to inspect that port with a view to determining its availability as a Chinese base of supply.

VISIT FROM AN OFFICER.

President Is Warned He Is Using Too Much Water.

Canton, C., Aug. 14.—The president had no callers of note to-day. President and Mrs. McKinley will leave for Washington at 1:35 o'clock Thursday afternoon to stay two weeks.

The President has been disobeying the rules of the city by sprinkling his lawn during prohibited hours. A watcher discovered the infraction of the rules and served notice that the water would be shut off at the next breach of the law. The city board of equalization gave McKinley's tax valuation a $1,500 boost on account of his addition to his cottage.

Facing the Future.

There comes a time to most women when they must face the future of wifehood and motherhood. What that future has in store for them depends largely upon themselves. To a healthy woman

the obligations and consequences of marriage are a lasting happiness. To a woman suffering from irregularity or other ailments of the sex, marriage may prove a mockery and motherhood a misery. Where such irregularity exists Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription can be used with the assurance that health will speedily be restored. It is the most reliable medicine known to medical science for the cure of diseases which affect the delicate womanly organs.

"Favorite Prescription" is a non-alcoholic medicine and is also free from opium cocaine and other narcotics.

"At an early stage of married life," writes Mrs. Flora Arn, of Dallas, Jackson Co., Mo., "I was greatly bothered with painful periods, also a troublesome drain which rendered me very weak and unfit for work of any kind. I became so thin there was nothing left of me but skin and bone. My husband became alarmed and got me a bottle of 'Favorite Prescription.' After he saw the wonderful effects of that one he got me two more, and after I used those up there was no more pain, and I began to gain in flesh very rapidly. I owe all praise to Dr. Pierce and his wonderful curative medicines."

Dr. Pierce's Medical Adviser sent free on receipt of stamps to pay cost of mailing only. Send 21 one-cent stamps for book in paper covers, or 31 stamps in cloth to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

THE JIGGERMEN MAY GIVE IN

Will Invite the Executive Board
to Meet With Them and Discuss Matters.

WOULD: END ALL TROUBLE

Seems to Be a Good Prospect For Installation of the Uniform
Scale.

CAN'T HOLD OUT ALONE

It now looks as though the uniform
wage scale will be adopted in Trenton
Trenton True American of yesterday
says:

In all probability the members of the executive board of the Brotherhood of Operative Potters will have every general ware pottery in this city working under the new scale before many days go by.

The jiggermen are thinking seriously of calling a meeting some night this week at which the executive board
will be present for the purpose of relating their side of the scale question.
Although extremely obstinate at first,
the jiggermen now seem to be inclined
to look at the matter fairly.

The kilnmen and pressers, on whom
the jiggermen relied so much for aid,
have decided to accept it, leaving
about 100 jiggermen in the city to fight the whole Brotherhood.

Although the new scale will cut the kilnmen and pressers' wages more or less they are willing to sacrifice the
cut for the sake of establishing a uniform price list throughout the country.

It is claimed by the executive board that fully 80 per cent of the American potteries are now run under the price list adopted at Pittsburg.

From the manufacturers there are
yet no new developments. Messrs.
Burgess and Willets, the two absentees of the committee on labor of the manufacturers' association, are expected to return tomorrow, when they will take immediate action on the kiln-
men's resolutions.

President A. S. Hughes is still in town and will not leave until the trouble is settled.

THE HUNGRY FED

And the Master Will Give in Return,
If Given Aright, the "Bread
of Life."

Last evening a lady came into the News Review office, passed to Mrs.
Palmer the sum of $3 in silver, re-
marking:

"For the poor people of India."

God will give it to her again, with interest, if she gave aright, and we believe that she did. Think of it, lov-
ers of our common humanity, the gift
of this good woman will feed a family of three persons, father, mother
and one child, for the period of 50
days. Cannot you assist in like manner? If you cannot spare $3, any sum will be acceptable to the sufferers. It may be that a nickel will bring you a blessing. The widow was wonderfully
blessed in giving her mite.

His Mother's Favorite.

TO BE TAKEN TO UNION COUNTY, O.

Mrs. Ferrell Had Premonition of
Some Calamity—Told Neighbor She Feared She Would Not Wear New Dress to Her Boy's Wedding.

Stenbenville, O., Aug. 14.—The news of the arrest of Rosslyn Ferrell for
the robbery of the express train and
murder of Messenger Lane near Columbus caused the biggest sensation this
as a shock to the mother of Ferrell, as
she was very much devoted to her youngest boy. To-day grief is sapping away at her life so strongly that members of the family say they do not expect to see her rise from her bed alive. Mr. and
Mrs. Ferrell were to have gone on Wednesday to attend the wedding. Saturday Mrs. Ferrell showed to a neighbor
the dress she was to have worn and said:
"Something tells me I'll never wear
this."

This premonition, or whatever it was,
has come true in terrible form. Tobias
Ferrell, father of the young man, left
on the Panhandle 10:30 a. m. train for Columbus. He said:
"I don't understand how Ross came to do it. He was the baby of the family
and there is nothing I would not have done for him had he been in trouble
or in need of anything. He must have been desperate over something, or nearly
here Thursday, but I did not get to talk
fore he left."

Adams Express Company Agent George
B. Sterling said Ross Ferrell was in his employ as transfer and check clerk
from August, 1897, to May, 1899, when
he was promoted to be messenger on
the road. He was always faithful and
never in the smallest thing was there
anything wrong. He filled in emergency
cases as messenger on the Cleveland &
Pittsburg while here and his duties
were always well performed.

COLUMBUS, O., Aug. 13.—Rosslyn Fer-
rell, the confessed murderer of Express
Messenger Lane, will be taken to-morrow
morning to Marysville, Union county,
trial.

At noon yesterday the quartet rehearsed the music for Ferrell's wedding.
He was present and complimented the
singers. At that very hour the detectives
were preparing the program for his capture. Ferrell had even ordered the wedding invitations.

GENERAL JOE WHEELER

WAS ABOUT TO FALL.

Chicago, Aug. 14.—General Joe
Wheeler has probably had as many opportunities of displaying a quick wit
and a clear head in an emergency as
any man living, and in all his long career he has let none of the chances go
by. This morning he saved the life of
a boy in his offices at army headquarters in the Pullman building. The boy
in the case was William Jennings
Bryan, Jr., the 12-year-old son of the Democratic candidate for the presidency.

The lad visited General Wheeler, and
the latter, after his first greeting, turned to his work and let the youngster
amuse himself as best he might. Young Bryan is like other healthy boys of his age and, naturally enough, soon got into mischief. He found a loose chair caster, and then hunted around till he secured a big bundle of rubber bands.
These he tied into a long string and
then, securing the caster to the bundle,
went to the window and began bouncing the piece of iron up and down on
the sidewalk, 75 feet below.

The general, engrossed with his labors, paid no attention to the boy, who gradually became so interested in his play that he leaned farther and farther
out of the casement window. "Fighting Joe" happened to glance up a few

the lad hanging with his whole body
over the sidewalk and only the toes of
his shoes visible, clutching the angle of the window. He sat aghast for a moment. Then, rushing to the window, he pulled the lad in by his legs and landed
him safely on the floor.

Speaking of the occurrence afterward,
General Wheeler acknowledged that young Bryan was within an inch of being dashed to death on the pavement
below when he caught sight of him, but treated the matter lightly.

Colored Delegation Visited the Democratic Candidate—Nebraskan and Wife Leave Tomorrow Night.

Chicago, Aug. 14.—William J. Bryan
had a conference with a delegation of colored men headed by J. Milton Turner, of St. Louis, former minister to Liberia. They represented that there was much dissatisfaction among the members of their race with the present administration, and assured Mr. Bryan
that he would receive the votes of many of many of them. They therefore urged
the importance of the organization of
Bryan Democratic clubs.

Mr. Bryan also participated in a conference with ex-Governor Stone, of Missouri; ex-Governor Altgeld, of Illinois; Mayor Taggart, of Indianapolis;
Chairman Martin, of the Indiana state
central committee, and Senator Jones.
The outlook in Indiana was reported as favorable. The date of the departure of
Mr. and Mrs. Bryan for Lincoln is fixed
for tomorrow night. Mr. Bryan's speech
before the Irish societies will be made
at Sunnyside park tomorrow afternoon.

All the Evidence in the Trial of Caleb Powers Has Been Given.

Georgetown, Ky., Aug. 14.—Testimony in the trial of former Secretary of State Caleb Powers, charged with complicity in the shooting of Governor Goebel, was concluded at noon to-day. This afternoon the jury was taken to the scene
of the shooting at Frankfort. Judge Cantrill announced that as soon as the arguments have been concluded and the case gone to the jury the case against
Henry E. Youtsey will be called for trial.
The sheriff was ordered to summon a special venire of jurors for the Youtsey
case.

E. W. Bradburn, a member of the reward commission, testified that of the $5,000
drawn by the commissioners out of the fund appropriated by the Legislature
only about $4,000 had been expended, and said that no money
had been paid to any witness
who had testified in the case, and
that no agreement or contract existed between the reward commissioners and Wharton Golden, Robert Noakes, W. H.
Culton, or any other witness.

Judge Lacombe Refuses to Sign Neely Decree Pending Habeas Corpus Proceedings.

New York, Aug. 14.—Judge Lacombe,
of the United States circuit court, to-day
refused to sign the writ of extradition
for Charles F. W. Neely, the Cuban postal fund imbezzler, on account of the action of Judge Wallace in granting an appeal to the supreme court in the habeas corpus proceedings, but indicated that he did not think Judge Wallace understood
the real situation of the case and he believed if it went to the supreme court
in its present shape the application for
a writ of habeas corpus would be denied. In conclusion Judge Lacombe said:
"I certainly shall not take any action
which will turn over to a foreign country
or another State, it matters not which,
a prisoner who is held here under an
order of arrest in a civil or criminal action, until such action shall have been discontinued."

Judge Lacombe advised Marshal Hen-
kel to keep the prisoner in custody under the civil order or under Judge Wal-

Japanese Art.

The Japanese is a born lover of nature. Whatever he produces, from the most painstaking work of art to the simplest household utensil, is after natural models. In the representation of figures and scenes the Japanese display a perception which is astonishing. With a couple of strokes of the brush they reproduce what they see
with a truth to life which is almost incredible.

PROBABLY RESCUED.

This is glorious, if true. Of course we refer to the news that the legations at Peking have been rescued by the allied forces.

DIRTY THOROUGHFARES.

The highways and byways of East Liverpool are in a most deplorable condition. If "cleanliness is akin to godliness," and we shall judge the condition of our thoroughfares from this standpoint, then is godliness conspicuous by its utter absence from our municipality.

THE MASSES.

You can fool the great mass of the people in your affiliation with and advocacy of evil and evil practices for a time. But the day of awakening will surely come and you would better stand from under. All the sops and promises and gifts you may offer will not give you immunity from the wrath of an aroused and clean public sentiment, for "Right is Might, and shall prevail."

HUMANITY LOVERS.

A goodly sum, thank God, has gone from the News Review office to the sufferers in India. This sum has been made up in contributions ranging from a single penny to a check for $25. Little children have opened their savings boxes and given all their savings to the hungry little ones, the starving and suffering ones, in India. This money has not been given by the News Review. This paper has simply been a medium for the people who love their fellows—for the men, women and children of this prosperous city who hate to see suffering in any form, and whose hearts are made sad by the knowledge of the awful need of the hour in India. The money contributed is sent at once to New York city, and is at once telegraphed to India from that point; not a minute of unnecessary delay, as delay might mean death to many. Send in your contributions at once, by they large or small.

ARE YOU PROUD OF IT?

Are you proud of the vote which, citizens of East Liverpool, left such saloons in your city as some of the samples on Sixth street, places which are so decidedly vile and objectionable, on account of the roughs and toughs assembled in and around them on the Sabbath day, voicing all manner of profanity, vulgarity and indecency, in such a measure as to cause good citizens, men and women, to avoid the very locality and take a roundabout way in going to and from church? Are you proud to have such industries (God pity the mark) in your midst? Will not the latent manhood of East Liverpool rise up against any and every man who, by trickery and chicanery in the mode of balloting on that fateful July afternoon, made it possible for the will of the people to be trampled in the dust? Be careful. God will not be mocked. Every minister of evil will receive full recompense for misdeeds performed. Don't hug the illusion fondly to your breast that you will escape punishment. Your name is on the indelible record. The handwriting is on the wall.

BRYAN AND ALTGELD.

Here's a precious pair for the people to gaze at. Bryan for president of this great and grand republic, with Altgeld, of Illinois, as his attorney general. The nation, as a nation, sound money Republicans and sound money Democrats, turned down Bryan and his silver heresy with a fearful shock four years ago, and they'll repeat the dose still more emphatically this fall. The great mass of the workingmen of the country are great readers today, forming their own opinions from the facts which face them; and these working men know that Bryan forced his silver heresy upon the Democratic party once more, despite very strong and earnest protests on the part of the sound money Democrats; and the working men of the nation know that the cry of "Imperialism and Militarism" is merely a dodge and a snare, a vote gatherer among the unwary, the real issue being the same silver question as of old, a measure to fatten the pockets and bank accounts of the silver kings and mine owners, at the expense of the workers and toilers of the nation. The toilers are wide awake, however, and Bryan and Altgeld, in company with their co-workers and followers, will be relegated to the political oblivion they so richly deserve.

Tickets for the A. M. E. entertainment, to be given in the Y. M. C. A. hall on the 15th, can be procured at Bulger's and Reed's drug stores and at Orms Bros.' barber shop.

A. DINERSTEIN FELL UNDER A CAR

HAPPENED IN THE WEST END

As He Was Returning Home Last Evening From a Trip to Wellsville.

Albert Dinerstein, a painter residing on Fairview street, while alighting from an east bound street car at Division street, West End, at 9 o'clock last night, fell under the wheels and sustained injuries to his left arm which necessitated its amputation.

Mr. Dinerstein's version of the cause of the accident and that of the motorman, George Custer, conflict somewhat, but from what could be gathered from their statements and from those who witnessed the accident, Dinerstein was about to get off near his home and had handed his fare to the motorman when he lost his balance and fell under the wheels, both trucks passing over his left arm.

The patrol was summoned and Dinerstein was taken to the office of Dr. W. A. Hobbs, who, assisted by Drs. W. A. Bailey and James Taylor, amputated the member at the shoulder.

The man suffered terribly while being taken to the office of the doctor, but was resting easier today.

A Suggestion From Salem.

Salem News.

A smooth individual recently sold to a number of East Liverpool people some handsome birds of as many colors as feathers on the birds. People in the Ceramic City love decorations, but when it comes to paying fancy prices for English sparrows with dyed feathers they put up a kick. It was a bird of a trick played on the Liverpool lovers of decorative art.

The next time they will see to it that the colors are fired in a decorating kiln.

WM. ALLEN RAISED A ROW

And Was Run In By Officers Dawson and Gill Last Evening From Third Street.

MRS. SIVERS WAS VERY DRUNK

WAS RELEASED THIS MORNING

Two young men from Beaver Falls, who gave the mayor the names of Harry Jones and John Brown, were arrested last evening and the complaint entered that they had refused to pay their fare on an East Liverpool and Wellsville street car.

They had gone to Wellsville and on the return trip the request was made that they deposit the amount of their fare in the receptacle for that purpose.

They refused and upon arriving in this city they were handed over to Officer Mahony, who conducted the pair to city hall.

They were given a hearing and said they proposed standing trial, but when Mayor Davidson read them the law on the subject, which says that when they refused to put their fare in the box they had violated the law, they changed their minds and paid a fine of $5.60 each.

Mrs. Sivers was taken in by Officers Woods and Ruhe last evening and brought to jail in the patrol.

She was very drunk and had to be carried into the cell. The woman's daughter came to the mayor's office shortly after the arrest and endeavored to secure her release, but she was in no condition to walk home, and it was thought best to allow her to remain where she was until she was sober.

This morning the daughter came again, and after a long talk with the mayor, succeeded in having her mother released without a fine.

The girl said her mother had been ill for several days, and yesterday came down town and procured a quantity of blackberry wine, in the hope of being relieved, and unfortunately became drunk. She was not in the habit of drinking intoxicants and this was the first time it had ever occurred. The mayor believed her story and let the woman go.

William Allen, a Third street teamster, was acting in a disorderly manner at his home yesterday and was arrested by Officers Dawson and Gill. He had been drinking all afternoon and was in an ugly mood when arrested.

He was given a chance to sober up until today, when he will get his hearing.

Freddy Wolf was given a hearing yesterday evening, and as the mayor has no jurisdiction in state cases, he was sent to Lisbon, with Chief Thompson this morning, with the recommendation of the probate judge that he be sent to the works.

Trouble With the Garbage Company. Beaver Falls Tribune.

The people of East Liverpool are having trouble over the disposal of their garbage. The weak point seems to be that the company having the contract lacks proper facilities for the collection of the garbage.

SUBURBAN NEWS.

EAST END.

Their Trolley Party.

The East End White Caps club, who went to Wellsville on the trolley last night, report a splendid time. Misses Kittie White, Effie White, Emma Owen, Sadie Manley, Katie Stamm, Mary Duncan, Blanche Mowen and Addie White, and Messrs. Roy Manyers, Cliff Mowen, Hunter Allison, Richard Howard, Fred Sanereizen, Harry Thorne and Charles Wright made up the East End party and Miss Ethel Bratt joined them at West End.

A Camp of Gypsies.

A lot of gypsies are camping on the place leased by Wm. Price from Mr. Thompson. Mr. Price complained to Officer Hamilton on their account and he ordered them to move off the Thompson property.

They are a detachment of a crowd that camped there last year. They will leave today to join the others, who are somewhere in Pennsylvania.

People Are Kicking.

Frank Summers, who drives a rag wagon in East Liverpool and Wellsville, instead of disposing of his rubbish in a proper manner, deposits it in the road near the school house. People who live in that neighborhood made a complaint to Officer Hamilton, and he will see that their wishes in the matter are respected.

Had a Surprise.

The White Caps club had a surprise party the other night in honor of Roy Mayers. His parents were expecting the merry crowd and had everything prepared to give the young folks a good time.

They had games and delicious refreshments and the evening was all too short.

A Party.

Miss Nettie Hughes' Sabbath school class of the Second M. E. church has a party tonight at the home of George Johnson on Pennsylvania avenue.

To be Entertained.

The F. F. F. club will be entertained at Mrs. McDonald's, on First avenue tomorrow.

They Danced.

The colored people had a dance at Columbian park last night.

Personals.

Miss Pearl Shnyder went with the excursionists to Cascade Park.

Mrs. Robert Finley and Mrs. Bert Hursner are spending a few days out of town.

Winfield Snowden is ill.

Miss Fisher and Miss Crawford have returned from Fredericktown.

SOUTH SIDE.

They Have a Very Pretty Camp Ground and Most Interesting Services.

The Free Methodists have a very pretty camp ground. The tents are arranged in a semicircle about the auditorium and present a very inviting appearance. Most of the meetings are well attended and much interest is being manifested. Miss Crill, when interviewed this morning, stated that the altar is full of seekers all the time. She believes that much good will be accomplished. Fourteen ministers are in attendance and four district elders. Rev. Albert Wilson, of Pittsburg, formerly of East Liverpool, is taking part in the services. The night meetings are very largely attended. Services continue throughout the day and night, from 5:30 a. m. until 10:30 p. m. The routine is a very attractive and interesting one.

Backed Out.

The crowd who had planned to go

to Cascade Park finally backed out, which was a great disappointment to some who were anticipating a good time.

An Enjoyable Time.

The Mechanics had an enjoyable time last night at their ice cream and cake feast.

Personals.

Mrs. George Roach has returned from a visit to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John McIntosh, of Turkey Foot oil field.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Allison are spending a few days visiting friends in the country.

Miss Pearl Shnyder is entertaining some out-of-town guests.

Mr. Thrasher, of Pittsburg, is visiting old friends in Chester.

Mrs. Joe McDonald, who has been very ill, is recovering.

Mrs. Calhoun is better.

CURRY SAUCE.—Mix two tablespoonfuls of butter and one tablespoonful of flour to a smooth paste in a bowl or a double boiler and place over the fire in a pan of boiling water. Add half a pint of boiling water gradually, stirring all the time until the sauce thickens; then add half a teaspoonful of salt and one teaspoonful each of curry powder and onion juice. Take from the fire and use immediately.

CAN BUILD ROADS.

Important Decision Has Been Rendered by Attorney General Sheets.

Attorney General Sheets rendered a formal opinion this morning to the effect that acting under house bill 379, which became a law last winter, county commissioners may purchase material for road making and contract with parties for the improvement of roads.

There was a question raised as to whether the commissioners had power to purchase material or not. The attorney general says that while this act does not in itself confer such power, other statutes already existing do enable them to make such purchase.

Old Teeth Bought.

The following curious advertisement recently appeared in a London paper: "Old False Teeth Bought.—Many ladies and gentlemen have by them old or disused false teeth, which might as well be turned into money. Messrs. R. D. and J. B. — of — (established since 1833), buy old false teeth. If you send your teeth to them, they will remit you by return post the utmost value; or if preferred they will make you the best offer and hold the teeth over for your reply. If reference is necessary, apply to Messrs. —, bankers, Ipswich."

Impression Correct.

"Dinguss, didn't I lend you $10 a month or two ago?"
"Shadbolt, you did. If you had a good business head on your shoulders, you would be able to remember a loan like that with absolute certainty and wouldn't have to ask anybody about it."

Frowns and passes on.—Exchange.

Five Movings.

No less than five movings came to town today.

A number of the parties who went to Niagara Falls last Thursday are expected home today.

33 MILES DISTANT THURSDAY.

Chaffee In a Dispatch Said They Were at Ho Si Wu That Day—At Apparent Marching Rate, Ought to Be at Least Very Near.

London, Aug. 14.—The Shanghai correspondent of The Daily Express wiring Aug. 13, said:

"The allies at noon Saturday were within 20 miles of Pekin."

Washington, Aug. 14.—The American commander in chief in a dispatch of just three words, received at the war department, sent a thrill of expectation and expectancy throughout official quarters by announcing his arrival at Ho Si Wu, about 33 miles from Pekin, last Thursday. The last heard from him before this was at Yangtun, which had been captured after a hard fight, and word of his movements since then had been eagerly awaited. Thursday he was 18 miles beyond Yangtun. Lang Fang, the place where the ill-fated Seymour expedition met its fate and turned back, had been left behind.

The battle of Yangtun was fought on the 6th, and the advance to Ho Si Wu was accomplished on the 9th—a march of 18 miles in three days. This was four days ago, and at the same rate of progress Chaffee is even now fairly within striking distance of the walls of Pekin. It was a consummation which the war department had awaited calmly, and stirring as the news was that the American force was now nearing the gates of the imperial city, Secretary Root and Adjutant General Corbin evinced no surprise, as it accorded with calculations, although the advance had been more rapid than was expected.

The dispatch from Chaffee, conveying so much in a few words, is as follows: Che Foo, Aug. 13.

"Adjutant General, Washington: "Tenth arrived Hospiwu (Ho Si Wu) yesterday. Chaffee."

The news of the advance soon spread throughout official quarters. In the enthusiasm of the moment a report got about that this was the day for the actual arrival in Pekin. But the war department had not a word of the advance beyond Ho Si Wu. It was deemed hardly likely that the march to Pekin could have been made since last Tuesday. At the rate of progress, six miles a day, made from Yangtun to Ho Si Wu, about 24 miles would have been covered in the last four days, and up to Monday this would still leave the international forces nine miles from Pekin. Viewed from any standpoint, the advance to Ho Si Wu was of the utmost importance, not only strategically, but also in showing that communication was open to Che Foo, that the expected opposition from Chinese hordes had not been sufficient to prevent the steady forward movement and in to influence it would exert on the Chinese government.

As it had taken about five days for General Chaffee to report the advance to Ho Si Wu it is evident that wire communication is not open to the front. This was hardly to be expected, and the safe arrival of the message at least shows that a certain measure of communication is open.

Russian and British Guns Fired on the Fourteenth by Mistake—Brilliant British-American Charge.

London, Aug. 14.—A Tien Tsin dispatch, dated August 7, giving details regarding the capture of that place, says:

"The Russians and French held the left, the British the center, the Americans the right center and the Japanese the extreme right."

"The British and Americans advanced on the village at a rapid rate for 5,000 yards, under a severe shell and rifle fire. The Russians opened and the British-American advance became a race for position, culminating in a brilliant charge."

"The heaviest loss of the day was sustained by the Americans, the Fourteenth infantry having nine killed, 62 wounded and several missing. The Bengal Lancers unsuccessfully attempted to cut off the Chinese retreat."

Another Yangtun special says: "Owing to a mistake, British and Russian guns shelled the Fourteenth United States infantry during the night, wounding ten."

DELIVERY OF MINISTERS TO ALLIED FORCES.

China Informed We Will Negotiate With That Nation and Powers on This Condition.

Washington, Aug. 14.—The text of the reply to China's proposal to have Li Hung Chang mediate contained the following:

"MEMORANDUM. "Touching the imperial edict of August 8, appointing Li Hung Chang envoy plenipotentiary to conduct negotiations on the part of China with the powers, and the request for a cessation of hostilities pending negotiations, communicated to Mr. Adee by Mr. Wu, on the 12th of August, 1900."

"The government of the United States learns with satisfaction of the appointment of Earl Li Hung Chang as envoy plenipotentiary to conduct negotiations with a desire to continue the friendly relations so long existing between the two countries."

"It is evident that there can be no general negotiation between China and the powers so long as the ministers of the powers and the persons under their protection engage in their

"We are ready to enter into an agreement between the powers and the Chinese government for a cessation of hostile demonstrations on condition that a sufficient body of forces composing the relief expedition shall be permitted to enter Pekin unmolested and to escort the ministers back to Tien Tsin this movement being provided for and secured by such arrangements and dispositions of troops as shall be considered satisfactory by the generals commanding the forces composing the relief expedition."

"Alvey A. Adee, Acting Secretary, Department of States, Washington, August 12, 1900."

HANNA ON LYNCHING. Says It Isn't a Matter for a Party to Meddle With.

New York, Aug. 14.—Perhaps the most interesting visitor at the National Republican headquarters to-day was Lillian C. Jewett, the so-called "Joan of Arc" of the anti-lynching league of Boston. Miss Jewett talked with Senator Hanna. When the latter was asked about the matter he replied: "Poor girl. She wanted the Republican National committee to endorse the anti-lynching league. Of course we could not do it. We all deprecate lynching. I told her that all moral persons and law abiding ones are against lynching. This is not a party matter."

Aug. 6, Besieged Had 10 More Days' Supplies.

MUST BE NEAR STARVING POINT.

Sir Claude MacDonald, in a Note, Wrote the Situation Was Desperate Unless Relieved, He Also Wrote, a General Massacre Would Follow.

London, Aug. 14.—The British consul at Canton, says The Daily Telegraph's correspondent there, has received the following message, dated August 6, from Sir Claude MacDonald, British minister in Pekin:

"Our situation is desperate. In 10 days our food supply will be at an end. Unless we are relieved a general massacre is probable."

"The Chinese offer to escort us to Tien Tsin, but, remembering Cawnpore, we refuse the offer. There are over 200 European women and children in this legation."

AGUINALDO'S FEARS.

Filipino Chief Never Stays More Than One Night in a Place, It Is Reported.

Washington, Aug. 14.—Copies of Manila papers received at the war department contain a letter purporting to be from a personal friend of Aguinaldo which states that the Filipino chief does not take advantage of the amnesty proclamation because some time ago he gave orders to his followers to break up into guerrilla bands. The amnesty order excepts those who violated the laws of war and Aguinaldo fears that he would be in the excepted class.

The letter is dated at Biac-no-bato, which is said to be the present provisional headquarters of Aguinaldo. It states, however, that Aguinaldo never stays more than one night in a place and only a few hours in any one location. He allows no one to come near him except his most intimate personal friends.

A dispatch in one of the papers dated at San Pedro Macati states that General Pio del Pilar, who recently surrendered, says he wishes to become a good American citizen, and would like nothing better than to raise a regiment of Filipinos to serve in China.

Copies of orders received at the war department announce the sentence of Jacinto Ebron, a native, who was charged with "insurrection against the government of the United States of America." Ebron was sent to the penitentiary for five years. He was a member of a band of armed outlaws operating in Cagayan province, Luzon.

The orders also contain the acquittal of Colonel James S. Pettit, Thirty-first volunteer infantry, who was charged with being responsible for the death of a prisoner named Juan Ramos by turning him over to the president of Zamboanga. The findings and the acquittal are approved by General MacArthur.

Chicago, Aug. 14.—Webster Davis on his way to Wheeling, W. Va., was a caller at Democratic headquarters to-day. He speaks at Wheeling to-morrow night, Parkersburg Wednesday night, Charleston Thursday night, Sedalia, Mo., August 21 and Topeka, Kan., August 22. Mr. Davis said that within the past three weeks he had declined 623 invitations.

Ex-Governor William J. Stone, of Missouri, vice chairman of the National committee, was at headquarters to-day for the first time in several weeks and was in consultation with Chairman Jones for an hour or more. W. A. De Ford, chief of the bureau of organization, has returned from Ohio and was of the opinion that Ohio will cast its electoral vote for Bryan and Stevenson in November.

OHIO IN CONGRESS FROM 1803 TO 1901.

JOSEPH W. WHITE

Of Guernsey county served but a single term in congress, having been elected to the Thirty-eighth in 1862 from the Sixteenth district, made up of the counties of Guernsey, Belmont, Noble, Harrison and Tuscarawas. He was born in Harrison county in 1822, and died in Guernsey county in 1892. He was a lawyer by profession.

JAMES A. GARFIELD.

James Abram Garfield was the third member of congress from Ohio elected to the presidency. He was born in Orange, Cuyahoga county, Ohio, Nov. 19, 1831, and died in Elberon, N. J., Sept. 19, 1881, the result of a murderous shot fired by the assassin Guiteau, July 2, 1881. His remains lie buried in Lake View cemetery, Cleveland.

"He made his way" in life, and rose to distinction through his own efforts and indomitable will. When a boy he worked on a canal boat as a driver and spent his leisure hours in study. At the time he was in the employ of Governor Tod. In 1849 he entered the Geauga seminary at Chester, and supported himself by doing odd jobs as a carpenter's or blacksmith's helper, as opportunity offered. During vacations he did farm and other manual labor, and occasionally taught school.

He entered Hiram college in 1851, and Williams college in 1854, from which he graduated in 1856. He was ordained a minister in the Campbellite church, and after his graduation taught Greek and Latin in Hiram college, and subsequently became its president. He read law with Albert Gallatin Riddle at Cleveland and was admitted to the bar in 1858. He was elected to the senate of the Fifty-fourth general assembly from the Twenty-sixth Senatorial district, Portage and Summit counties, in 1859.

At the breaking out of the civil war he was commissioned lieutenant colonel of the Forty-second Ohio Volunteer Infantry, and had a brilliant military career, having been made a major general by successive promotions. He participated in the actions at Middle Creek, Ky., Shiloh, Corinth, Chickamauga and many other minor engagements, in all of which he distinguished himself. He resigned his military commission Dec. 3, 1863, to take his seat in congress. His health had been shattered, and his friends, without solicitation on his part, had elected him to the national house.

He was elected as a Republican, and at once became a conspicuous figure on the floor of the house, delivering a forceful speech a few weeks after entering the body. His oratory was of a high order, and his arguments were strong and often unanswerable by his opponents.

He was elected in 1862 to the Thirty-eighth congress from the Nineteenth district, Portage, Trumbull, Geauga and Ashtabula counties. He was elected to the Thirty-ninth, Fortieth, Forty-first and Forty-second from the same constituency. In 1872 the Nineteenth district was made up of Portage, Ashtabula, Trumbull, Lake and Geauga, and he was chosen to the Forty-third, Forty-fourth, Forty-fifth and Forty-sixth, always by overwhelming majorities.

During his eighteen years of continuous service in congress he served on all of the important committees of the house, and was, at different times, chairman of the committees on military affairs, banking and currency, ways and means and others. In 1876 he was chosen a member of the electoral commission which settled the disputed presidential succession between Rutherford B. Hayes and Samuel J. Tilden, and was one of the eight out of fifteen voting to seat the former.

On the 13th of January, 1880, he was elected United States senator by the legislature, but renounced the office before the beginning of the term to accept the presidential nomination, and at the November election of that year he was elected president over Major General Winfield S. Hancock.

In March, 1881, shortly after his inauguration, a bitter controversy was precipitated between his administration and Senators Platt and Conkling of New York, over the appointment of William H. Robertson as collector of the port of New York, and the two senators resigned, as a protest, and both stood for re-election and both were defeated, thus endorsing President Garfield's action. Inter-party bitterness rose to a dangerous degree, which culminated on the 2d day of July, 1881, when a probably insane partisan named Guiteau fired a pistol shot into the president in the railway station building at Washington, inflicting fatal injuries. He lingered in great agony until the 19th of September, when he died of blood poisoning.

This being the second president assassinated, the horror and indignation of the entire nation knew no bounds, and when he died, all party lines and divisions were washed out by the great flood of national grief.

RUTHERFORD B. HAYES.

Rutherford Birchard Hayes was the second member of congress from Ohio to be elected to the presidential office. He was born in Delaware, Ohio, Oct. 4, 1822. His father, Rutherford Hayes, migrated from Vermont to Ohio in 1817, and engaged in merchandising in Delaware, but died in 1822.

The younger Hayes removed with his mother to Fremont, or Lower Sandusky, in 1827, where he helped to support himself, and secured the rudiments of an education, and later attended the Norwalk academy. He entered Kenyon college and was graduated in 1840. He immediately fitted himself for entrance into the law school at Harvard, from which he graduated in 1845. He was a Republican in politics, and became a leader of his party in the state.

He was admitted to the bar at Marietta in 1845, and began the practice at Fremont in 1846 as the partner of General Ralph P. Buckland. In 1849 he removed to Cincinnati, where he quickly rose to eminence in the legal profession. He was city solicitor of Cincinnati from 1858 to 1861.

At the outbreak of the civil war a military company was formed from the membership of the Literary club of the Queen City and Hayes was chosen captain. His company was assigned to the Twenty-third regiment, Ohio Volunteer infantry, and he was commissioned major.

He did gallant service in Virginia and West Virginia, and his regiment participated in nearly all the important actions in the Shenandoah valley under General Sheridan, including the battles of South Mountain, Winchester, Cloyd's Mountain, Fisher's Hill and Cedar Creek. In the meantime he was promoted to the command of the regiment. General Adam Badeau, of General Grant's staff, in his Military History of Grant says of Colonel Hayes:

"For gallant and meritorious service in the battles of Winchester, Fisher's Hill and Cedar Creek, Colonel Hayes was promoted to the rank of brigadier general of volunteers, and brevetted major general for gallant and distinguished service during the campaign of 1864, in West Virginia, and particularly in the battles of Fisher's Hill and Cedar Creek."

He commanded his brigade for more than two years. In 1864 he was elected to the Thirty-ninth congress from the Second district, a part of Hamilton county, and in 1866 was re-elected from the same district to the Fortieth. While in congress he served on a number of the leading committees of the house, and his counsel was eagerly sought after by his party leaders on all perplexing questions.

He was nominated for congress in 1872, against his protests, and was defeated by his Democratic opponent, Henry B. Banning, in the Second district. In 1873, after his defeat, he removed from Cincinnati to Fremont, where he had inherited considerable property, and there he continued to reside during the remainder of his life.

In 1867 he was the Republican candidate for governor of Ohio, and was elected over Allen G. Thurman, Democrat, by a vote of 243,605 to 240,622. In 1869 he was again the Republican candidate for governor, and was elected over George H. Pendleton, Democrat, by a vote of 236,082 to 228,576. In 1875 he was the Republican candidate for governor, and defeated William Allen, Democrat, by a vote of 297,817 to 292,273.

It is a coincidence that General Hayes was the only man elected three times to the office of governor during the century, and on each occasion he was elected over a man who was a United States senator, Allen previous to, and Thurman and Pendleton subsequent to the gubernatorial election. When Thurman was defeated in 1867, a Democratic legislature was chosen, which elected him to the senate.

In 1876 General Hayes was the Republican candidate for president, and carried Ohio over Samuel J. Tilden of New York by a vote of 330,698 to 323,182. He was nominated on the seventh ballot in the national Republican convention which met in Cincinnati, Ohio, June 14, 1876.

In accepting this nomination Mr. Hayes pledged himself, from patriotic motives, to the one-term principle, and in these words:

"Believing that the restoration of the civil service to the system established by Washington and followed by the early presidents can be best accomplished by an executive who is under no temptation to use the patronage of his office to promote his own re-election, I desire to perform what I regard as a duty in now stating my inflexible purpose, if elected, not to be a candidate for election to a second term.

A bitter and threatening controversy arose over the election, which required the wisest and most conciliatory statesmanship to adjust, so as to avert civil commotion. In a letter to Senator John Sherman, Nov. 27, 1876, Governor Hayes said: "You feel, I am sure, as I do about this whole business. A fair election would have given us about 40 electoral votes—at least that many. But we are not to allow our friends to defeat one outrage and fraud by another. There must be nothing crooked on our part. Let Mr. Tilden have the place by violence, intimidation and fraud, rather than undertake to prevent it by means that will not bear the severest scrutiny."

The canvassing board of Louisiana, Florida and South Carolina declared Republican electors chosen, and certificates of these results were sent by the governors of those states to Washington. Governor Hayes had a majority of one in the electoral college. But the Democrats charged fraud, and certificates declaring the Democratic electors elected were sent to Washington. The house (Democratic) and the senate (Republican) then concurred in an act providing for a commission composed of five representatives, five senators and five judges of the supreme court, to have final jurisdiction. The commission refused to go behind the certificates of the governors, and by a vote of eight to seven declared in favor of the Republican electors, and President Hayes was inaugurated March 5, 1877.

The administration of President Hayes, although unsatisfactory to machine politicians, was a wise and conservative one, meeting with the approval of the people at large. By the withdrawal of Federal troops and restoration of self-government to the southern states, it prepared the way for a revival of patriotism and the remarkable material development that ensued.

After leaving the presidency Mr. Hayes lived in quiet retirement at Fremont. He was identified with the management of numerous educational institutions and the public benefactions of the state. He died at Fremont.

President Hayes resigned from the Fortieth congress in 1867 to become governor, and was succeeded by General Samuel F. Carey; and resigned the governorship in 1877 to become president, and was succeeded by Thomas L. Young, the lieutenant governor.

TO BE CONTINUED.

THE CRIMINAL CUCKOO.

He is the One Exception to the Kindly Nature of Birds.

Bad temper and cruelty are perhaps the most obvious signs of mental degeneration in the beasts. The larger monkeys, for instance, become as bad tempered as a violent man when they grow old, and many in their treatment of other animals are cruel as we use the word in regard to man. Among the carnivorous beasts the cat amuses itself by torturing a mouse, and the weasel tribe kill for sheer love of killing. No such cruelty is seen among eagles or falcons. Fierce as their tempers are, they do not torment other birds which they catch or kill for killing's sake. Good temper is general among birds.

Except the cuckoo, such a thing as an ill tempered wild bird is unknown. Nowhere in the race can a temper like that of the Tasmanian devil or the wild hunting dog or the Cape buffalo or the baboon be found. Even those which in spring are thieves and egg robbers are not mauvais coucheurs at other times. Good temper and good fellowship in society, a personal affection to each other to which the beasts offer no parallel, industry and independence, intense devotion and foresight in tending their young, with other very human and engaging traits of character, must all be credited to the race of birds.

Among these kindly and simple natures the cuckoo is a monster. Let there be no mistake on this subject. He unites in his life and character, from the egg to the adult bird, practices and principles to which the whole race of warm blooded animals offers no parallel. He is an outrage on the moral law of bird life, something so flagrant and so utterly foreign to the way of thought of these kindly beings that if he did not exist he would be inconceivable. It is not merely that he is a supplanter and a changeling. His whole nature is so evil that in the world of birds he is an incarnation of the principle of ill, an embodiment of vices which would if understood or adopted by other birds put an end to the existence of the race.—London Spectator.

Oriental Punishments.

The heathen Chinese deems the desecration of graves one of the most unpardonable of crimes, and, according to law, any man finding another in the act of robbing a graveyard may legally kill the villain on the spot without fear of consequences.

If a Turkish baker palms off a loaf of bread on you that is proved to be of less weight than it is represented, you can instruct a policeman to nail the defaulter by one of his ears to the door of his shop so as to be in full view of the passersby. The poor wretch will then be provided with a sharp dagger or knife, with which he can cut himself free so soon as he can summon up the necessary courage required for the operation of self maiming.

In many of the oriental countries, where precious stones are looked upon as well nigh sacred objects, it is no uncommon thing for a jewel robber to be punished with death. In Tibet the penalty for falling from your horse when taking part in any military operations or public athletics is death.

One writer recalls how he saw a man shot in Montenegro for appearing at a review wearing a stained uniform.

Sacrificed the Mustache.

Thomas B. Reed at one time wore a mustache of a few straggling hairs, so often seen on the upper lip of extremely fleshy men. How Mr. Reed parted with his hirsute apology can best be told by a certain barber in the house of representatives who attended the gentleman's wants:

"One day the big man from Maine settled himself in the barber's chair and requested a shave. When the operation was completed, Mr. Reed straightened himself and asked, 'Have you any of that old fashioned pomade to wax mustaches with?'"

"The barber hustled among his pots and jars and produced a French preparation in vogue a quarter of a century ago and then proceeded to wax the ends of the Maine statesman's few wirelike hairs.

"When the man of snapshot sentences arose and contemplated himself in the glass, he turned to the astonished barber and said, 'Cut this blanked blank mustache off, for you have made me look like a confounded catfish.'"—New England Home Magazine.

A Unique River.

Unique in its kind is no doubt the Mocona waterfall in the South American republic of Uruguay, situated about two miles below the mouth of the Pileri Assu river into the Uruguay. A great rock divides the river into two separate streams in such a manner that the right arm continues its flow on the original level, while the second arm falls gradually, so that it finally lies 22 feet below the level of the other arm. The bed of the upper part of the river is not very deep, and the water flows partly in a right angle to the river, thus forming a waterfall of more than two miles in length.

This unique view presents itself to the traveler, however, only during the winter, for in the summer, and especially during the rainy season, the Uruguay contains such immense quantities of water that both arms form one single stream, navigable even for the largest freight steamers. The fall has been known for centuries, and a description of it was published as early as 1691 by the Rev. Antonius Sepp, a missionary from Tyrol, who spent over 20 years among the Indians of Uruguay.

Man Compared.

If man grew as fast in proportion as a silkworm, he would be bigger than an elephant in two months. If he could navigate as fast in proportion as the average house fly, he could cross the Atlantic and back in the time it takes him to eat his breakfast. If he had as many eyes in proportion as the butterfly, he would have 40,000, to say nothing of an extra pair in his head for skylights. If he could spring as far in proportion as the spider, he could jump over the tallest tree in California, and it wouldn't bother him in the least. Man isn't the whole thing after all.—Freeport Journal.

DEATH IN THE VIAL.

THE FIFTH TABLET CARRIED A DOSE THAT WAS FATAL.

Why the Doctor Had a Premonition That Misfortune Had Overtaken a Wealthy Planter—How the Story of the Crime Leaked Out.

The story was told by a police commissioner of another city who was in New Orleans recently on a visit.

"The most ingenious murder I ever knew anything about," he said, "was committed by a young physician. He was a rising practitioner at a place where I formerly lived, and, with your permission, I will speak of him simply as Dr. Smith.

"About a dozen years ago, as nearly as I remember, this young man went on a visit to a relative in a neighboring city, and one afternoon, on the third or fourth day of his stay, he startled a lady member of the household by remarking that he 'had a feeling' that some misfortune had overtaken a wealthy planter whom they both knew very well, and whom I will call Colonel Jones. The colonel was a prominent resident of the doctor's home town and had a large outlying estate, which he was in the habit of visiting once a week.

"Of course the affair created a great stir, and the police made a pretty thorough investigation, but the only thing they found that merited any special attention was a small, round vial in the dead man's vest pocket. It was about the diameter of a lead pencil by four inches long, and had originally contained a couple of dozen medicinal tablets, which, lying one on top of the other, filled the little bottle to the cork. A few still remained in the bottom.

"Upon inquiry it was learned without trouble that the tablets were a harmless preparation of soda, and that Jones himself had bought them at a local drug store. That ended suspicion in that quarter, and, for lack of anything better, the coroner returned a verdict of death from sunstroke. There was no autopsy.

"Some time after Jones had been buried," continued the police commissioner, "I learned accidentally of Dr. Smith's curious prophecy, and it set me to thinking. Eventually I evolved a theory, but it was impossible at the time to sustain it with proof, and for five or six years I kept it pigeonholed in my brain, waiting for something to happen. Meanwhile, to everybody's surprise, Dr. Smith went to the dogs. He began by drinking heavily, gradually lost his practice, and finally skipped out to avoid prosecution for cashing a fake draft. After his flight I learned enough to absolutely confirm my theory as to Jones' death. What had really happened was this:

"Dr. Smith owed the old man a considerable sum of money and had given a note, upon which he had forged his father's name as indorser. The planter was pressing him for payment and had threatened suit, which meant inevitable exposure. One day, while they were conversing, Jones pulled out a little glass vial and swallowed one of the tablets it contained, remarking that he took one daily, after dinner, for sour stomach.

"That suggested a diabolical scheme of assassination, which the doctor proceeded to put into execution. Repairing to his office, he made up a duplicate tablet of strychnine, and, encountering the colonel next day, asked him to let him have the vial for a moment, so he could copy the address of the makers from the label.

"Jones handed it over unsuspectingly, and while his attention was briefly diverted elsewhere Smith put in the prepared tablet. He placed it under the top four, thus making it reasonably certain that his victim would take it on the fifth day from that date. Next morning he left town, so as to be far away when the tragedy was consummated, and some mysterious, uncontrollable impulse evidently led him to make the prediction that first excited my suspicion.

"When I made certain of all this, I located Smith in Oklahoma and was on the point of applying for an extradition warrant when he anticipated me

by contracting pneumonia and dying. I thereupon returned the case to its mental pigeonhole, where it has remained ever since."

"It is absolutely true," replied the narrator.

"Well," said the police commissioner, smiling, "Smith was like most clever criminals—he had one weak spot. He was fool enough to tell a woman. She blabbed."—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

Little Prominence Given to International Monetary Situation—Fitful Spurts of Activity in Stocks.

New York, Aug. 14. — The international monetary situation was given inconsiderable prominence in Wall street Monday through the engagement of $5,500,000 gold for export to Europe today and tomorrow. It is admitted that $5,000,000 of this amount is in payment for the British exchequer loan, a 20 per cent installment being due tomorrow. Concessions in rates for sterling bills were made, demand sterling yielding 1-4 per cent, while posted rates were off 1-2 per cent. No effect was produced on the local money market by the gold engagements Monday, which bring the total outgo of gold on this movement up to $14,000,000. It is expected that the circulation of this sum in the European financial centers will produce a relaxation of the tension there. Except for a brief interval when the early gold engagements were made, stock prices improve steadily, with the gains quite uniform in a number of issues. There were fitful spurts of activity, and at intervals the strength was most marked in special groups. High-priced specialties gave the first indication of strength, but were soon relegated to the background when the metal stocks forged upward. Later on the grangers responded notably to the more cheerful crop advices, rain being reported in sections of the corn belt, where it was much needed. A large batch of favorable weekly earnings contributed some force to the rise in prices. In special stocks exceptional gains were made, a jump of 7 points in Lead preferred being made with as little explanation as the recent drop in that issue. In Lackawanna there was a steady demand, which eventually carried it up 5 points and strengthened other coals. Industrial stocks suffered from the increased interest shown in railroad properties. Sugar closed under Saturday's final price after early strength. In the final dealings there was some diminution in the volume of business, but no impairment of the market's strength.

Business in railroad bonds continued small but a firm tone was evident. Total sales, par value, $480,000. U. S. ref. 2s, when issued and new 4s advanced 1-2, the 5s 8-3 and 3s 1-4 per cent in the bid price.

Chicago Grain and Provisions.

Chicago, Aug. 14. — Damages from heavy rains in the northwest, combined with a moderate cash business, caused a recovery from early weakness in wheat today. September closing a shade under Saturday. September corn closed 5-8c down because of rains, September oats 1-8c depressed and the provisions market a shade to 3c lower.

Professor Keeler Dead.

San Francisco, Aug. 14. — Professor James Edward Keeler, chief astronomer of the Lick observatory, who died yesterday afternoon, had been suffering for some time from heart trouble, to which pneumonia was added in the past few days. Prof. Keeler left Highland Springs, where he had been recuperating, last week. Intent upon securing medical aid in this city. On his way here he suffered a stroke of apoplexy, from which he did not rally. He was taken to the hospital in a precarious condition at noon yesterday.

Missionary McBurney Safe.

Cannonsburg, Pa., Aug. 14. — James H. McBurney, of this place, has received word from his brother, Rev. Elmer McBurney, a missionary to China, stating that he and the other missionaries of the reformed Presbyterian church had left China and arrived safely in Japan. These missionaries were located in the South of China at Tak Hing Chau, on the West river, about 100 miles from Canton. At the time the missionaries left their post there had been no outbreaks in that part of the empire.

Candidate Woolley Injured.

Chicago, Aug. 14. — John G. Woolley, candidate for President on the Prohibition ticket, is suffering from a painful injury to one of his shoulders, the result of falling down stairs at his home today. Mr. Woolley was starting down the steps from the third floor when his foot fell headlong.

He Lifted the Ticker.

A London detective visiting Glasgow met a Scotch police official on the street and in the talk that followed spoke contemptuously of the ability of Scotch thieves as compared with the English experts.

Taking this as an aspersion cast on the astuteness of the Scottish police as well, the Glasgow detective was nettled and thirsted for revenge. Looking around, he espied a little fellow who had been dogging them and who was known as an expert pickpocket. Crossing the street he addressed the boy, and, pointing to the retreating figure of the English detective, he asked if he would know him again.

"Aye," replied the boy. "What about it?"

"Ah, it's a' right. See any green?" "Honor bright, Tommy! I'll give you half a crown when you deliver up the watch to me."

"Ye will? An what else?"

"Nothing else."

"Let's see, then. I'm to lift the ticker, an you're to pay half a crown for't on the spot?"

"Yes, that's it."
